THE Washington monument, which was begun thirty six years ago, has at last been completed. The United States can now boast of the highest monument in the world, and the national flag floats proudly in the breeze six hundred feet from the ground, the highest point ever reached by any flagstaff. The monument is 550 feet high and the flagstaff is fifty feet.

THE Little Rock train-robbers, if convicted, stand a good show of being launched into eternity, as under the laws of Arkansas train robbery is a capital offense. In this case the train was thrown from the track by a misplaced switch, thereby endangering the lives of the passengers. This species of crime deserves death, and the Arkansas law is one that ought to be adopted by every state in the union.

THERE is much pardonable pride county, and even far out into Chase. exhibited by the democrats in the big majority of 134,000 they got in Texas. It was never surpassed but once in our history, when Pennsylvania gave Grant 135,000 in 1872. There is only one other state that could beat Texas, but it is not in the union and has no vote. It has a reliable democratic majority, but it has no vote. It is faequently mentioned by Godless people in connection with Texas .- Journal.

JUST what disposition was made by the people of Nebraska of the two amendments to our constitution, voted on at the last election, does not seem to be known. The respective amendments received the following votes : For the legislative amendment, which increases pay of our representatives to $5 per day, 51,959. Against legislative amendment, 22,223. For executive amendment, relating to the formation of a railroad commission, 17,766. Against excutive amendmont, 44,651. The legislative amendment, it will be observed, is adopted by 29,736 majority. THE reported sextuple murder in Townley. Custer county proves to be all a hoax. This hoax illustrates anew the fact that there are only a chosen few who have been gifted with the talent to discriminate between a vulgar and an artistic lic. A lie so improbable that nobody will be betrayed into believing it and a lie that involves no improbability, are equally without merit. A good lie is one which presents an absurd impossibility so plausibly that people are betrayed into believ ing it, when a careful examination would be sufficient to cause its rejection as absurd. Any other kind is spurious and does not show the touch of genius. THE reduction of letter postage to night. He still has some than two millions. The deficiency to sell. His prices are reasonable. will entirely disappear next year. The correspondence between four or five hundred thousand democrats and their friends, with the administration and its backers, a literature that is entirely new, most of the writers having any one will. not essayed more than a letter or two a year heretofore, will load the mails and increase the revenue of the department wonderfully. When they all get office there will be a lull, but that will be after the expiration of the next postoffice year.-Journal. Ternyson is the last.
