Judge Dean The Fusion Candidate

Judge Dean fusion candidate for Supreme Court is receiving complimentary notices over the state for the able record he has made on the bench. He is the democratic member of the court that was appointed by Governor Sheldon from Broken Bow a year ago and the citizens of Custer county regardless of political bias take pride in the fact that he has been able to make good. His own church people regardless of politics are warmly supporting him as was evidenced at the Presbyterian Synod held at Minden last week. It is reported that when he entered the church from Broken Bow he was given an enthusiastic ovation by the assembly that lasted five minutes. The Republican takes no stock in the non-partisan Judiciary, being advocating in some quarters as men will carry their personal views on the bench as well as elsewhere and the greatest care should be exercised in selecting Judges safe on all questions. Yet it always has been the case where a candidate for any high office stands well in his own community his friends more or less compliment him with their support regardless of party affiliations and doubtless the vote for Judge Dean in Custer County will be no exception, notwithstanding the fact that such a custom is more or less demoralizing politically.

In speaking of Judge Dean's candidacy

Henry C. Richmond of Lincoln says "In discussing the Supreme Judgeship that President Taft's recent reference to the danger of sectionalism applies most strikingly to one phase of the present campaign in which Judge J. R. Dean of Broken Bow is the only western candidate.

In the entire history of Nebraska only one supreme judge ever came from west of the 99th meridian. At present the court is divided into congressional districts, with three members from the first district having a total vote of 37,000, one from the second with 36,000, one from the third with 52,000, one from the fourth with 45,000, none from the fifth with 42,000, one from the sixth with 51,000.

Only by the election of Judge Dean will the western part of the state have a representation on the supreme bench. Politics aside, he is the only western candidate on any ticket. No surprise at the demand that more than 90,000 in the fifth and sixth districts should have representation in the supreme court.

Judge Dean's candidacy is surprisingly popular. He is a magnificent lawyer, temperamentally a judge and personally one of the most upright, honorable and fair minded men Nebraska has ever called into public service. His re-election means dignity, strength and confidence for Nebraska's court of last resort."

W. B. POOR

Is so thoroughly schooled in the running of this office that if he can secure his election the citizens of Custer county may well consider themselves fortunate in procuring so competent an official to fill so trustworthy a place as treasurer. Remember him when you cast your ballot.—Mason City Star.

We notice in the Ansley Argosy that our friend Jamer M. Amsberry has announced himself a candidate for county clerk of the new county of Sheldon. Now this is rather a mythical proposition, that our esteemed friend Jim believes in the old adage that "the early bird catches the worm." But in this case there "ain't going to be no worm."—Mason City Transcript.

The best and highest endorsement of the republicans on the state ticket is the lives and record of the men who are candidates on that ticket.

The records of Judges Barnes, Fawcett and Sedgwick, candidates for supreme judges, are before the people as an open book and without fear or blemish as citizen or jurist they command the approval and support of their fellow citizen.

Services on the supreme bench has in each case proven the exceptional greatness of the individual to the high duty for which he stands as a candidate of the republican party.

Messrs. Allen, Whitmore and Haller, republican candidates for regents of the university, occupy a similar honorable position in the public estimation.

Men of proven high character and exceptional qualifications for the direction of the state's great school. Their records are open to all men and are in themselves the highest tribute to the worth and fitness of these citizens to well discharge the duties devolving on the governing board of the university.

It Don't Bother Him Much.

B. L. Nicholas, the well-known Elk Creek township farmer, called at the Transcript office last Saturday, and while here incidentally remarked that the talk about the great inconvenience of living a long distance from the county seat and the extra expense caused by such a condition when you had to go to the county seat, was not worrying him much and he was in no way particularly inconvenienced by it.

Mr. Nicholas is a large land owner and stockman and a man of large business affairs. He represented this district on the county board at different times. Mr. Nicholas has found it necessary to go to Broken Bow once in 5 or 6 years and was then called as a juror. A better argument than long distance will have to be advanced before Mr. Nicholas is caught on the division hook.—Mason City Transcript.

A Division "Whooper"

Our division friends are getting desperate, and in their efforts to bolster up their waning fight to divide the county and disrupt business affairs, they are getting down to pure unadulterated lying.

For instance this clipping from the Mason City items in the Ansley Argosy:

"P. M. Marley, the largest taxpayer in Algernon township, is for county division."

The only truth in the above statement is that Mr. Marley is the "largest taxpayer in Algernon township". He is also one of the largest land owners in Custer county, having thousands of acres scattered all over the county.

Mr. Marley brands the statement that he is in favor of county division as a lie, pure and simple.

If Mr. Marley were actuated by sinister motives and personal financial gain, he would doubtless be in favor of division. But that good business judgement that has placed Mr. Marley among the leading, conservative business men of Nebraska, has not deserted him at this time, and of course he is opposed to division.

It is safe to add in conclusion that as our division friends have misrepresented in this particular, they have misrepresented and distorted facts in many other statements.—Mason City Transcript.

In casting your vote for county treasurer do not forget that the republican candidate is a poor man and needs the office while upon the other hand Clarence Mackey, the democratic candidate of Ansley is a banker, who has grown rich in Custer county in his business who does not need the salary.

The voters of Custer county have a chance in voting for county treasurer to show whether they will do honor to a worthy capable man of experience who needs the office or whether they prefer a rich banker without experience and who has no need for the salary of the office.

For County Treasurer.

Replying to the unwarranted attack of Brother Beal on the business ability of W. B. Poor we must say, that while it is true that Mr. Poor has held second place in the Treasures office for a number of years, it is a well known fact that he has practically had charge of the affairs of the office much of the time. And it is also a matter of record, that at all time while Mr. Poor has been in the office as Deputy the business has been run on an economical basis and highly satisfactory to the county. The voters of Custer county are too well acquainted with the qualifications of Mr. Poor to be influenced by the slush of the Beacon when casting their ballots for county Treasurer.

D. M. Amsberry, who for the past two years has been out of the newspaper business, again assumed editorial charge of the Custer County Republican last week. Mr. Amsberry is one of the old editorial wheel-horses of Custer county, and his many friends will be glad to know that he is again in the harness.—Loup Valley Queen.

The Mondell Homestead Lands.

We are receiving thousands of inquiries about the 320 acre free homestead lands available for settlers under the Mondell Act. These lands are located in Eastern Colorado and in Wyoming along the Burlington. The great advantage of this new homestead law is that the sttler is permitted to take up free, 320 acres instead of 160 acres, the larger tract being required under the new dry farming methods; Northeastern Wyoming has from 16 to 21 inches of moisture, and has produced some of the finest crops of small grains ever seen in the west.

I personally conduct excursions on the first and third Tuesday of each month to these lands. Write me for special descriptive folders, literature, etc.

Irrigated Lands in the Big Horn Basin. These government irrigated lands are being fast taken up by settlers who realize the coming value of the Big Horn Basin lands in view of the railroad development in Central Wyoming.

The U. S. Land and Irrigation Exposition at Chicago, Nov. 20 to Dec. 4th, will be of vital interest to the farmer.
