

LEGISLATURE IS NEARING A CLOSE

NO IMPORTANT PLATFORM MEASURES HAVE YET PASSED.

ONE PLANK TURNED DOWN

County Option and Woman's Suffrage do not meet with favorable consideration at the hands of the Democrats.

Lincoln, Neb.,—March 15th (Special to the Republican) When the Senate and House adjourned for the week on Friday of last week, the House had completed the fifty-second day of the session and the Senate the forty-fifth. This gives the House eight more legislative days and the Senate eleven more for which they can receive pay. In consequence, talk of adjournment is already rife, though the members are well aware that to accomplish anything they will have to remain a number of days beyond the time for which the law gives them pay. Except for more or less trivial matters, affecting the home affairs of members, who have introduced bills relating to such incidents and vigorously pushed them to passage, almost no legislation of a general character has been accomplished. The general appropriation bills are not yet out of the House, while the bank guarantee bill, to which the good Democrat plus his faith, has passed the House and is on its way to passage in the Senate, though not yet an accomplished fact in that body. There are predictions of serious senatorial amendments to be offered to this bill, many of the Democratic senators not taking kindly to the radical measure which has passed the lower house and an attempt to seriously amend the bill in the Senate may complicate this "Democratic campaign pledge" to such an extent as to make the passage of this measure delayed until close to the end of the session.

The Democratic majority is fully aware of the fact that an unfavorable record has been made so far as an apparent neglect of the measures which the people expect at their hands, and with the close approach of the end of the session, the Democratic leaders behold with consternation the record made by their party representatives in the legislature. So much time and effort has been spent in planning to load the statutes down with a new and long list of public officers with salaries attached, to be appointed by the governor, that the legislation of a character really demanded by the people has been neglected to an astonishing degree. As a final effort to save from the wreck of the party reputation such remnants as they may, both Senate and House have authorized sifting committees to take charge of the general file about the middle of this month, with a view to sifting out and forcing to passage such measures as the committees may think are needed to protect the Democratic party reputation. So much diversity of opinion is known to exist among the majority members of both houses that it is extremely doubtful if this plan will result in any unusual progress, and the end of the session may easily witness a situation in which the rank and file of the Democratic party throughout the state will be more severe critic of the 31st session of the legislature controlled by a Democratic majority in both houses, than are the citizens who have no political interest in their party affairs. The lack of cohesion of the Democratic majority in both houses is apparent in every day's session. Apparently actuated by no common purpose, honey-combed with members who interests are not in common with the claimed slogan of the Democratic party, "the rule of the people," but rather allied with corporate and special interest, they are at loggerheads frequently with themselves, the

Alcohol not needed

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a strong drink. As now made, there is not a drop of alcohol in it. It is a non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. Ask your own doctor about your taking this medicine for thin, impure blood. Follow his advice every time. He knows.

We publish our formulae. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Ayer's

Ask your doctor, "What is the first great rule of health?" Nine doctors out of ten will quickly reply, "Keep the bowels regular." Then ask him another question, "What do you think of Ayer's Pills for constipation?"

pretensions of their party platform, and their leaders in the state, and it is not an unfounded prediction that the present session of the legislature will go down into the history of the state as the most ineffective and careless body of lawmakers assembled at the state capital in a generation.

During the past week Senator Ransom (Democrat) of Omaha led the fight which resulted in the defeat of an issue much loved by the peerless leader William J. Bryan, and announced by him as a cardinal principle of democracy in his recent address to a joint session of the legislature as among the laws that should be enacted by the Democratic majority at this session. This was the bill by Donohoe, providing for the "initative and referendum" and the fact that this democratic plank is today in the legislative scrap heap may be credited to the Omaha senator, who led a fierce oratorical charge against the bill.

Woman's Suffrage, after winning an apparent victory in the House during the past week, was killed in the senate by the indefinite postponement of the bill which had passed the House bill was H. R. 120 by Howard of Douglas, which proposed a constitutional amendment giving to women all the voting rights now enjoyed by men. The bill passed the House by a narrow margin but could not escape from the Senate committee to which it was referred on reaching the Senate. The Senate committee reported the bill for indefinite postponements, which was agreed to, and the issue of Woman's Suffrage has met its defeat for this session.
