Teachers go to Lincoln.

Prof. R. I. Elliott, superintendent of the schools here, and his corps of instructors are attending the State Teachers Association at Lincoln this week. They will also eat their Thanksgiving turkey in that city, and put in the best part of Wednesday in visiting the Lincoln schools. They will spend the remainder of the week at Lincoln and return home Sunday night. Those accompanying Prof. Elliott are Prof. J. Harold Williams, the Misses Jean Sullivan, M. Roddy, Ethel Doty, Gertrude Orr, Flora Crumley, Esther Blankenship, Mattie Mumford, Erma Rogers, Emma Reyner, Hazel Weber, Fern Brown and Edna Beech.

J. E. Cavane, for thirty years a resident of Custer County, moved to Kearney this week. Mr. Cavane was county treasurer of this county for two terms. He is an extensive land owner and has a host of friends in this vicinity who wish him well in his new home.

The Boys are Kicking.

The high school boys are putting up an energetic kick over Ravenna claiming the Central foot-ball championship. They say that Broken Bow has more games to its credit and has done better work in every way; that when it came to a showdown, Ravenna's pedal extremities were seized with chill-blains and it was impossible to get a game out of them. The boys are now clamoring for justice and only want a fair shake in order to demonstrate that the championship is being haggled by the wrong party. It would seem but fair that Ravenna should give the boys the satisfaction they are after.

The Mothers Sunday School in Dunlap district No. 98 has collected enough money to purchase an organ this is a good showing for the school and its enthusiastic workers.

GEORGE GOING TO TEXAS

State Treasurer-Elect Will Take a Rest Trip and Appoint His Deputy Before Going.

Walter A. George, state treasurer-elect, spent several days of last week in Lincoln and Omaha, where he was busy arranging matters in regard to the $1,000,000 bond it will be necessary for him to furnish. Upon his return, Mr. George said every thing had been arranged in a perfectly satisfactory manner.

"I believe in patronizing home institutions," said Mr. George, "and have accordingly, selected one of the two institutions of the state capable of handling that amount of money. While away, I was continually besieged from all directions by an army of applicants for numerous positions but as I bound myself by no promise during the campaign, I feel that I am free to make my own appointments. I have not as yet decided on my deputy out of the many applicants, and, although I hope to please the people in my selection, I shall please myself first; because I want some one whom I personally know and like, so that we may work together harmoniously.

"I want to say right here that I am more than pleased with the election of Mr. Wait. He is the only old soldier left in the state house and I know he will make a good and efficient officer. I am doing the preliminary state work here at home preparatory to taking over the office at the beginning of the new year. Of course I will receipt for and check over the vouchers before starting in on my official duties.

"About the sixth of next month, I intend taking a ten days or two weeks trip to Texas. Of course, it will not be a very lengthy jaunt; but it will be a divertisement and I need that. I think I am entitled to it after the strenuous campaign we put up. I shall be up to my eyes in work until then; but will find time to appoint my deputy before leaving."

A Pleasant Surprise

The members of the Baptist church happily surprised their pastor Rev. A. T. Norwood, Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pigman. Rev. Norwood and family were invited to the Pigman home for supper and before they had time to return to their home they were greeted by a house full of people. The gathering was entirely informal and a most genial time was had by both old and young.

A second surprise came to the ladies when Mrs. Parmenter, in being called out for a toast presented the Society with a substantial contribution from the Ladies Aid Society of her old home church in Ohio to be added to the new church fund.

During the absence of the family the parsonage was entered and when the Norwoods returned found another surprise of material things that will keep the wolf from their door for some time at least.

Ladies Guild Supper.

The Episcopal supper given by the Ladies Guild at the residence of Mrs. Alpha Morgan last week, was largely attended, there being about fifty guests who sat down to the table, not counting the members of the guild. The supper was particularly good and the way in which the male contingent settled down to business and did justice to the many dainties, was a caution. Biscuits were constructed while you waited and served piping hot with wholesome, fresh butter. The other good things were too numerous to count, but they all took the same route as the biscuits without any favorites being played. Many thanks are due Mrs. Morgan for the loan of her beautiful home for the occasion.

GOLDEN WEDDING

A Notable Family Reunion at the Home of the Rev. Dr. R. Cooper Bailey, Falls City, Nebraska.

Friday, Nov. 18th, proved a great day for the Bailey family. The immediate occasion calling together the scattered members was the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey of Broken Bow, Nebr., the father and mother of the pastor of the First Presbyterian church Falls City, Nebr., and Rev. Dr. Geo. Bailey, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Erie, Pennsylvania. For some days previous small parties had been arriving from various parts of the compass and on Thursday Rev. Dr. George Bailey and family arrived from Erie, Penn., followed shortly by Rev. George Longstaff and family from Lynch, Nebr. In all the house party numbered twenty-six, including twelve grandchildren and one great grand child.

The anniversary dinner was beautifully served at one o'clock in the European hotel, Falls City, and almost every desirable satable graced and burdened the festive board. A few guests were present as particular friends of the aged couple comprising Mr. and Mrs. John F. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kieser and Miss Minnie Murphy all of Humbolt Nebr., and Dr. Wm. R. Boose and wife of Falls City.

At the close of the repast the eldest son and child of the family, Dr. R. Cooper Bailey, fittingly characterized the occasion as one of great joy and gratitude, not only to the aged parents, who fifty years ago to day joined hands and hearts in a life-long and happy union, but to their six children and their partners in life by marriage with the several grand children. Mr. J. F. Walsh spoke in a happy and complimentary vein to the toast "Reminiscences," while "the son I ought to have been" was humorously responded to by the second son, Dr. George Bailey. In the name of the family the Rev. R. Cooper Bailey handed his parents fifty dollars in gold in recognition of the fifty years of their married life and a further sum of sixteen dollars all in gold from immediate friends. A number of other presents came from well-wishers in the form of gold and silver spoons, gold spectacles for father and mother, a very profusion of large golden chrysanthemums, a set of hand pointed pins in gold and black, and many other valuable articles. Mr. John Bailey still has the clipping from the newspaper circulated in Durham county, England, telling of his wedding fifty years ago.

They came to this country a little over sixteen years ago, settling in Humbolt, Nebr., and after a few years spent there moved to Broken Bow where they make their permanent home arranging to spend the winters at the manse with their son Dr. R. C. Bailey, Falls City, Nebr.

A regular shower of letters, telegrams, post cards and messages came from different parts of this country and from England congratulating these old people and wishing for them the very best things both for this life and the life that is to come.

HELPS CAPTURE A HOLD-UP

J. G. Leming, of Broken Bow, Has Interesting Experience at Deadwood, S. D.

J. G. Leming, who returned to Broken Bow last Friday, had quite an experience in the First National Bank of Deadwood, the day before, when an ex-soldier from Fort Niobrara, tried to hold up that institution at the point of a gun. As Mr. Leming helped capture the man his part in the affair was more or less thrilling.

He said he was standing at a desk in the bank, when a man approached the cashier's window and after making some casual remark, dropped a gun on the level with the cashier's head and ordered him to pass out the cash. The cashier dodged and the revolver was discharged, the ball tearing a hole in the wood work. Then a strange thing happened. After he had pulled the trigger, the ex-soldier apparently lost his nerve, for dropping the weapon on the shelving of the window, he hastily made for the door.

Here is where the resident from Broken Bow took a hand in the game. Grappling with the man, he helped hold him until other assistance arrived. The sheriff was then called and the culprit turned over to him. At first he refused to talk but later it was discovered he was an ex-soldier named Dear. Mr. Leming thinks the man used poor judgment, as it was a time of day when the streets were filled with people and escape seemed almost impossible. Several of the bank's officials were also present at the time of the attempted hold-up.

Mrs. W. D. Grant returned this week from Webb City, Mo. where she was called about four weeks ago on account of the serious illness of her brother. Mrs. Grant visited other relatives in Missouri before returning home.
