THE President has made the following appointment: Minister to Germany, Ex-Senator Pendleton of Ohio. E. J. Phelps of Vermont. Minister to the Court of St. James. Governor McLane in France. Henry R. Jackson of Georgia, Minister to Mexico.

THE Ord Quiz has it that, "There is a day of reckoning. The grand jury meets soon." It seems as though some parties in this neck o' woods were of a like opinion-or had an inkling to that the heart sick." And when the long uplifted sword of justice falls, somebody usually is slightly indisposed.

THE democratic state committee having failed to agree to make itself the disburser of the federal patronage of the state it is understood that the democratic members of the legislature will try their hand at the tiller in a few their assembly at Lincoln, to take the remnants of the party and get the dishes in condition to hold government pap.-State Journal.

THEY do produce something else in New Jersey than "Jersey lightning." We have before us a paper sent by Mr. Clothier, who spent some time in Mc-Cook, last summer, which gives an ac count of a pork crop recently harvested killed, weighing 17,500 lbs., averaging almost 875 pounds. And 20 others aggregated 17,000, averaging, 850 pounds. The heaviest porker, weighed 1,079, the lightest, 744. Jersey is a small state, but she raises large porkers.

THE supreme court of Iowa has declared the prohibitory law passed by the legislature constitutional in every part, and now the temperance men are going to work in earnest to enforce it. THE party ascended the steps, making as little noise as possible, and Col. Grant opened the door with a latch key. The meeting between Mrs. Sartoris and her father was very pathetic. The general, who was buoyant with hope and full of apparent good health when Nellie parted with him a brief year ago, now looked pale, emaciated. His hair and beard were whitened by suffering and worry, and the contrast was so marked as to startle his little girl who had braved the tempestuous ocean voyage to see her father before he died. Hayes County Items. An Eclipse swept our county on the 6th. No damage done. Numerous houses have sprung up on every hand, as if by magic.

Wray & Baum contemplate sowing about 200 acres to sorghum.

The sod is being rapidly turned over. A large crop will be put out this season Hayes Centre is beginning to boom. Several buildings are under process of completion. J. Kilpatrick, purchaser of the Webster brand of cattle and horses, will break about 150 acres and sow to sorghum.

Some settler has dropped down upon the earth about four miles from our office, and ever and anon a ripple of sweet, girlish laughter is borne to us upon the evening breeze; we tremble, and wot not wot to do.

My, goodness! Did you see that man that just passed us? See how he keeps glancing about in such a wild, savage manner. O! I hope, James, you'll, not remain out late, to-night. Him? Why he's not dangerous. That's our new editor, looking for items.

NEIGHBORING NOTES.

Last week three hundred and fifty-four town lots were sold to the Lincoln Town Company. Two hundred and forty of these lots are situated on original townsite and one hundred and fourteen in Rodehaver's addition. The company also bought the north half of Isaac Cole's quarter joining town on the west, twenty-five acres of F. H. Smith and the undivided twothirds of the wif of the nelf section 1, town 3, range 20, being the property of J. B. Hitchcock. The sales aggregate in the neighborhood of $20,000. We understand negotiations are pending for the purchase of more property in close proximity to tewn .- Oberlin Herald.

J. C. Arbuckle is rustling for Atwood every day. Mr. Colfer, agent of the Lincoln Town Company at McCook and local attorney for the B. & M. R. R. at that point, accompanied Mr. Arbuckle on a recent trip. Mr. Colfer is a pleasant gentleman with a vast fund of information regarding many things. We are under obligations to him for a very agreeable call. He spoke in the highest terms of Atwood as a site for a town.-Atwood Citizen.

MISS CLEVELAND, Grover's sister, has a lecture that recent events seems to endorse in a very emphatic way. She doesn't believe in self-made people, but divides mankind into two classes, one a very large class she calls "boosters," and another very small class, to which the Cleveland family evidently belongs, which she calls the "boosted." There is a good deal of insight into human nature displayed in the synopsis of Miss Cleveland's lecture, as published in yesterday's Journal. The boosted men are on top of the self-made men at present, anyhow .- State Journal.

MISSOURI hasn't'any cabinet appointments or foreign ministers or anything very great at present outside of Col. Frank James, but she has signalized herself by sending up to the next congress a man seven feet high. He will be very useful in the national capital for a fire escape and the municipality should get him to join a hook and ladder company immediately upon his arrival.-Journal.
