WE ARE NOT so bad off here. The thermometer registered 22 degrees below zero at Alliance Monday morning. Looks like they were trying to beat Medicine Hat up there.

BROKEN BOW has much to be thankful for the past year, and with a united movement on the part of her citizens she will have more on New Year's day 1911. Get in the game. Boost, don't knock.

NEBRASKA farm products have increased in price more than 150 percent in the past year. And the farmers are spending just about that much money, so all the people benefit along with the farmer.

Now that Christmas is gone and the holidays are spent together with the bulk of the loose cash, it behooves the man of small means to begin saving up for St. Patrick's Day, or some other festive occasion.

THE muchly boasted fast mails appear to have slipped a cog. The writer received a letter Tuesday was postmarked at Lincoln December 23d and bore the receiving mark at this office January 4th. "Goin' some."

It is reported that the president has decided to line up with the insurgents. The "stand-patter" are resolved on side-tracking some of his recommendations which the insurgents favor, hence the president will abide in the house of his friends.

SAC. WILSON says the farmers are not making any money on beef. The packers are also lamenting the small profit they get out of the business, which leads us to the conclusion that the consumers must be mistaken when they are paying more for beef than they did in the good old democratic times when a man could have bought a whole beef for ten dollars,—if he could have rustled the ten.

THE Retail Liquor Dealers Association has provided death benefits for their members. If they will go a little further and provide grub benefits for the wives and children of a large number of their customers somebody might get a little benefit out of the booze business aside from the men who sell it. But will they? We wot not, Mary Anne.

CONGRESS will get down to business this week, say the press dispatches. President's suggestion for treatment of anti-trust and commerce subjects will be carefully read. The first two months will probably be devoted to appropriations. Much interest is manifested in both houses over the announcement that the president's message on the Sherman anti-trust law will be presented to congress at an early date. Sen. Jones and Representative Humphrey will present a resolution calling for an investigation of the interior department, and it is believed an investigation will be ordered.

THE Rev. Luther P. Ludden is to be investigated. He has been drawing $400 a year as secretary of the normal board while the law doesn't provide that a member of the board shall draw a salary. You can always depend upon Luther being there and awake when the "mazuma" is dispensed whether it is aid for drouth stricken settlers, or "pap" from the public crib. In the language of the man of the green cloth, he's a four-time winner.

DID Peary discover the north pole, or shall we give credit to the colored man whom he regarded as a better companion than any white man in his party?

WELL, just stand and listen to a lively drum corp play "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle" and if you don't say "Dixie" contains more of the kind of music that makes the world look brighter makes you feel glad that you are a citizen of this grand and glorious country, you are shy the ability to appreciate the rights of an American citizen. "Yankee Doodle" was borrowed from the Britishers and here's one Irishman that is in favor of returning it to them.

CONGRESS proposes to investigate the cause of high prices on the necessities of life. Go to any merchant and he can tell you.

It is a combination of the jobbers, who are compelled to sell at a fixed price or the manfactrners will not furnish goods to them. The merchant must not sell below a price or the jobbers cannot sell to him. Oh, no. The trusts do not restrain trade.

Be good: Do some boosting.
