When Like Cures Like. "If you want to be forever cured of smoking cigarettes," said the woman who is, "have a cigarette fiend visit you for a couple of weeks. I inherited one recently. Now she is gone. I breathe again. She was like a little chimney, smoking, smoking, day and night. I would wake at the sound of the scratching of a match, then smell the smoke. I shudder at the smell of the smoke. I used to come in out of the fresh air and find the flat filled with smoke and the smell of it. I would throw up every window. I felt like throwing her out of one of them, sitting there with the fiendish cigarette between her teeth, smoking, smoking, smoking. Not any more cigarettes for me, I can tell you. I am cured."—New York Press.

Curious Cyclone in Japan. In a bulletin printed in Japan Prof. Omori reports a regular phenomenon which attended the passage of a cyclone near Tokio. There was a tilting of the earth's surface in one direction as the storm approached and in the other direction after it had gone. Both movements, registered at the professor's seismological observatory, indicated a sinking of the earth where the atmospheric pressure was lowest. The expert accounts for it by supposing that suction at the storm center raised the level of the adjacent sea, and thus imposed an abnormal burden on the bottom of the ocean.

Parents Held Responsible. New York has adopted very stringent rules for the preservation of the health of school children. One of the latest developments being the rule that parents who do not keep their children in good health shall be prosecuted. This seems a little autocratic at first glance, but those who have studied the subject will readily understand that it is only common justice, as many parents are utterly indifferent as to the health of their children, exposing them unnecessarily, clothing them inadequately and not providing good food for them, even when their means allow.

These Married Men. "That excellent actress, Clara Bloodgood, sat beside me one night at a dinner," said a Philadelphia playwright, "and with the fish some one began to talk about wifely extravagance. "Mrs. Bloodgood listened to this after tale of the ruinous extravagance of wives and finally she said: "Wives' extravagance—oh, yes! You men are all alike. You are all like the broker who, at midnight in his club, hiccupped, wiped his eyes and said brokenly: "This is the sixth bottle of champagne I've drunk to-day, all through my wife making me lose my temper. It is terrible what a lot of money that woman costs me."

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

When the bowels are constipated, poisonous substances are absorbed into the blood instead of being daily removed from the body as nature intended. Knowing this danger, doctors always inquire about the condition of the bowels. Ayer's Pills. Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

CARD OF THANKS.

Having received the nomination for the office of County treasurer I hereby desire to thank my Custer County friends who have, thus far in the campaign, given me their encouragement and support, and will say that if elected in November, will endeavor to conduct the affairs of the office in such a manner that you will find your confidence has not been misplaced.

W. B. Poor.

I desire to thank the voters and friends whose assistance secured my nomination, for the office of County Superintendent. Your co-operation in the coming campaign will be appreciated by me and if elected I promise a fair and vigorous administration. GARLAND E. LEWIS. Anselmo, Nebr.

PROMISES OF ELECTRICAL ERA.

Advancement That Will Open Nature's Heart to Man.

Fire made man master of the molecule; electricity makes him master of the atom and opens nature's heart. Fire melted sand to glass and prepared the path for a telescope for Galileo, a camera for Daguerre, a microscope for Pasteur, engines for Watt, Stephenson, Parsons and De Laval; all the streams of lead and iron, copper and zinc ever smelted from their ores, all the acids, oils and alcohols. But all these electricity can do, do it better than flame, and greater works than these, tasks beyond the power of fire. The electrical era is only dawning. There are motors and dynamos, heaters and lamps, chemical dividers and batteries. The larger the field of electricity the cheaper it will become and the bigger will be the demand. When there are not only telephones in every house, but sewing machine motors, fans, smoothing irons, chafing dishes and the like, electricity will begin to mean as much for man to-day as, long ago, did the first kindling of fire with slowly won arts of furnace and lamp, oven and smelter, crucible and still. Thus saith a prophet of electricity.

Superstitions of Great Minds.

Many celebrities have been superstitious to an extreme degree. Caesar never mounted his chariot without first uttering a magic formula as a preventive against disaster. Lord Bacon and Sir Thomas Browne, believed in witchcraft. Richelleu consulted an astrologer, Bismarck was superstitious about Friday and about sitting thirteen at a table. Actors are proverbially superstitious. Rachel and Mars believed their success assured if they met a funeral just before appearing on the stage.

Garden of the Gods.

The Garden of the Gods is a tract of land about 500 acres in extent, near Colorado Springs, Col. It abounds in weird and fantastic pinnacles and towers of red and white sandstone, some of them more than 500 feet in height. Among the chief features of interest are the Cathedral Spires, the Balanced Rock, etc. The gateway of the garden consists of two enormous masses of red sandstone, 330 feet high, sufficiently far apart for the roadway to pass between them.

SENATOR R. M. LA FOLLETTE

One of the most prominent statesmen in the country today, a man with a world-wide reputation as standing for reform in Government, and a man whose hold on the affections of the great masses of the country is little short of marvelous, is now publishing a magazine in Madison, Wisconsin, which is known as LaFollette's Magazine.

The regular price of LaFollette's Magazine is $1.00. We give you the Republican and LaFollette's Magazine for $1.50 to old and new subscribers.
