WE have received, in common, we presume, with thousands of other journals, a copy of the Evening Telegraph, published at Buffalo, the home of the Democratic candidate for President, Grover Cleveland, which contains all the charges made against the moral character of the bourbon candidate, with editorial comment. In Connecticut, where, it appears, the sale of liquors is not always conducted according to the laws of man, the arrest of a party for selling without license produced a novel defense. The party charged was the keeper of a boarding house. He supplied beer and whisky to his regular boarders without indulging in the expensive luxury of a license, which costs in the Nutmeg state anywhere from $50 to $500 per year. His defense was that beer and whisky were a part of the "regular fare," and for that reason he believed himself not amendable to the law governing the sale in convention at Oxford, Furnas county, of liquor. This defense astonished the judge for a time, and he reserved his decision until the next day, when he imposed a fine of $30 and costs. The boarders in that hotel will hereafter find that "regular fare" does not include liquid stimulants.—Republican.

Col. E. P. Savage, superintendent of the agricultural college farm at Lincoln, has agreed, with the assistance of the stockmen throughout the state, to gather and compile the stock statistics of the state for publication in the catalogue to be issued by this state at the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial. This being a matter of interest to the whole country it is earnestly requested that every ranchman or stock breeder residing in the state, owning stock within or without this state, send to him his postoffice address, number and kind of stock particularly all thoroughbred or registered, number of fat stock for sale this year, number of acres used for range, where located, what kind of grass. Also any other item that will tend to give our stock interest a "good send off." These are statistics DELEGATES from Red Willow county that can be had only thus personally, and it is really hoped the above assist ance will be rendered him, and if it is,

> A NOTICEABLE feature of the campaign within the last ten days has been its entire relief from the democratic charge that the Germans as a body are leaving the republican ranks. This charge has been proved a fictitious one early in the fight. It has run its course, and a view of the entire field will show that the German element is just about where it always has been politically. There may have been a few who have been lured away by a foolish cry, but the great mass of German voters are too intelligent to be drawn away from their former political affiliations without sufficient reason. The same sentiments which have induced so many of our Irish citizens to look to the republican party for protection have helped to retain the Germans in the rank. They believe in the ability of the republican party to proteet American citizens abroad, they believe in the republican theory of protection to home industries as against the the ruinous democratic free-trade theory, and more than all they believe that the prosperity and enormous growth of all industries for the past twenty-five years are good enough reasons why the republican party should be retained in power. -Republican.

THE railroad system of this country is not alone in finding the past year one of diminishing traffic and profits. English, French, and German railroads show for the opening months of 1884 decrasing traffic on enlarged mileage, and in the case of Australia this amounts to nearly 4 per cent. The only railroads making more money this year than last are in South America, and even there signs appear that the period of expansion is about over—Ree.

Thus far Payne has accomplished nothing beneficial to any one save himself and a few of his right hand men, while he has inflicted loss of money and considerable suffering on the many who were deluded into following him. A more intimate knowledge of Payne's character has revealed the fact that he is far from being what has generally been supposed. For a week previous to his arrest he was in a state of debauch, unable to take care of himself or guide his followers. Any further attempt on the part of the boomers to invade the Indian lands should be peremptorily dealt with. If they are desirous of forming a colony there is room enough upon which they will be permitted to settle without official or any other kind of obstruction.

ACCORDING to the latest advices that have reached the national republican committee from all parts of the state the outlook in New York is decidedly encouraging. In the rural districts the republicans are enthusiastic for Blaine, and are receiving large reinforcements from the intelligent Democrats. In the cities Blaine is the favorite candidate of the democratic workingmen and antimonopolists, and several hundred Blaine and Logan clubs, whose membership consists of men who have hitherto voted the democratic ticket, have been voted throughout the state. In Utica, Buffalo, Troy, Syracuse, Albany, Ogdensburg and Rochester, Blaine will receive several thousand democratic votes.

THE New York Tribune is reproducing some of the Harper's Weekly pic tures, cartooning Mr. Lincoln about the time he went on to Washington to take his office, and in the early days of the rebellion. The pictures lack the artistic finish of Nast, but the cussedness of them has never been excelled in the history of the paper. They present the quintessence of the copperhead hate that welled up against honest old Abe from the time that his election was announced to the close of his career by the bullet of Booth. Since then, however, pictures of this kind would not help sell Harper's much. - Journal.
