The untimely fire which broke out in this city, next Saturday, for the purpose of organizing the democracy of Red Willow county. The prospects are that with the coming county campaign party lines will be drawn more closely.

Elsewhere we give the official census of this county by precincts. The population as given of this city will be an unpleasant surprise to our people, who almost universally and most confidently thought that the population of McCook would reach fully 1,500 souls.

The Methodist church was not dedicated Sunday morning as announced, on account of failure to liquidate the present indebtedness against the church. Dr. Lemon addressed the audience assembled in his usual pathetic, yet strong and stirring manner, which has won for him a place in the hearts of the people of this city.

The Citizens band expects to start for the Beatrice re-union on No. 2, Tuesday morning. The band has been recruited to eighteen members, and with the practice they have engaged in lately, we expect the boys to do McCook proud. The Juvenile band will also go down the first of the week. So that McCook will be well represented in the musical line.

The bottom dropped completely out of the Chicago stock market, last week. The receipts aggregated 50,000 head, 12,500 of that number arriving in one day, the heaviest shipment in the history of that great market. Shippers in this part of the state are instructing their outfits to turn loose for the present the stock that they have been rounding up for the market.

An aged lady, with a worthless, drunken thing of a son, enlisted great sympathy among the boys at the depot, Tuesday evening, by showing marks of his brutality and proclaiming that he spent all his earnings in riotous living—and failed to support her. The prodigal wretch narrowly escaped a meated thumping at the hands of some of the railroad boys who were standing around on the platform.

A movement is on foot amongst the business men of West Dennison street to raise means to purchase some hose and put in a fire plug at the most practicable place in that locality. The project is a most laudable and sensible one, and will doubtless, as it should, meet with the hearty co-operation of every business man in that part of town. The risk they are now running is all out of proportion to the cost of a hydrant and some hose, a risk that no business man can afford to run.

Last Monday, a new town named Kingston was laid out in Arapahoe county, Colo. The site as surveyed is about 6 miles from the east line of the county, and about centrally located as to north and south lines of county, in a beautiful scope of country. The site is owned by an association comprised principally of Benkelmen business men, who will develop the town as rapidly as that growing country demands. J. E. Castberg, our deputy county surveyor, surveyed the site.

Those who observed the "head-light smile" which playfully suffused "Neighbor" Archibald's countenance, this morning, will understand "the why is it thus" when they learn that a 12 pound boy baby, who "looks just like his pa," put in an appearance at the Archibald residence, Wednesday night, and as "Neighbor" has been living in joyous anticipation of the advent of an heir apparent for some time, he unanimously adopted the young man, with an exhibition of gleeful mirth from which he had not recovered this morning.

Indianola was visited by a most terrific rain, last Friday evening, and, on the following Sunday morning, was devastated to the sum of nearly two thousand dollars by a "jimmy-cane." The Courier gives the following list of the losses sustained: T. P. Adams & Co., $100; Y. M. C. A., $25; R. H. Thomas, contractor for carpenter work on Davoll buildings, $300; Sibbett & Crabtree, brick work on same, $600; Harrison & Harrison, $400; F. C. Wood, kitchen and furniture, $150; Powell Bros., stable, awning, etc., $25; A. W. Davoll, on building, $200; Hallaek & Howard, lumber broken, $50; total, $1,850.

The people of Red Willow are happy over the prospects for a grist mill. J. W. Pickle, the well-known miller of Cambridge, has secured a mill site and water privilege on Jacob Randel's farm, near the mouth of the Willow, and is busily engaged in delivering the necessary material for a new building, etc. He has had a force of ten or fifteen men at work for the past three weeks, and hopes are entertained that the mill, which will be first-class in every particular, will be completed this fall. This point affords one of the best mill privileges in Red Willow county, and will doubtless give that locality quite a boom.

Last Sunday evening, Wm. Crockford's large two-story residence in West McCook was entirely consumed by fire. It appears that a lamp exploded in one of the rooms on the first floor, and that in an incredibly short time the flames had communicated with the upper story, by means of the stairway, thus completely cutting off the only way of approach to that part of the building, consequently nothing was saved from the upper floor. Everything of value on the ground floor was taken out. Through scarcity of water and appliances no attempt could be made to extinguish the flames, which burned rapidly and furiously. The small residence on the south of the burning building was kept thoroughly wet, and thus saved, although the heat was intense. Mr. Crockford's loss will be heavy, as his house and contents were only insured for about $800—the same being in the Phenix. Mr. Crockford is now absent some where in the east.

Hallaek & Howard for Lumber and all kinds of Building Material.

Two horses valued at $375, the property of two men who were en route from one of the eastern counties of this state to this locality, were drowned in the Red Willow, near its mouth, early Sunday morning. It appears that both of the men were pretty full of Indianola's "school-fund liquid," and that in driving along the road which follows a bend in the creek very closely, and the water being over the banks and a foot or two deep on the road, they drove the team into a deep hole, where the horses were quickly drowned, the men evidently being in no condition to afford them any assistance. The harness and other property were recovered. They took the train east, Monday.

Hallaek & Howard for Lumber and all kinds of Building Material.

The first "tea train" that has ever traversed the great Burlington route, passed through this station on the wing, Tuesday morning. Engineer Dixon, who brought the train into this station, had orders to run as fast as possible consistent with safety, and one of the most rapid runs ever accomplished on this division was made. At points east of here over a mile a minute was made, at one point in particular seven miles were covered in five and a half minutes. Another train is expected this evening or to-morrow morning.

Hallaek & Howard for Lumber and all kinds of Building Material.

A genuine Turk or Arab and his wife, from the Holy Land, are in the city, today selling trinkets, the residue over and above their expenses going to support an Orphans' Home in Jerusalem. They met with fair success.
