JOSEPH BRAUN.

An engine was disabled between here and Indianola, Friday, and had to return to McCook for repairs. The break on the tender became locked, resulting in an uneven wheel, which made a terrible din going over the rails.

Mr. H. C. Rider is building a house in West McCook, 16x24, with a L 12x 14. This is the first one of twenty dwellings which we are informed Mr. Rider and Mr. Marble of Marengo, Iowa, who will move here in a few weeks, purpose building during the year.

We hear loud complaints being uttered against the McCook hog, these days, by our merchants and others, and we anticipate that a petition praying that these nuisances be kept up will be presented for the consideration of the Board at an early date, and many join us in the hope.

Pony Bill of the Northwestern Live-Stock Journal says that the liberality, enterprise and intelligence of the stockmen he met during his recent trip along the B. & M. was very gratifying; and that the facilities afforded the traveling public and shippers by the B. & M. railroad are unsurpassed.

Notwithstanding the fact that most of the road between Akron and Denver is fenced, and a portion between Akron and McCook, cattle are being killed in great numbers. One section boss reported at division headquarters 30 killed. Whether fencing or paying damages is the cheaper is the question.

A slight fall of snow during Wednesday morning and night.

Richard is himself again. The editor of the Courier, it seems, is utterly unable to retain his spleen against our town and THE TRIBUNE any length of time.

The question of building a school house is being discussed by our citizens. The advantages that would accrue to our town from a good school all understand and appreciate. Let us have a school building that will be a source of pride to our people.

The train was delayed 20 minutes at Denver in receiving eleven dead bodies, which passed through McCook, Friday, on the B. & M. enroute to Pennsylvania. They were victims of the Crested Butte disaster. Three parties accompany the bodies to their destination.

By an official circular from the B. & M. road, it is announced that hereafter passenger trains No. 3 and 4, running between Omaha and Red Cloud, will be run every day in the week, Sundays included. These trains have not been Sunday trains heretofore and the change will be appreciated by the travelling public.

Last Sunday, Squire Fisher, in his inapproachable style, united in the holy bonds of matrimony, George P. Weick and Mrs. Jacobina P. Rall, both of South McCook. As both of the high contracting parties have sailed on the calm sea of matrimony for a number of years, they know the breakers and will be able to avoid squalls, and THE TRIBUNE wishes them a bon voyage.

A. W. Corey, whose ranch is situated about three miles east of McCook, has a fine bunch of 200 cattle which he is grading, as are the majority of stockmen in this section of country, higher and better each year. Mr. Corey has 2000 acres under fence, comprising one of the finest little ranches along the river. He also has one of the best pedigree Short-Horn bulls in Red Willow county.

McGee & Campbell of Brownville, Neb., have entered a body of land in the Mecklin Canyon in Hitchcock county, for ranch purposes. They intend to stock the same, which we are informed will make one of the finest in this locality, in the spring, either with native or eastern cattle. Possessing the requisite, they will make a valuable acquisition to the stock interests of the valley.

The County Commissioners have been making some needed improvements in the Court House. The Clerk and Treasurer now occupy different rooms, and these have been plastered and casings put on. The vault is being pigeon-holed and otherwise made more convenient as a receptacle for the valuable papers and books it is intended to preserve. The Court Room is to be finished and a jury room built. The contract has been let for this work.

At the Phantom Party to be given by the Social Club, Wednesday evening, of next week, none but bona fide phantoms will be allowed to participate in the dance until after unmasking time. The ladies who are preparing a supper for the occasion, desire us to state that none but maskers will be invited to partake of their repast. To those who may receive invitations our advice would be to see that the sheet and pillow case be not wanting—as they will miss half the enjoyment of the evening.

Tuesday afternoon, the 22d ultimo, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hocknell started with their baby for New Orleans, hoping that the little one under the healing influence of that sunny clime might become well and strong. Mr. Hocknell returned feeling hopeful of the baby's rapid recovery; but Providence willed otherwise. He received a telegram from Austin, Texas, Monday, stating that the baby was worse, and before he arrived at Austin, the little one's spirit had taken its flight. The party arrived in McCook, the following Monday noon, and the funeral took place in the afternoon. The sorrowful parents have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sad affliction—the loss of their only child.

Clark Ward, the new proprietor of the Indianola Hotel, came up to the metropolis on Wednesday, returning the following morning.

Two important business changes have transpired during the week. One in McCook and the other at Indianola. At McCook, Tom. McCartney has disposed of his share in the business to W. H. Hayden, who will continue the business under the style of W. H. Hayden & Co. At Indianola, Will McCartney has purchased the half interest of Mr. Hayden, and will conduct the business alone. Tom McCartney informs us that he will spend some time visiting his brother and friends at Indianola, after which he will go to San Francisco, where he will go into business, if a favorable opening should present itself. We are sorry to see Tom go, and wish him success in whatever business he shall engage.

It is conceded by those who have been in the valley for years, that there are more land-seekers in this section at present than there has ever been in the history of the Republican Valley, even later in the spring. Every train brings stockmen and settlers—or those who come to locate claims with the intent to become such—and claims near McCook are becoming scarce indeed. We are informed that Hitchcock county is "plumb full" of these rustlers after land, and that desirable claims for range purposes especially are being gobbled up rapidly. Already are some people looking toward Frontier county. There are a great many good claims in this county that are covered up, but every now and then some one ascertains the fact and reaps the reward.

We had the pleasure, during a recent visit to the county seat, of attending a meeting of the Literary Society in which our Indianola people take such a justifiable pride. The debate was the source of considerable mirth—due to some of the astounding statements of the disputants. Mr. Breece advanced, amongst some generally accepted views of astronomy, a number of paralyzing ideas of his own, which we fear are not orthodox—while they seemed to be clear to the gentleman himself. Mr. Hunter reached a responsive chord in his humorous selection. The music by the Glee Club was indeed praise-worthy, and the solo by Mrs. Harney was very favorably received and commented upon. The attendance was large and the entertainment appreciated.

The Plunket divorce cases came before the Special Term of the District Court on Tuesday; and, as we foretold, the plaintiffs in the cases found the clime too tropical by half, and Mr. Jas. Plunket found it convenient to withdraw his suit—at least some testimony from the defense made the said action quite clear to his mind. And as the defense put forth the plea that they were not prepared to proceed with the case, Judge Gaslin ordered the case of John Plunket continued until May 15—provided $75, temporary alimony be paid within 90 days—otherwise the same would be dismissed. Apropos we opine John Plunket's countenance will hardly grace Red Willow county's hall of justice May 15. The cases would appear to be ones of fraud throughout. One of the erring husbands writes his trusting wife in Indiana that he has entered 480 acres of land, for instance, when he can't name a foot of land of his own, and a number of other outrageous falsehoods we have not the space nor patience to mention. One of the plaintiffs took occasion to remark that the article which recently appeared in this paper was a PAID local to influence public opinion against him and in favor of the wives interested. We think we have the individuals calibre, but an individual who leaves a wife and five children in destitute circumstances and goes West "mining" ostensibly, but really stops off at McCook and goes into the hotel business under circumstances well understood, does not possess the sentiment of a man in his favor to be influenced, and he may presume too much on the long-suffering of an indignant and outraged community.
