LUDICROUS BLUNDERS

Committed by Newspaper Reporters Not Quite Up to the Tricks of the Trade.

Detroit Free Press.

Competition among newspaper reporters sometimes leads them into ways that are dark and tricks that are vain...

"Among his friends and dupes he acquired by persistent hypocrisy a reputation for sanctity, which, by means of a doleful whine and obtrusive cant, he maintained to his very last breath..."

In another case a reporter who was on trial was told to "write up Sheridan"—Gen. Phil Sheridan—who was expected in town the next morning...

An overworked reporter was on his way to a long distance office when he met an acquaintance whom he asked about the fire...

A reporter was sent to ascertain the truth of a rumor that a well known citizen had gone insane...

A reporter was sent to attend the funeral of a prominent gentleman. He arrived at the house, but finding no signs of the event...
