OUR EXPOSITION LETTER.

The past month was not a financial success for the Exhibition; but with the present favorable weather the second month will prove profitable.

While a little work is still going on in some departments, "the Exposition is now complete and ready for visitors," is the universal remark.

MAINE.—J. B. Ham, commissioner, and W. F. Blanding, state commissioner, make it very pleasant for visitors to their interesting department, which is near the Government space on the northeast. Some forty-five varieties of forest timber are seen, from which many useful articles are manufactured. In ship building, Maine is ahead of any other state, models and specimens of the various kinds of boats are exhibited together with their equipments. Shingles of pine and cedar, measuring twenty inches wide, boxes for fish and canned goods, with poplar chips, which are reduced to pulp and made into paper, are here seen.
 Specimens of match wood, for which one company cut up a million feet of lumber, in this business alone, are here shown. Fruit boxes are manufactured in Maine and shipped to almost every country for fruit packing. Slate, plumbago, granite and minerals are exhibited. An attractive object is a model lime kiln of modern structure, very superior to the old style for burning limestone. Here is a very tasty display of taxidermy, of the animals and birds of this country. Probably the finest plushes for upholstering to be had anywhere are manufactured at Sanford by the Goodall Manufacturing company. Paper and cordage is a specialty in manufacturing.
 It is said Maine, which now produces three-fifths of the sardines consumed in this country, by its superior goods, has driven all foreign competition away. A ship carpenter sends a model of a full rigged ship which occupied 300 days in making; it is valued at $1,500.

IDAHO TERRITORY.—Idaho, since the early days of mining stampedes, has not enjoyed the reputation of being in a much better condition than the state of Nevada, which has gradually decreased in population since its admission as a state. But a small space was assigned the commissioner, Col. G. A. Stroupe, to represent the territory, but he has, in the most happy manner possible, filled it with glittering specimens from a hundred rich mines, with grains of unexcelled beauty, with curious marvels and a wealth of furs, paintings of its grand scenery, and splendid specimens of fruit.

Among his specimens of minerals particularly noted for beauty and excellence, are quartz from the Wood River and Salmon River district, placer and quartz specimens from the Couerd-Alene camp which last year caused the greatest stampede in the late record of mining excitements.
 The commissioner says his Territory has been but slightly prospected, and he doubts not if an exposition is held in the next ten years he will be able to represent the richest mines of America with Idaho quartz.

WISCONSIN.—It is well known that this state makes a specialty of cheese and butter, and claims to show the largest and finest variety at the Exposition. While only a few samples are within the space in the Main building, three towers made of cheeses are prominently exhibited, one composed of orange shaped and pine apple is a beauty. Sheboygan county was in the lead.

Egerton is said to be one of the large-est markets for the sale of leaf tobacco in the United States. Wisconsin took the premium on one hundred vareties of apples against seven competitors. In honey no state can ex-cell this in quality, while it is a general industry by many and engaged in by nearly every farmer. Wheat, oats, corn, hay, vegetables and garden seeds, are displayed in glass cases.
 Thirty new varieties of corn in ears and shelled are displayed. Beaver Dam sends a fine lot of leathers, manufactured cloths and cassimers, which compare favorably with eastern factories. Printing and stationery is well represented. Woman's work is artistic and beautiful, and occupies a prominent place in the state department. Miss Bodker, of Beloit, has in this display one of the finest displays of needle work enclosed in a gilt frame ever exhibited, and can only be seen to be appreciated. Hundreds of people are collected around it daily. Mrs. Ely, the artist, has specimens of work showing sketches of scenery and houses in Florida, notably the winter residence of Mrs.
 Alexander Mitchell, wife of the great railroad millionaire of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul systems. Mil-
