SENATE.

Transmington, January 17.—Frye introduced a bill for the encouragement of the American merchant marine and promote postal and commercial relations with foreign countries. The senate then proceeded to a consideration of the inter-state commerce bill. Slater's amendment prohibiting higher rates for shorter than for longer hanls was defeated

--yeas 11, navs 32. An amendment offered by Pugh was agreed to, limiting the powers of the commission to powers specifically given by the bill. He moved that the bill, by unanimous consent, be taken from the calendar, and Cullom moved to amend it by striking out all other enacting clauses and inserting the provisions of the senate bill. Pending action on this amendment the senate adjourned. HOUSE.

Townsherd offered an amendment, requesting the president to invite the co-operation of the government of American nations in securing the establishment of a commercial league by and between said nations, to be known as the "Customs Union of America."

Willis reported the river and h arbor appro priation bill. Ordered printed and recom

WASHINGTON, January 19 .- Choke introduced a bill to establish and regulate a quarantined live stock trail and regulate commerce between states as to live stock. Referred. Eulogies on Senator Anthony were pro-nounced by Senators Aldrich, Edmunds, Gar-land, Ingalls, Bayard, Pendleton, Morrill, Hoar, Hawley, Butler and Sheffield, after which the senate adjourned.

A bill was introduced by Ward and referred, amending the act to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases. This is the bill prepared by the conference of the national health Townshend introduced a resolution requesting the president to furnish the house copies of the correspondence relative to the so-called Oklahoma lands in the Indian Territory, together with information as to the present condition of the controversy growing out of the attempted occupation of such lands.

SENATE. WASHINGTON, January 20 .- Plumb offered a preamble and resolution setting forth that widely extended belief prevails that the unoc-cupled lands in the Indian teritory are subject to settlement, but the president does not concur in such opinion and considers it his duty to remove by militar; force those persons now on the lands, and in consequence there seems to be danger of a conflict, therefore, Resolved, That the president be requested to advise the senate as to the status of the lands in question, as viewed by the executive; the action taken, if any, to expel the persons seeking to settle thereon and the reason for the same, together with any other information in his possession bearing upon the existing

The inter-state commerce bill was then considered, but without definite action the senate

HOUSE.

The Indian appropriation bill was considered. Ellis explained the provisions of the bill. He suggested as a practical solution of the Indian question, the appointment of a commission to select in the northwestern country territory similar to the Indian territory, where Indians could be grouped, where industrial schools and missions could be established, and where the Indian could be taught to support him-

Ryan earnestly pressed upon the attention of the committee the importance of taking some immediate action to settle the disputed question as to whether that portion of the Indian territory known as the Oklahoma strip was open to settlement. Men had settled upon that land, claiming that it belonged to the United States.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, January 21.—The chair laid before the senate Plumb's resolution, offered yesterday, requesting the president to advise the senate as to his views on the present status of the land known as the Oklahoma

The senate took up the bill to establish a court of appeals, known as the David Davis bill, and Mr. Morgan offered an amendment, which was agreed to, securing to the defendants in criminal cases absolute right to a writ

The inter-state commerce bill was considered, during which a message was received from the house announcing the death of Hon. Jno. Hamilton Evans, late representative in congress from South Carolina. As a mark of respect the senate adjourned. HOUSE.

After the introduction of a number of bills the house went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

After concluding the consideration of twenty-one pages of the bill the committee rose and, public business having been suspended, the house proceeded to consider the senate resolutions relating to the death of Senator Anthony, of Rhode Island.

Eulogistic speeches upon the private life and public services of the deceased senator were delivered by Chace, Spooner, Keily, Pollard, Morse and Keifer, and then the house, as an additional mark of respect, adjourned.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, January 23 .- The Oklahoma resolutions of Vest and Plumb were placed before the senate.

Flumb's resolution calling on the president for his views on the present status of the Oklahoma lands was agreed to.

Vest then reoffered his resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to ascertain and report upon what terms the Creek and Seminole Indians would surrender their remaining rights to the lands in question. He requested that the resolution lie over till he made it more comprehensive. The resolution was laid over accordingly. HOUSE.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill. On mot on of Manzanares, the amendment was adopted appropriating $25,000 for the erection of an Indian industrial school at Ryan offered an amendment authorizing the president to open negotiations with the Seminoles, Creeks and Cherokees for the purpose of opening to settlement, under the homestead laws the unassigned lands in the Indian territory ced by them to the United States. [These are the Oklahoma lands.] Adopted. The committee then rose and reported the bill to the house. The previous question was ordered and the bill passed.

WASHINGTON, January 24.—The chair laid before the senate Vest's resolution to authorize the secretary of the interior to ascertain upon what terms the Creek and Seminole Indians, would surrender their interest in Oklahoma lands. Vest amended the resolution to include the Cherokees, and Plumb offered a substitute for Vest's resolution.

Vest said his resolution was intended for the good of the Indians, and any statement to the contrary could arise only from gross ignorance of the whole matter. A delegate of the Creek nation, now in Washington, had written Vest, thanking him for what he had said in the senate on the subject, and representative Creeks and Seminoles had filed in the interior department papers requesting the action suggested

After further debate the resolutions of Vest and Plumb were referred to the committee on Rurd offered a preamble and resolution reciting that bills appropriating money from the treasury, originating in the senate, are now on the speaker's table, and that it is asserted that these bills are in violation of the privileges of the house to exclusively originate such bills and directing the judiciary committee to in-juire into the power of the senate to originate such bills, appropriating revenue, and report to the house at any time. Hurd denied the power of the senate to originate bills of either character.

The resolution was tabled, 127 to 123, and a notion to reconsider was also lost.

The New York bank statement shows a re serve increase of $3,500,000. The banks now hold $51,100,000 in excess of legal require-

Chicago review: The cattle market during the past week has been slow and dragging, with the course of prices pretty steadily

The general average condition of the growing crop of winter wheat is ninety per cent. At the same date 1884 it was ninety-four per cent. The lowest average is from Tennessee. There is very little difference in the outlook in Kentucky, Kansas or Missouri. Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and southern Illinois are about the same. Wheat opened with a firmer feeling, influenced by light receipts and colder weather, the first sales of May being at 86%c, but the continued free selling by local longs carried prices pown to 86%c. Some buying on outside orders advanced the market to 86%c., closing at 86%c.

From southern Kansas comes reports that there is, as yet, from one-third to one-half of the corn crop of 1834 in the fields ungathered.

It is though that by the time the corn crop of 1885 is made, we will be about as bare of corn as we were in 1884. So far but very little corn has been cribbed, most of the corn going south. Lewiston (Me.) Journal. It is noted by many that apart from the rattle and the rumble of the blinds and chimney-pots and the whistling of the branches and the flapping of the tattered campaign flags and the swish of the flying rain against the windows all night long Sunday, an atmospheric influence seemed abroad in the air, that made folks wakeful and restless. "I will venture," said a physician, Monday morning, "that more people passed a wakeful night Sunday than at any time previous for the year." The physician ascribed the restlessness to an atmospheric or magnetic influence, and

Baltimore Sun. A lady of Centreville, Md., writes as follows to the Sun: "Let the Eastern Shore put in a word as to the manner of cooking the Christmas turkey. In the first place it should always be a gobbler for roasting. Hen turkeys are used only for boiling and in the spring -certainly not before February. The turkey should be killed and 'hung' several days before it is cooked. It should be wiped thoroughly inside and out and a filling prepared of soaked loaf bread. pepper (black), salt and butter, well mixed in a paste, or of chestnuts finely ground and mixed with sufficient egg and flour to give them substance. It should cook from four to five hours, if large, as it ought to be, and guarded against burning. The turkey should be of a bright brown color when done, and the gravy made by thickening the drippings formed while roasting. It should always be eaten with cranberry sauce or current jelly and celery. Let epicures try this method without fear of the result."
