There seems to be considerable agitation in Mason City for the organization of a stock company to purchase the Central Telephone Company's system in Mason. Some of the people favor the organization of a mutual company for the purpose of putting the system on a good basis and others are interested in making it a stock company composed of a few men.

Mrs. Julia Riser was up for a hearing before the insanity board Saturday morning and was found to be insane and taken to the Eagleside asylum at Hastings by Sheriff Kennedy. Mrs. Riser has been living at the county poor farm since she separated from her husband after their trouble at Round Valley and she got mad at Superintendent Radcliffe Friday and drew a butcher knife and threatened to use it on him. He brought her to the city in an auto and insisted that the county board must not send her back to the poor farm.

Royal Highlanders District Convention.

The district convention of the Royal Highlanders was held in this city Tuesday to elect a delegate to the Executive Castle, to be held at Denver. The election resulted in the selection of Geo. C. Stevenson, of this city. Supreme President, W. F. Sharp, was present and favored the delegates with a talk on the work of the society.

A special meeting was held in the morning by Burwick Castle, it being the close of a contest that had been on during the past six weeks between opposite sides for new members. The captains of the contending sides were Miss Emma Scott and Ray Kuns. As a result of the contest a large class of refugees crossed the draw-bridge, the drill team assisting in putting on the work. The secret work was given by Supreme President Sharp. In closing the contest both contending sides presented a program which consisted of solos and story telling. Miss Scott was awarded the prize in the contest. She had 170 more points to her credit than her opponent.

One of the interesting features of the evening was an address by President Sharp on the history of the society from its inception and its grand future prospects.

The program concluded with a fine drill put on by the team, which was followed with ice cream and cake, served in the banquet room.
