THE senate has confirmed Henry L. Mulrow, assistant secretary of the interior.

WILLIAM A. J. SPARKS has been confirmed commissioner of the general land office.

"SUNSET" COX of New York goes to Turkey as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary.

THE Courier will be enlarged to a 7-column quarto, next week. This has the appearance of what the Omaha Bee describes as running a 7-column paper in a 5-column town, but then Indianola supports her local paper more than usually well for the size of the town. Though with two papers, the picking will be light of necessity.

GENERAL GRAHAM'S recent battle with Osman Digna in Soudan was a most desperate encounter. The Arabs, as usual, fought with the most determined and fanatical bravery, penetrating the English squares time and again. The Conservative wing of the nation, consider the battle practically an English defeat, and demand Graham's recall.

WHILE the people with bowed heads await the bulletins announcing the sad particulars of the last hours of the man who closed the war and restored an undivided country to allegiance to the stars and stripes, they doubtless feel resigned to the prospect of a speedy termination of the sufferings of the old hero. The hardest thing to bear has been the anticipation of months of pain and bootless torture.—State Journal.

THE Wilmington Star says: "Gen. Wolsely, who is now attracting much attention in Egypt, where he is superintending operations against the Mahdi, passed several days in Washington during the latter part of the war. He came here from Richmond, having spent some time in visiting General Lee and inspecting the army of Northern Virginia. He was accompanied by Mr. James Colony, a member of parliament, and another gentleman. He went from here toward Charleston."

FRANCE has been enjoying to the top of her bent the rough handling that England is receiving in the Soudan but since the licking she recently got in China at the place called "Dong Dang" she will feel more charitably inclined. The Celestials and the Arabs have spunked up to the Franks and Saxons and are making a fight that astonishes Europe and may serve as a warning that when the modern methods and arms of war has been mastered by their cousins in Asia and Africa, one soldier may be pretty nearly as good as another, and the robbery of the east by the west will have to come to an end.—Journal.

FERRY and his ministry went out like a flash on Monday. The chamber, however, hadn't the sense to follow up the resignation of the ministry with a resolution for the immediate discontinuance of the foolish war against China. On the contrary, they played squarely into the hands of Herr von Bismarck, by voting for a declaration of war, an additional army of 50,000 men and an immediate attack upon Peking. They are simply laying up wrath and hamstringing France so far as her political influence in European affairs is concerned. They had much better save their money and men for some more useful purpose than the invasion of China.—Journal.

THE State Journal contains the following squib, showing the wonderful effects of the recently discovered anesthetic, cocaine:

A surgeon in New York has performed an operation within the last few days that brings out in bold relief the value of the new anesthetic, cocaine. A young lady had a club foot to be operated upon, and it was necessary in order to straighten it to make several deep longitudinal incisions in the sole where the nerves are in the greatest abundance. The doctor merely made a hypodermic injection of the cocaine in the foot and then proceeded to carve it without the least inconvenience to the patient. She smiled under the operation and said that it was like seeing some other person's foot cut. This experiment demonstrates that the new anesthetic is one of the great medical discoveries of the age, and will probably at no distant day take the place of chloroform and ether in the most surgical operations.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

One of the peculiar characteristics of our new President finds opportunity for display every day in the week, and about every hour in the day. This is to find out what people naturally expect the administration is going to do, and then do as nearly the opposite of that expectation as possible. It has been known here for a good while that the President and his family were inclined to a belief in that good old Presbyterian doctrine that embraced infant damnation, and which was such a comfort to the old lady who congratulated herself upon the mighty small number that would comprise the elect. The New York Ave. Presbyterian church, being the most fashionable of those governed by deacons, naturally expected that the President would choose that house as the one best suited to administer his Sunday's spiritual food, and so the church on each Sunday since the inauguration has been crowded as it never was crowded before, by an expectant throng anxious to see Grover under fire of a Washington preacher charged with a brimstone sermon. The President, however, disappointed everybody, not only by not going to church at all, but by sending his family household to Dr. Sunderland's church, which for some time has been steadily declining toward final dissolution. Of course the presence of the Presidential family here will revive matters there materially, just as the Christian Church was put upon its legs by the accession of Mr. Garfield four years ago.

The nomination and immediate and unanimous confirmation of Mr. George H. Pendleton as Minister to Germany, is the administering of a most grateful and soothing balm for the soreness that Gentleman George experienced in his late defeat for the Senate by the Standard Oil Company. As the successor to Mr. Kasson it is hard to say from this standpoint whether Mr. Pendleton will please that large portion of the American people who have no love for any sort of aristocracy, and who will expect him to keep aloof from the Berlin courtiers. I believe, however, that I may hazard the opinion that Minister Pendleton will acquit himself to the satisfaction of Mr. Bayard, and that is more than can be said of some of his predecessors.

In the general cleaning out of the official rubbish that has gathered in the several departments of the Government, we are felicitated upon the abolition of the laudalette and coupe attachments, without which it seemed impossible for past administrations to get along. Mr. Lamar, in the Interior Department, and Mr. Garland, in the Department of Justice, have ordered the horses and equipages attached to those branches to be sold to the highest bidder, and the official who cannot ride in a street car to attend to his duties or to make social calls, can pay for his own livery or go on foot. This is evidently an administration that proposes to ignore coats-of-arms and the other insignia of adorned snobbery. DOM PEDRO.

School Laws.

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, LINCOLN, NEB., March 9th, 1885. To School Officers and Superintendents: The changes made in the school law by the legislature were not many, but some of them were very important. The most important changes are given below. You will please read it carefully. You will see that the business of the annual meeting is not changed, but the officers elected at this meeting do not take possession of their office until the SECOND MONDAY IN JULY, and the present officers continue to exercise the office until that time.

The census report of the district is made immediately after the annual meeting as it has been heretofore, but the financial report will not be made until July. Make the census report on the blank you now have for that purpose. A new blank will be sent you for your financial report. These are the most important changes. Respectfully yours, W. W. W. JONES, Supt. Public Instruction.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Hayes County News.

Store opened out at Estell. Livery stable at Hayes Centre. Water at Hayes Centre at a depth of 165 feet.

Will vote upon the location of County-seat, April 10th, 1885.

Water works going up at Hayes Centre. Saloon in full blast.

Hayes Centre one vote and the drop of an eye-lid ahead at last cable.

40 voters from Illinois moved onto their claims near Estell, are putting up some comfortable residences.

Work begun upon the Ogalala, Hayes Centre and McCook short line. Daily Stage running the entire distance.

Cross-eyed men, with coats ripped up the back, buttons all off the same, are common on the division ridge between the rival towns.

Work upon the Estell Grist Mill, begun. Fall of water 17½ feet. Two Lime Kilns burning. Workmen quarrying out building rock.

The County Clerk has returned from Stockville, where he has been for some time making a transcript of the record of Hayes and Chase counties.

Mrs. Miller, sister of the Bailey Bros., has returned to take up her residence among us for the summer. She speaks of a very severe winter throughout the Black Hill region.

John Hughes' lower ranch had a narrow call from a prairie fire on the 26th. Flames leaped the fire guard, ignited the loose hay in his corral, and but for the assistance of a neighbor, all his buildings must have burned to the ground.

One fire after another has visited our county, until but a small portion was left, that afforded grazing. A narrow strip along the Blackwood had been saved by the constant watchfulness of the settlers. But yesterday some individual whose skull is of the crustaceous order—too frail to receive much less retain an impression—applied the match and finished the work.

Beaver News.

Our singing school is still going on and some advancement is noticeable.

Crop time has again greeted the Beaver Valley, and the people and business men within its borders are lively.

We are to have a general store here in the near future. A Mr. Stockton will begin the erection of his building, the forepart of next week.

We need a good blacksmith, and a good man might do well here. Let some one look up the matter with a view of locating in our midst.

Elder Mason preached to a goodly number of people, last Sunday. Rev. Meecham again disappointed quite an assembly, who had met to hear him preach in the evening of Sabbath.

Hamburg, March 27th. BEAVER.

Birthday Celebration.

Last Friday evening, March 27th, the patrons of school district No. 41 on the north divide, celebrated the 52d birthday of William Johnson at his residence 6 miles north of McCook. The evening's program embraced recitations, declamations, dialogues, curtain lectures and singing, which was supplemented in a most acceptable manner by popcorn balls and cake, terminating in an old-fashioned "candy pull." The evening was one full of joy, and will long remain a beautiful picture in the hall of memory of those who participated. March 27, 1885. FRIEND.
