Runaways Smash a Buggy.

A work team belonging to Charles Martin ran away Monday afternoon and crashed into a buggy belonging to Water Commissioner McBurnie, reducing the vehicle to kindling wood in less time than it takes to tell. Fortunately "Mac" was elsewhere when the accident occurred or he might have been included in the general smashup. The Martin team which is employed by the Electric Light Company took fright at some thing near the depot while the driver was attending to something else and shot across town at "express train" speed. When the heavy wag on struck the light buggy and crumpled it up like card board, the team of runaways never faltered, but kept on until they reached Mr. Martin's stables where they stopped of their own accord. This is the same team by the way, that nearly caused the death of Earl Cooper several weeks ago, by running into him while he was seated on a mowing machine in the middle of the street. Commissioner McBurnie says although there are no wheels to his buggy to speak of and the body is badly fractured both externally and internally, still he thinks the seat might be utilized for something if only some repairs were put on it.

Grandma Cosner passes away.

Jas. H. Cosner of Merna, Minn., formerly of Broken Bow, returned here last week owing to the serious illness of his mother who resides at Merna, Neb.

He was in the city last Friday and stated that his mother required careful attention both day and night owing to her advanced age.

A letter from him yesterday stated his mother died Tuesday at 2.30 p.m. and the funeral services would be held at 2.30 yesterday.

Grandma Cosner with her husband was among the early settlers of the vicinity of Merna and enjoyed the high esteem and respect of all who knew her. Her husband preceded her to the better land a few years ago, both having been active and constant Christians.

Christerpherson is Liberated.

The preliminary hearing of John Christerpherson, the young drug clerk at Calloway, who was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Etta Moses several weeks ago, was commenced before County Judge Holcomb Tuesday morning of this week. The hearing lasted nearly two days and attracted more than the usual amount of attention, as the courtroom was crowded during the whole time. Ex-Governor Holcomb and County Attorney Gadd conducted the prosecution, while Judge Homer Sullivan and attorney Millard appeared for the defense. Dr. Davis, of Calloway was put on the stand and testified as to the condition of Mrs. Moses when he was called in attendance. Sam Sterner, a brother of Mrs. Moses, testified that he had gone to the drug store and asked for cream of tartar for his sister, that Christerpherson was a lone in the store at the time, gave him what subsequently proved to be tartar emetic, and that his sister received the poison under the impression it was cream of tartar. Sterner said he had never heard of tartar emetic before his sister was taken ill. Charles Sterner, another brother, at whose house Mrs. Moses was staying at the time of her death, testified what happened at the house after the poison had been taken. The testimony of D. E. Moses, husband of the dead woman, was much the same as that of Charles Sterner. The legal arguments were heard on Wednesday and consumed the best part of the day. The prosecution contended that the defendant was in the act of wrong doing when he sold an unlabeled drug that later caused the death of a human being and asked that he be bound over to the district court and stand trial for manslaughter. Judge Holcomb in passing upon the case said he was convinced that the affair was a most deplorable accident with no criminal intent on the part of the defendant. He accordingly gave Christerpherson the benefit of any doubt that might exist and discharged the young man from custody.

Judge Kills Chickens.

County Judge Holcomb, Will Darnell and Ed Myers went up the line last Saturday night in search of small game. They dropped off at Dunning and struck inland several miles. For two days the slaughter was fast and furious, and when the Judge returned last Tuesday morning he was loaded down with chickens, ducks and one solitary crane. He said he felt sorry for the crane because it looked so lonely among all these chickens.

"Weary Willie Walker," a roaring farce comedy with Vic Crane and Edna Lurene in the leading role will be seen for one performance only at the opera house on next Saturday evening, October 29th. The play is one fresh from the pen of one of America's foremost playwrights and comes to this city with the hearty recommendation of both press and public in cities where the company have appeared. Special arrangements were made to secure this attraction for one performance, and theatre patrons should order seats early, as without doubt this will be one of the largest attended attractions of the season.

In Search of A Daughter.

M. P. Earl who resides near Topeka, Kansas came to Broken Bow this week in search of a daughter he has never seen. According to Mr. Earl's story the child was born during the civil war, shortly after he had joined the army. After he was mustered out and returned to his home, he discovered that both mother and child had disappeared. He subsequently learned that the wife had secured a separation. For sometime past he has been trying to find the daughter and finally he traced her to this part of the country and to Broken Bow. On Tuesday morning Mr. Earl learned through some agency that his daughter had married a son of William Boyce, of this place, and had previously resided here. If the father is right in his calculations, his daughter is the wife of John Boyce, and they reside at Wag ner, in Logan Co.

Our Supplement.

We call attention this week to our supplement containing sketches of the republican candidates. We want our readers to give special attention to the page about Mr. Aldrich. As candidate for governor the "Dahlmanite" party have accused him of being an unfit man and laid up to his door about all the mean things that a man is capable of doing in his life time. These interviews with doctors, lawyers, bankers, ministers and leading citizens of Mr. Aldrich's home town completely refute all these charges and show conclusively that Mr. Aldrich is a typical representative of Nebraska's highest and best citizenship.

David B. Hill, Ex-United States Senator, died suddenly at his country home at Wolfert's Roost, New York, last Thursday, October 20th.

Breaks Ground for City Hall.

At last things commence to look like business in regard to a new city hall. Ground was broken for that structure last Monday morning and the work of excavation is being rapidly pushed. When completed the new building will have an imposing appearance and will not only be a credit to the town and fill a long felt want but it is something that was badly needed for a number of years. The building is to be of two stories and a basement and built of vitrified brick with stone trimmings. In the basement will be the jail containing two steel cells, a boiler room and a feed room for the city work teams. On the first floor on either side of the corridor are the library and reception rooms, both of which measure 18x23 feet. At the rear of the hall are the lavatories and toilets. The north end will be the fire department. This is a large room 43x48 feet to be thoroughly equipped with modern machines and applicants for fighting flames. About five thousand dollars will be expended on this department and the furnishings.

The rooms on the second floor are to be of the same size as the lower ones approximately. In the northwest corner of the fire department will have its club rooms, while the council chamber is located directly opposite across the hall. In the east half of the building will be the assembly room measuring 43x48 feet. This is to be utilized for public functions of various sorts and will be a decided improvement over some of the make-shifts that have gone before. All the rooms are to be finished in maple and birch. As was mentioned last week C. A. Wahl is the contractor and his intention is to push the work as rapidly as the weather will permit. The specifications and drawings were made in the offices of Loyd D. Mills of Omaha.
