What's the Answer?

Yesterday as Harry Iszard was hurrying towards the depot with a special for his paper he was stopped by a friend with the inquiry, "what's the matter?" The genial reporter called the attention of his friend to a little dog running up the street, and asked "why does that little dog run?" The friend gave it up and was informed that the little dog was in a hurry. So saying Harry hurried along.

Pull; Don't Jerk.

"If there is one business on earth that a quitter should leave alone it is advertising," says John Wanamaker. "To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. Advertising doesn't jerk, it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It is likened to a team of horses pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic jerks will not budge the load, while half the power exerted in steady effort will start and keep moving."

John Iszard the popular proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, who has been confined to his bed most of the past week with a severe cold is slowly improving.
