

20,690,506 BOTTLES OF WARNER'S "SAFE" CURE

Or, Warner's SAFE Kidney and Liver Cure (its former title), SOLD TO FEBRUARY 1st, 1885!

The highest Medical Authorities pronounce it the only known Specific for Kidney, Liver and Urinary diseases; that it has no equal as a BLOOD PURIFIER, and that it is the best safeguard against contagious diseases, both acute and chronic, keeping the Kidneys and Liver—the great organs of the body—in healthy condition, disease then being impossible.

We can furnish over One Hundred Thousand voluntary Testimonials similar to the following.

Read them for the good of yourself, your family and your friends.

Note the following, showing how this vast number of bottles was distributed, as evidenced by our sales-books.

B. F. LARRABEE, Esq., 49 Chester Square, Boston, Mass., in 1879, was given up by several prominent Boston Physicians as incurable from Bright's Disease. He took over 200 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, in 1880-2, and Oct. 6, 1884, wrote that the "cure was as permanent as surprising."

Providence, - - - 128,947.

G. W. FULTON, Esq., Fulton, Texas, suffered for ten years from serious bladder disorders and lost from 25 to 30 pounds; in 1881 he used 14 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and recovered his natural weight and said, "I consider myself well for a man of 75." December 20th, 1884, he wrote, "I have had no symptoms of kidney disorder since 1887, and if I did I should rely upon SAFE Cure."

Portland, Me., - - - 330,829.

EX-GOV. R. T. JACOB, Westport, Ky., in 1882, during a political canvass, health gave way and was prostrated with severe kidney trouble. Lost 40 pounds of flesh. Used Warner's SAFE Cure in 1882, and June 23, 1884, writes, "I have never enjoyed better health,—all owing to Warner's SAFE Cure."

Bal. of N. Eng., - - - 331,315.

HON. N. A. PLYMPTON (Hon. B. F. Butler's campaign manager), of Worcester, Mass., in May, 1880, was prostrated by kidney colic, caused by the passage of gravel from the kidneys to the bladder. He then began using Warner's SAFE Cure and in a short time passed a large stone and a number of smaller ones. Dec. 10th, 1884, Mr. Plympton wrote, "I have had no recurrence of my old trouble since Warner's SAFE Cure cured me."

New York State, - - - 3,053,080.

MRS. J. B. DESMOULIN, 2417 Morgan street, St. Louis, Mo., in 1882, wrote, "I have been in delicate health for many years; but Warner's SAFE Cure made me the picture of health." June 23rd, 1884, she wrote, "My health has been good for the last two years."

Cleveland, - - - 511,974.

JOSEPH JACQUES, Esq., St. Albans, Vt., in January 1877 was taken desperately sick with Bright's Disease of the kidneys. He spat blood, was tremendously bloated and seemed to be beyond the power of the best physicians. He then took 60 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, which restored him to health. January 1st, 1885, eight years afterwards, he wrote: "I never enjoyed better health in my life than I do now, and I owe it all to Warner's SAFE Cure. I consider myself cured of Bright's Disease."

Cincinnati, - - - 655,250.

B. J. WORRELL, of Ellaville, Fla., in 1879, was prostrated with Bright's Disease of the kidneys, and under the best treatment, grew worse. "On the advice of Governor Drew's sister, I began Warner's SAFE Cure, sixty bottles of which restored me to full measure of health. I have now been cured about four years, and my case is regarded as miraculous." Governor Drew of Jacksonville, Florida, April 20th, 1884, says "Mr. Worrell's case and cure give me great confidence in Warner's SAFE Cure, and I unhesitatingly endorse it."

Bal. Ohio, (State,) - - - 474,869.

Mrs. S. A. CLARK, East Granby, Conn., in 1881 was utterly used up by constitutional and female complaints of the worst kind. Been sick ten years, and tried everything. In November, 1884, she wrote, "Warner's SAFE Cure cured me four years ago, and has kept me well."

Southern States, - - - 2,725,513.

ROBERT GRAHAM, 77 Penn street, Brooklyn, N. Y., suffered for six years from inflammation of the bladder and stricture. Six physicians, specialists, gave him up to die. In 1883, he began Warner's SAFE Cure and its continued use, he says, effected a complete cure. Under date June 25, 1884, he says, "My health continues good; I have used no medicine since April 30, 1883."

Canada, - - - 1,175,868.

All the Testimonials above given are from persons who were PERMANENTLY CURED several years ago and remain so.

CHAS. E. STEPHENS, of Louisville, Ky., Nov. 15, 1882, wrote, "When my daughter was ten years of age she was seriously attacked by extreme kidney disorder. She recovered temporarily, but a year ago was again prostrated. She was swollen to twice her natural size, had frequent headaches, nausea, and other distressing symptoms of the disorder. All her Louisville physicians agreed that she could not recover. Her case and treatment was telegraphed to a New York specialist, who said recovery was impossible. Last August we began to treat her ourselves, and now, wholly through the influence of Warner's SAFE Cure, she is apparently as well as ever." November, 1884, he says, "My daughter is apparently in perfect health."

Detroit, - - - 635,210.

THE REV. ANDREW J. GRAHAM, (P. E.), Grand Island, Neb., in 1882 was pronounced fatally sick with Bright's Disease. His condition he says was desperate and he could get no relief from physicians. He then followed Warner's SAFE Cure treatment, and July 7, 1884, he wrote, "All local trouble has disappeared. Have taken no medicine for nearly a year."

Milwaukee, - - - 344,171.

S. F. HESS, Rochester, N. Y., the well known tobacco manufacturer, three years ago took twenty-five bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure for liver disorder, and August 20th, 1884, he reported, "I consider myself fully cured, and the credit is wholly due to Warner's SAFE Cure."

Minnesota, - - - 486,013.

G. W. HAMILTON, Milton, Santa Rosa Co., Florida, December 15th, 1884, wrote that "four years ago my wife was suffering with liver complaint which reduced her to a skeleton. The doctors finally pronounced her case Bright's Disease of the kidneys, and incurable. She then took 13 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and has been in perfect health ever since. She now weighs 180 pounds where formerly she was a skeleton. Warner's SAFE Cure will make a permanent cure always if taken by directions."

REV. JAMES ERWIN, Methodist minister, West Eaton, N. Y., was long and seriously ill with inflammation of the prostate gland, (a very obstinate disorder). In 1882, he began the use of Warner's SAFE Cure, and June 25th, 1884, wrote, "The relief obtained two years ago proved permanent; physicians express great surprise."

Kansas City, - - - 538,395.

S. A. JOHNSTON, Lockington, Ohio, Sept. 20, 1881, stated that for thirty years he had suffered tortures with dyspepsia, but he was entirely cured by the use of Warner's SAFE Cure. Dec. 8th, 1884, he says: "I took 20 or 25 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and it has never failed to stop any symptoms of my old complaint if they appeared; my health is good."

Bal. S. W. States, - - - 635,092.

N. B. SMILEY, Esq., of Bradford, Pa., in 1882, was very seriously sick of extreme kidney disorder and rheumatism, which gradually grew worse. Physicians being unable to assist him, his last resort was Warner's SAFE Cure, and June 25th, 1884, he wrote, "My health is better than for two years past, and in some respects is better than it has been for five years. When I catch cold and have any slight kidney trouble, I resume the medicine again and the relief I believe is permanent."

San Francisco, - - - 932,210.

JAMES M. DAVIS, 330 South Pearl street, Albany, N. Y., superintendent of Jagger Iron Co., in 1881 suffered from very serious kidney trouble; he weighed but 160 pounds; he used 18 bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure, and December 8th, 1884, he wrote, "That was fully three years ago. I have had no trouble since, and I feel first class and weigh 178 pounds. I would not go back to that time of four years ago for all the dollars in the United States."

Oyster Eaters.

The month of March is here, a month in which the oyster, in this latitude, is supposed to don its most appetizing qualities and tempt the epicure to even more than his ordinary indulgence. Exactly how many of them it is possible for him to swallow at a sitting we won't pretend to say. Capacities vary in different individuals, and as the epicure is, of course, an individual, no definite number can be fixed upon as his rule. Speaking of capacity in the oyster line, the following story will bear repeating.

Not a great many years ago a somewhat celebrated European prima donna visited this country and, with her maid, took up her quarters at one of the fashionable hotels of New York. Hearing the American oysters praised so highly, she determined, on her return to the hotel after one of her operatic performances, to give them a trial. Ringing for the waiter, she gave her order.

"Bring oysters for one."

"How many will you have, Madame?" asked the waiter.

"How many? Well, I am very hungry and might possibly get through with a thousand, but a hundred will answer my present purposes. You may bring me a hundred to commence with." And taking up a newspaper she commenced scanning its contents, first giving a passing glance at the surprised expression that crossed the man's face as he left the room. After a delay which, to the hungry prima donna, seemed needlessly long, a knock came at the door. "Come in," and half a dozen waiters entered, in single file, each bearing a tray half-filled with plates containing saddle-rocks on the half-shell, quarters of lemons, crackers, etc. The secret of the servant's surprised look as he left the room after receiving the order was now plain to the lady. Her ignorance of the dimensions of the American oyster had been the cause of her perpetrating a practical joke at her own expense—a joke which she was now rather anxious to keep to herself. Quietly dismissing the servants with "Yes, those will do; you may go," she commenced and ended her feast, wondering how she was to dispose of the dozens of great oysters that still lay on their shells untouched. A moment of doubt, and she raised the window; then taking up the oysters one by one with her fork, she scattered them out through the window in all directions, continuing the operation until the hundred shells lay empty upon the plates. Then ringing the bell for the servants, she sat down at the table and picked up her paper. The look of astonishment upon the faces of the servants when they entered and saw the empty shells fully compensated the lady for the mistake she had made in her estimate of the American oyster.

"Take away these shells and bring me another hundred—stay, to-morrow will do," and the astonished waiters filled out of the room with their load of shells and a high opinion of the prima donna's capacity for oysters. Princes, poets, pontiffs, orators, statesmen, and wits have gluttonized over the oyster-beds. Oysters were at one time, it is true, in danger of being forgotten. From the fourth century to the fifteenth they were not much in use; but from that date to the present time the demand has never slackened. Going back to the times which we now regard as classic, we are told that we owe the original idea of pisciculture to a certain Sergius Orata, who invented an oyster-pond in which to breed oysters, not for his own table but for profit.

Vitellius ate oysters all day long, and some people insinuate that he could eat as many as a thousand at one sitting—a happiness too great for belief. Callisthenes, the philosopher of Olynthus, was also a passionate oyster-eater, and so was Caligula, the Roman tyrant. The wise Seneca dined over his few hundreds every week, and the great Cicero fed his eloquence with the dainty. The Latin poets sang the praises of the oyster, and the fast men of ancient Rome enjoyed the poetry during their carouse, just as modern fellows, not at all classic, enjoy a song over their oysters in the parlor of a London or provincial tavern.

In all countries there are records of the excessive fondness of great men for oysters. Cervantes was an oyster-lover and he satirized the oyster-dealers of Spain. Louis IX., careful lest scholarship should become deficient in France, feasted the learned doctors of the Sorbonne once a year on oysters; and another Louis invested his cook with an order of nobility as a reward for his oyster-cookery. Napoleon, also, was an oyster-lover; so was Rousseau, and Marshal Turgot used to eat a hundred or two just to what his appetite for breakfast. Invitations to a dish of oysters were common in the literary and artistic circles of Paris at the latter end of the last century. The encyclopedists were particularly fond of oysters. Helvetius, Diderot, and the Abbe Raynal, Voltaire, and others were confirmed oyster-men.

Among British celebrities, Alexander Pope was an oyster-eater of taste, and so was Dean Swift. Thompson, of "The Seasons," who knew all good things, knew how good a thing an oyster was.—The Caterer.

Peculiarly French.

The same features are always found at French balls year after year, youthful, bright-eyed, red-cheeked and agile women. I have observed that these young creatures, who had certainly passed 30 years when I first saw them or twelve years ago, are invariably accompanied by callow and blonde young men. I will add very young men. Each year they come to the masquerades leaning affectionately on the arm of a crushed and joyless sapling, and the sapling invariably thinks he has the finest thing at the ball. There are, perhaps, five hundred or eight hundred of these narrow-chested, rather delicate-featured, light-haired and rather well-dressed young men at every French ball, and they have more real vivacity and life, grow more excited over pretty things, and dance with more enthusiasm than anyone else at the ball.—New York Cor. San Francisco Argonaut.

The Two Deacons.

"This is a sad, sad world," murmured Deacon Goodman, as he mechanically unlocked the door of a corner cabinet. "Indeed it is, indeed it is," assented Deacon Betterman, sympathetically. "No joy is unalloyed." "True, very true," answered Deacon Goodman, as he put some sugar in two glasses and added some liquid from a black bottle. "You like yours this way, I suppose, brother?" "Yes, yes," was the sad reply. "We all have to take the bitter with the sweet."—Philadelphia Call.

A Boston Woman's Victory.

A Boston woman led in the low-cut corsage, and could the Puritan matrons have anticipated a descendant shocking the wicked society of the captain in this way, they would never have crossed the briny for liberty and conscience sake. But it is true, and it is a good deal to assert; for women here have not been prudish about low-neck dresses. In fact, while trains are often under the feet of guests, they sometimes look about for the waists, which are scarcely visible at all, to such an extreme has the low corsage been carried this season. But on that occasion everybody admitted that Boston had outdone the national capital.—Boston Letter.

Purify Your Blood

Your blood may be laden with impurities, but Hood's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly cleanse, enrich, and vitalize it. The most severe cases of scrofula, salt rheum, boils, pimples—in fact all affections arising from impure blood—yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. It also cures dyspepsia, biliousness, stark headache, kidney and liver complaints, stumps the appetite, and builds up the whole system.

"For over a year I had two running sores on my neck. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and an entirely cured." C. E. LOVBOY, Lowell, Mass.

Tone Up the System

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla for a spring medicine, and I find it just the thing for me. It tones up my system and makes me feel like a different man. My wife takes it for dyspepsia, and she derives a great amount of benefit from it. She says it is the best medicine she ever took." FRANK C. TURNER, Hook and Ladder No. 1, Friend street, Boston, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of blood-poison." W. H. BARR, Steubenville, Ohio.

"With pleasure that I tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. Two years ago I was suffering from scrofula. Great scrofulous sores and abscesses kept coming in my head. My nose was almost eaten out inside. I had tried nearly everything, and had given up all hope, when some one spoke to me about Hood's Sarsaparilla. I tried it, and at once began to feel better, and when I had taken four bottles I was as well as ever I had been. The sores are now all healed, and I am a well man." CLARENCE JOHNSON, Erie, Penn.

Biliousness Cured

"During the spring and summer I was troubled with biliousness and loss of appetite. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I did so with the best results. I have recommended it to a great many of my customers, to whom it has given entire satisfaction." E. R. NOWLAND, Druggist, Indianapolis, Ind.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for biliousness; think it a great remedy for that complaint." J. W. ANNOTT, Manchester, N. H.

Dyspepsia

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia for many years, so that at times I would despair of ever being well. Medicine did not seem to do me any good. Two years ago Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended by a friend, and I got a bottle and used it. It did me so much good that I have taken several bottles, which I can truly say have cured me. I consider myself entirely well. I cannot find words strong enough to express satisfactorily to myself my feeling in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. S. M. BEXER, Marblehead, Mass.
