He is building an office and dwelling combined on the hill, just below the Land Office, and will shortly move his family here from our sister state.
 Rogers have received a stock of overcoats that exceeds anything ever brought into the valley. They range in price from $3 up to the finest, and the man who goes around shaking with cold when he can get one of these good, warm coats at a price so low that all can buy, had better go back east and give up the ghost, then probably he will have no use for one.
 We had the pleasure of seeing the rooms which Messrs. Hinman & Glenon papered, painted and decorated for Mr. Daniels, Tuesday, and we were surprised to ascertain that we had artists in our midst who were able to do work of such excellence. The paper was smoothly hung, and ceiling decorations showed artistic taste in selection and hanging. The painting was nicely executed—the ebony and gold and French veneering making a pleasing contrast.
 It will be remembered that some one attempted some time ago, to wreck the passenger train west of Arapahoe, near Burton's Bend, and that the train men gave it as their opinion that the attempt was made for the purpose of robbery; but suspicion rested upon certain parties in that vicinity who had claims against the B. & M. company, and a detective named Galligan has been working the matter up ever since. We now learn that on Monday of last week, Deputy Sheriff I. H. Dempsey, arrested Cyrus Callahan and Michael Morrissey, living near Burton's Bend, on a complaint sworn out by detective Galligan, charging Callahan and Morrissey guilty of attempting to wreck the train at that time. The prisoners were taken to Arapahoe, and had a preliminary trial on Tuesday, before Esquire Murphy. The examination revealed facts that warranted justice Murphy in binding Callahan over in the sum of $1,000 to appear at the next term of district court. The evidence was not strong against Morrissey and he was released.—Oxford Register.

Colonel Burch's Lecture.
 Although but little advertised, a large number of our people turned out to hear what we unhesitatingly style one of the finest lectures to which they will have occasion to listen in along while. The Colonel took the liberty to change the subject of his lecture, and spoke most earnestly and eloquent upon "The Battles of Life," suggesting some beautiful thoughts, and giving some wholesome admonitions; not sparing cant and hypocrisy, and extolling right, truth and justice. Probably the brightest pearl dropped was that of man's severe and unwarranted judgment of his fellow creature. "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone," covers the ground of the lecture's remarks on that subject.
 Col. Burch is preparing a hand-book or pamphlet of Red Willow county, at the request of a number of our most influential men, and has been canvassing our town in connection with the same. Such a book is needed and the Colonel's experience in that line assures a highly creditable work.
Newspaper Annual.

Ayer & Son's American Newspaper Annual for 1883, contains a carefully prepared list of all Newspapers and Periodicals in the United States and Canada, arranged by States in Geographical Sections, and by Towns in alphabetical order. There is no other single publication within our knowledge which contains information of such varied use and value for general business purposes. Complete in all its departments, thorough in its details, giving just the information needed, and only that, simply arranged, easily referred to, carefully compiled,—it is, in fact, a model work of its kind. Price $3.00, carriage paid.

NEW ENGLAND SUPPER.
 The New England Supper held in the Band Hall, Tuesday evening, by the Ladies' Union, was eminently successful in every particular. By nine of the clock, the hall was crowded, and the members of the Union, dressed in the New England costume of a century since, were kept busy dishing up Boston baked beans, pumpkins, etc., not to make mention of the more modern and more civilized delicacies with which the tables were fairly groaning. Many of our people took supper there, and many after eating at home and coming to the hall to take a peep, were tempted to "fall to" and partake of the elegant repast spread before them. The ladies had made most extensive and complete preparations for the event, and were ready for the crowd which thronged the hall.
 The room was prepared to represent one of the olden times, and with the stringed pumpkins, spinning wheels, old dishes, and the numerous other articles of a hundred years ago, ladies and gentlemen in appropriate dress, made a scene not unlike one in the time of George and Martha. Mrs. Batchelor and Mrs. Green, as Aunts Jerusha and Hannah, were immense, and the source of much merriment. Dr. Johnson and Mrs. Gump scored quite a "hit" as George and Martha. Uncle Jed was there in the person of "the funny man," which is good and sufficient evidence that that character was admirably sustained. The noble red men, Messrs. Byron and Kelly, gave color to the scene, as well as liveliness.
 Among the many articles on exhibition, a very few of which we were able to make a note, were: Old and handsome dishes from England and Belgium; a beautiful set of dishes 100 years old by Mrs. Meserve; Mr. Buck's file of the New York Gazette, embracing the years of 1758-59, printed while the stamp act was in force, each having the crown stamped thereon; a newspaper containing an account of Washington's death; a box made from a piece of the historic "Charter Oak" by Mrs. Hollister; a plate 120 years old by Mrs. C. H. Reed; a cake basket 100 years old by Mrs. T. G. Rees; Dr. Willey exhibited a law book 100 years old; two books, written by Abbe LePluche in 1741; salt seller 100 years old by Miss Nellie Fisher; Mrs. Buck exhibited a wheel-boy and wool cards, 73 years old, some coin, a piece of bark from an N. E. Indian canoe and a specimen of knitting done by children in a mission school in the Isle of Ceylon; a cute little German lantern of the modest age of 80 years. We have attempted to give but a few of the many articles, all of which were notable.
 The ladies of the Union should feel proud of the success of their entertainment, for an unqualified success it was. The band boys "surprised" the ladies by discoursing a number of pieces of music before the hall in the early part of the evening, for which delightful music the ladies return their hearty thanks. The amount realized from the supper, over and above all expenses, was $50.00, which the ladies consider "pretty good."

 OFFICE OF OSGOODBY'S IMPROVED SAFES, 17 S. Broad St. N. Y.
 ATLANTA, Ga., October 17th, 1881.
 Dr. Rush's Medical Association:
 DEAR DOCTORS.—The three bottles of "Dr. Rush's Regulator" I ordered were received by express last week. I have taken nearly one bottle and am thoroughly satisfied with the result. For over two years I have been troubled with sharp pain at my heart. My physician, upon examination, pronounced it enlargement of the heart and was unable to give me any relief. The trouble grew worse until I had become convinced that I could not be cured. While in New York City, last week, I called upon one of the most prominent physicians there, who enlarged me $25 for an examination and then recommended your "Regulator." Knowing you to be a regular Medical Association, and not a patent medicine scheme I ordered the three bottles. I have not been troubled since I commenced taking it, but shall continue and take the entire three bottles so as to obtain a permanent cure. You have my sincere thanks.
 I am, gentlemen, Very respectfully,
 Wm. G. OSGOODBY.
