THE LOCAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

Gleaned for Your Perusal by Our Rustling Reporters

J. A. Amsberry of Mason City was in Broken Bow Saturday on business on his way to Meria.

Oakland, White Steam and Ford automobiles, Olds Gass Engines, Ream Bros.

Garnie Wood, of Hays Township and Mike Foley of Dale, were transacting business in town late Saturday.

Mrs. Allen Tooley was called to Booneville, Indiana Wednesday morning on account of the sickness of her sister.

The largest stock of auto supplies in this section of the state—tires, batteries, oil cartudes—sundries—Ream Bros.

A big lot of plain white queensware just received at Strong's Variety Store. These are good goods at bargain prices.

Expert auto and machine repairing, best material, prompt service. Ream Bros.

Mrs. Willis Talbot is dangerously ill at her home on the south side. As soon as she is able to bear it she will be operated on for appendicitis.

The many friends of Mrs. Ross Pickett will be glad to learn that she is daily gaining strength and is now considered out of danger.

The Baptist ladies will serve dinner and supper on election day. They will also have a bazaar and mending booth in connection with the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Roderick of Blue Springs are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cukler of this place. Mrs. Cukler is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick.

Do you like to see pretty goods? Take a look at those handsome Rockingham tea sets in the window of Strong's Variety Store. Both windows full of bargains this week.

S. A. Holcomb went to Lincoln Tuesday morning to take the case of the State of Nebraska vs C. F. Wilson, D. C. to the supreme court. The defendant was placed under $500 bonds.

The question of the division petitions from Corn and Rose, proposed counties have been occupying the time of the county board since last Saturday—as the result of too hasty action of the board at the former meeting.

Yesterday was the first gentle reminder that winter was close at hand. Thermometer did not reach the freezing point until last night but the air was uncomfortably chilly during the day and the demand for coal kept the draymen all busy.

F. A. Walton and Mrs. D. A. Walton left Saturday evening for Baker City, Oregon where Mrs. Walton and husband have purchase property with the view of locating there permanently. Mr. D. A. Walton will leave for his new home in a few days.

Sheriff Kennedy one day last week arrested George Hammond on a charge of stealing fodder from H. M. Huff, who lives four miles south of here. Hammonds place is seven miles south. The preliminary hearing was continued until later in the month.

The Board of Education held a very successful sale of the dwelling house and barn on the high school grounds on last Monday. W. H. O'Rorke was the auctioneer and conducted the sale in an able and efficient manner.

Well Now, What Do You Think of IT?
Isn't IT A Dream?

Steven Wilcox, an old resident of the township, sold his property last Saturday to Will Owens, the consideration was $4,000. The Wilcox property is located east of town and runs almost to the city limits. It is understood Mr. Wilcox intends to go east to reside.

A number have been in town this last week from Dunning and vicinity to make proof on their homesteads. Among the number were Thomas Elwood, John and Christopher Owings, W. A. Thompson, David Weesner, George B. Howder, A. T. Hillman, Edward Runyon, Miller Heller and S. J. Boyer.

Will Dunn, Editor of the Courier-Tribune of Calloway, is one of the earnest divisionists who is over here anxiously watching the proceedings before the county board and Bro. Dunn is so sure the mandamus proceedings will eventually necessitate the use of crutches by the Antis, that he is almost willing to make a side bet on the issue.

W. A. George has just returned from a weeks campaigning with C. H. Aldrich. He says on some days the republican candidate made as many as three or four talks; all of them different and decidedly to the point. Mr. George says the prospects for a republican victory look brighter at present than at any stage of the campaign. Mr. Aldrich wins friends and votes for the party wherever he goes, and at Fairbury they were given a regular ovation.

Goose Egg For The College.

Last Saturday afternoon the high school team of Mason City came to Broken Bow and spread it all over the Custer College eleven. The game was played on the south side grounds and was decidedly one-sided. After Mason had finished with the students and demonstrated to every body's satisfaction that they knew considerably more about football than did their opponents, they departed for home, well pleased in their trophy of 11 to 0. If the College team would pull together and do three times as much work they might put up a better front.

Citizens Lecture Course.

The Bartolatti Concert Co. is to be the opening number of the course. This is a star attraction and was made a special selection by the committee. Reserve your seats and get your tickets at the Holcomb store Saturday Oct. 22. Season tickets with six numbers $2.00, single admission 50 cents. Childrens and Students season tickets $1.00.

Second Team Victorious.

The second foot ball team of the high school journeyed to Calloway last Saturday and taught the number 2 aggregation of that place something about the new rules and regulations that have been introduced this season into the game.

The Calloway bunch was by far the heavier of the two teams, they averaging about 150 lbs., while our boys would probably string out with an average weight of 100 lbs. Nevertheless, the lighter team out-classed its opponents in every way, played cleaner ball, it is said, and won out by a score of 17 to 10.

Near the close of the last quarter the score stood 17 to 0, in favor of Broken Bow, and the boys are of the opinion that it should be the official score, as they claim the time keeper ran in a few extra minutes, giving Calloway an opportunity to make two touch downs, which gave them 10. As our boys took no referee with them they naturally received the benefit of all rank decisions. Outside of that, they say they were treated fine by their opponents, who tried to make their stay a pleasant one and the score was 17 to 10, in favor of Broken Bow.

COMMUNICATION
Received too late for publication last week.

The Beacon has in its last two issues published articles which were very evidently intended to win for the editor the coveted office of county attorney. It certainly was not intended to win for him the esteem and respect of his fellow man.

There is nothing more contemptible than for one opponent to show towards the other such utter lack of chivalry and also of self respect. I would say that if a man can not win on his own merits it would certainly be very undesirable to win on another's demerits. I shall not attempt to defend Mr. Gadd nor do I think that the Beacon's editor is above criticism as he has already demonstrated that the greatest danger of a little knowledge is that its owner can never make a quantitative analysis of it, he appear to be one of the men who fear to walk under a ladder yet does not hesitate to use one to climb over a fellow man and in view of the article published one can correctly name the various rungs of the ladder used, no one of which could be a very valuable asset to an honest and upright man. He also makes the remarkable assertion that it was an unpleasant thing to do, a statement that I have reason to doubt as I am sure no one demanded it of the Beacon, it certainly looks very unpleasant in print.

One of the terrible wrongs of which Mr. Gadd is accused is in my estimation very trivial. Let us note the fact that this particular offender is young, that alone stands for a great deal. He has a long life to live and the battle is not easy, is it demonstrative of great wisdom to hang the eve bearing down mill stone of a prison record on a pair of young shoulders when in all probability he will have learned the lesson without thus smirching his record for always.

All of the broad minded criminal judges, men above criticism, agree that it is the best to reform the young offenders without a prison sentence if possible and after all there really would be no glory attached to the case, it would have been very simple to convict in that case. We must challenge evil and believe that the evils of men are like the sands of the upper glass falling down and that some day the glass will be clean. This would seem to be more in harmony with right than the narrow minded selfish view taken by the Beacon. I would also add that it is poor wisdom to connect political arguments with personal opinions.

A candidate for office makes a grave mistake in trying to resort to tricks and personal insults in order to further his own cause, remember it was the mule that kicked the blacksmith that fell on the ice going home and broke his only good leg.
