

For Pain in Chest

For sore throat, sharp pain in lungs, tightness across the chest, hoarseness or cough, lave the parts with Sloan's Liniment. You don't need to rub, just lay it on lightly. It penetrates instantly to the seat of the trouble, relieves congestion and stops the pain.

Here's the Proof.
Mr. A. W. Price, Fredonia, Kans., says: "We have used Sloan's Liniment for a year, and find it an excellent thing for sore throat, chest pains, colds, and hay fever attacks. A few drops taken on sugar stops coughing and sneezing instantly."

Sloan's Liniment

is easier to use than porous plasters, acts quicker and does not clog up the pores of the skin. It is an excellent antiseptic remedy for asthma, bronchitis, and all inflammatory diseases of the throat and chest; will break up the deadly membrane in an attack of croup, and will kill any kind of neuralgia or rheumatic pains.

All druggists keep Sloan's Liniment. Price 25c, 50c, & $1.00.
Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

If She Had Her Choice.

A gentleman who finds great amusement in telling his wife which lady of their acquaintance he will select as her successor when she dies, and who, one day, had been teasing her with numberless mock-serious allusions to the subject, suddenly called their little daughter to him and asked her, shaking with laughter at his own wit: "Madeline, how would you like to have a stepmother?"

The child considered for a moment and then, with great earnestness replied: "I think I'd much rather have a stepfather."

Not Willing to Commit Himself.

The teacher had called upon Freddie Brown to give an illustration of the proper manner in which to compare the adjective "clean."

"Mother is clean," said he, falteringly, "father is—cleaner—" Here he paused.

"And," prompted the teacher.

"Freddie was still silent and very thoughtful.

"Haven't you some other relative?" asked the teacher, smiling.

"Oh, yes," replied Freddie, "there's auntie—but I ain't sure about her!"

An Appreciated Distraction.

"So you think the automobile has made life much pleasanter?"

"It has for me," answered the comfortable citizen. "I drove a fast horse and my son rides a bicycle. The automobile has taken the minds of the police off both of us."

Breakers Ahead.

"What makes you so sure that our frigate club is in for serious trouble?"

"My wife has just joined it," replied Mr. Moeckly.

Home Training.

Teacher—And what do we call those things that men like to see flying in the air?

Little Claude—Razzahs!—Denver News.

Love is blind, but self love is the only kind that is positively incurable.

CHANGE THE VIBRATION It Makes for Health.

A man tried leaving off meat, potatoes, coffee, and etc., and adopted a breakfast of fruit, Grape-Nuts with cream, some crisp toast and a cup of Postum.

His health began to improve at once for the reason that a meat eater will reach a place once in a while where his system seems to become clogged and the machinery doesn't work smoothly.

A change of this kind puts aside food of low nutritive value and takes up food and drink of the highest value, already partly digested and capable of being quickly changed into good, rich blood and strong tissue.

A most valuable feature of Grape-Nuts is the natural phosphate of potash grown in the grains from which it is made. This is the element which transforms albumen in the body into the soft gray substance which fills brain and nerve centers.

A few days' use of Grape-Nuts will give one a degree of nervous strength well worth the trial.

Look in pkgs for the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Odd News From Big Cities

Stories of Strange Happenings in the Metropolitan Towns

Snores Worth Fifty Cents Each to Him

NEW YORK.—"These things you hear about the fortunes the Pullman porters make," said one of them, "are mostly foolish; but you do once in a while gather in tips enough on a single trip to buy an overcoat with a spring overcoat, anyway."

"I think the most profitable single customer I ever struck was a man that rode with me once when I was running on a parlor car between New York, and the first thing he says to me was:

"Simeon—that's what he called me, Simeon—Simeon," he says to me, "I haven't had any sleep for a week, and I'm able to go to sleep the minute I sit down in this car, and when I sleep I always snore, and when I snore I do snore, and if I should snore here I'd be able to blow the roof off the car and I'd be sure to disturb all the other passengers. What I want, Simeon, is for you to look out for me and see that I don't snore."

"Simeon," he says, "keep an eye on me, and for every time you keep me from snoring I pay you 50 cents. You keep the score and I settle with you when we get to Buffalo. But understand, he says, 'for every time you let me snore we deduct $2 from the total.'"

"We hadn't much more'n rolled out of New York before I saw his head go back. I was alongside of him before it went back the second time, but from that on he kept me on the jump,

I had to stir him up every five or ten or fifteen minutes, and I had to be quick about it. Once he got away from me.

"I'd gone clean down to the other end of the car, after we'd been out about five hours, with a glass of water for a lady, and just as I was handing it to her I heard a terrible noise down at the other end of the car, and I knew what was the matter; but the other folks in the car didn't at first and half of 'em jumped up. The lady I was handing the water to did, and pretty near upset the tray, and everybody was scared at first, and there they were standing up or looking around from their chairs all over the car, the whole lot of 'em, all scowling at my passenger.

"I made that run from New York to Buffalo many and many a time, but I had never seemed so long to me before. We got there finally, but when he stood up for me to assist him off I was so tired and weak I could hardly wobble the broom.

"Simmy," he says, "I think you did well. What do you make the tally?"

"I told him that he'd been asleep 71 times.

"Well," he says, "Simmy, that would make $35.50 if it had been a perfect score, but we deduct two dollars for the time you let me snore; that brings it down to $33.50. I suppose we could fairly enough knock off another dollar, half price for that half snore; but we didn't make any special contract," he says, "about half snores, and so we won't say anything about that. Just let it go."

"Then he handed me over $33.50; and I got from the other passengers $2.70, making the grand total revenue for the trip $36.20.

Drinks and Love Mixed by Frenchman

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—Peter Sivers, a French sheep herder, living on Aliso street, accumulated a jag recently and became amorous to such an extent that his arrest and detention on an insanity charge were deemed necessary.

Sivers in turn made love to a horse, a wagon and a hitching post, and when locked up in the city jail bestowed the most distracting caresses and salutations of love upon the cold and unresponsive bars of his cell.

The sheep herder is the living example of the little mustached type who so often forms the chief fun maker in French film moving picture shows.

He is short and slight, with a curling mustache and all the ravings and elaborate figures of speech used by his countrymen. Early one afternoon Sivers began to gather about him strange-looking bottles. He drank from each in turn, without fear or favor. Any other man would have thought a while before taking such chances, but with Sivers it was do or die, and he plunged in boldly.

After all the bottles had been emptied and were lying upon the floor in disconsolate attitudes, the Frenchman arose and went forth in search of adventures. He thought he owned the earth. He tossed his hat in the air in an abandoned manner, and cried his delight. He approached a horse attached to a baker's cart on Aliso street.

"Ah, ze gran' horse, ze big one, I lof you, I lof you," screamed the enraptured Peter, with frantic attempts to embrace the animal. The horse, being of common parentage and having no ambition to speak of, backed away from the approaches of the little man. Peter followed, hat in hand, making the most elaborate bows in the direction of the equine, and at the same time casting the most beseeching glances toward it.

The horse made a few attempts to climb a telegraph pole, and Peter transferred his affairs of love to a picture of a fat dame, painted on the side panel of the wagon. He was trying to encircle the wagon with his arms in his effort to embrace this wooden affinity, when the driver came forth from a nearby store, pried Peter off with the toe of his shoe, and, using the same system of transmission delivered him into the gutter.

RANKS ARE SWELLED

EMPLOYES OF BALDWIN LOCOMOTIVE WORKS GO OUT.

POLICE MAKE FEW ARRESTS

Strikers Express Condemnation of the Uncalled For Shooting, But No Outbreaks Occur—Walk out is Belittled.

Philadelphia—Promise of help from without and development of strength in its own fold, which appeared to take even its most confident leaders by surprise, injected new life into the Philadelphia sympathetic strike movement Wednesday.

A labor campaign which gave every sign of waning received its strongest impetus from the action of the state federation of labor in convention in Newcastle, in declaring that a statewide and even nationwide tie up of industry would not be too great a price to pay if necessary to insure success to the local cause.

Added to this came the revelation that the union labor movement in sympathy with the striking employees of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company was strong enough to invade what was supposed to be a secure detail of the opposing forces and open up an admittedly wide breach.

The success of the strike leaders in inducing something over 1,000 employees of the Baldwin locomotive works to walk out following the early morning desertion of possibly as many more was the most striking development in the local situation.

To the threat of the country wide strike if the local traction heads did not agree to arbitration, the company officials made curt reply, announcing that they had said their last word on arbitration and that if the widespread strike depended on their yielding to the arbitration idea the strike would have to come.

Several firms announced that their hands were returning to work. Possible trouble was indicated by the announcement of the strikers' committee that it would hold an open air mass meeting in the national league baseball park Thursday noon. The police authorities declared that the meeting would not be permitted but the men reiterated their intention of holding it, claiming peaceful assemblage at a meeting on private property as within their constitutional rights. Results of the indicated clash are awaited with some little trepidation.

The street car company slightly increased the number of cars in service and the lines in the business and residence districts were apparently more largely patronized than on any day since the strike began.

May Come to America.

Southampton.—More than 6,000 steerage passengers have left Southampton for the United States within a fortnight, breaking all records. Every steamer has taken her full capacity, while the Oceanica, which sailed on Thursday, was compelled to close her bookings nearly a week ago. Emigrants, unable to secure passage to the continent are arriving here in great numbers in the hope of reaching America by the British lines.

Platt is Laid to Rest.

Owego, N. Y.—On a hillside overlooking the village of his birth the body of Thomas Collier Platt, former United States senator and for many years republican leader of New York, was buried Wednesday. During the ceremonies at the First Presbyterian church the little church was filled to the doors. Senator Platt's loyalty to his friends was the keynote of the eulogy delivered by Rev. George Douglas Young.

Fairbanks Given Banquet.

London.—Several distinguished Britons, with many American residents, gave a banquet Wednesday night to Former Vice-president Charles W. Fairbanks, under the auspices of the Pilgrim society. The Earl of Salisbury presided despite his eighty-four years and talked eloquently of Bunker Hill and Anglo-American friendship of late days. The speech of the evening was made by Mr. Fairbanks.

Bryan is Now in Brazil.

Sao Paulo, Brazil.—William Jennings Bryan arrived here Wednesday and was given a cordial welcome. He paid a visit to the civil authorities and in the evening delivered a lecture which was largely attended.

Senator Daniels Stricken.

Daytona.—United States Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia, was stricken with paralysis here Wednesday night. His physicians say he will recover. The stroke was slight.

Hogs Jump Another Notch.

St. Louis.—Live hogs of ordinary quality were sold here Wednesday for $10.50 a hundred weight, an advance of 17 1/2 cents since Tuesday.

To Add Bust of Roosevelt.

Washington.—A marble bust of Theodore Roosevelt reached Washington for installation in a niche in the senate chamber. The placing of the bust in this conspicuous place will necessitate the removal to one of the empty niches in the corridors of the bust of a former and long forgotten vice president.

The Roosevelt bust is the work of James Frazer of New York and shows the subject with face in repose and in a dignified mood.

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:

"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me. Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year, or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others."—Mrs. S. J. BARBER, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. George May says:

"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuralgia pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEORGE MAY, 86 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:

"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor. I suffered with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. To-day I am a well woman, the tumor was expelled, and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 1800 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:

"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. W. K. HOUSH, 7 Eastview Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, etc.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Kansas Takes 1,000 Overland Cars

Our agents in Kansas have ordered for this season 1,000 Overland automobiles. Nebraska takes 750—Iowa, 1,000—Texas 1,500. Thus has the Overland—after one year's experience—captured the farming states.

It has captured the cities, too. New York City takes 1,000 Overlands this year. Boston takes 500—San Francisco 500—Washington 500—Philadelphia 450.

Our agents have contracted for 20,000 Overlands—worth $2,000,000 worth of Overlands—to supply the demand for this year. That's a larger sale than any other car commands.

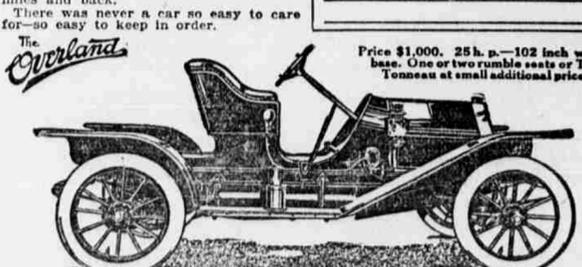

Yet two years ago few had ever heard of an Overland. This sensational success is due to the creation of a remarkable car.

The Simple Car

The success of the Overland is mainly due to its amazing simplicity. A 10-year-old child can master the car in five minutes. Push a pedal forward to go ahead, and backward to reverse. Push another pedal for high speed. There is nothing else to do but steer.

Any man with the simplest instructions can run an Overland a thousand miles and back.

There was never a car so easy to care for—so easy to keep in order.

Price $1,000. 25 h. p.—102 inch wheel base. One or two rumble seats or Toy Tonneau at small additional price.

ALABASTINE

A Woman's Home

should be her pride. Your home should reflect your own individuality. You cannot have special wall papers designed by you for each room—you can carry out a special Alabastine decorative scheme for those rooms—you can be a leader in your community and have your home the talk of your friends.

Alabastine
The Stylish Wall Tint

is the material that will accomplish this result. We can show innumerable color effects, classic stencil designs, and our Art Department is at your service.

Send for the Alabastine book explaining what we do for you, and how we furnish free stencils where Alabastine is used.

Alabastine is a powder made from Alabaster, ready for use by mixing with cold water, and is applied with an ordinary wall brush. Full directions on each package.

Alabastine Company
New York City, N. Y. Grand Rapids, Mich.

THE PACKAGE