Do "come into my parlor"—the general doctor of the Omaha Herald to the Sage of Arbor Lodge.

WASHINGTON dispatches herald the statement that Dr. Miller and J. Sterling Morton are making overtures preparatory to "kissing across the bloody chasm."

BILLIE MORRISON'S new tariff bill is about ready for introduction in the House. Salt and lumber are placed on the free list. These will both receive a firm support from western members.

JUDGING from the tone and sentiment of his letter, A. P. Leech is of the opinion that political Judas Iscariot's are not entitled to any greater reward than Judas who betrayed his Savior with a kiss.

THE law and order league of the city of Lincoln is routing out the gamblers and other toughs of the capital city at a most encouraging rate, under the state law. Showing that a few determined men can accomplish.

WE see it stated that Congressman Laird will introduce a bill in the House to establish a U. S. land office at Akron, Colo. Such a move would give that booming town a greater impetus probably than anything else.

THE state board of educational land and funds has forfeited the leases to about twelve thousand acres of school lands on which default has been made under the law in the payment of rent. This land will be subject to re-lease, after being restored to the books in the land commissioner's office.

EX-GOV. HORATIO SEYMOUR died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Roscoe Conkling, at Utica, N. Y., last Saturday, Feb. 13, 1886, at the ripe old age of seventy-six. The death of ex-Governor Horatio Seymour, following so quickly that of Generals McClellan and Hancock, leaves Mr. Tilden the last living of the unsuccessful democratic candidates for the presidency.

SENATOR MANDERSON has introduced in the Senate, and Congressman Dorsey in the House, bills dividing Nebraska into two judicial districts, with the Platte river as the line of division. These bills provide that court shall sit at Omaha, Norfolk and Kearney in the northern district, and Nebraska City, Lincoln and Hastings in the southern district. Such a division of the State is urgently needed, and strong efforts will be made to have the measure pass.

THE large cattle-feeding establishment of the Standard Cattle company, to accommodate 3,000 cattle, and to be located near Ames, will prove a great benefit to the farmers of Dodge county. There are now several of these feeding establishments in eastern Nebraska, and more are to follow. It is a well-settled fact that in the near future the range cattle will be fattened in this way. They will all be fed in the corn belt, and Nebraska will consequently get the larger portion of them.—Bee.

AT a meeting of the senate committee on public lands, Saturday, Senator Van Wyck was instructed to report back favorably the bills introduced by him to create two new land districts in Nebraska. One is to be known as the northwestern district and be taken from the present Valentine district. The other is to be taken from the North Platte district and to be known as the Sidney district. These bills will in all probability pass during the present session of Congress, as every influence is being brought to bear to that end. The advantage to the settler will be considerable.

RANDOLPH CHURCHILL, a member of the late Salisbury's cabinet, is out in a tirade against Gladstone and his government on account of the late London mob. Churchill's theory is that no one started in London while he and Salisbury were running the government, but a week after Gladstone came in they became so hungry that they were upon the verge of destroying the city and sacking the tower itself. Churchill would make an admirable mugwump if he lived in New York. In Nebraska he would be a rival of the boss of the anti-monops before he had been a citizen thirty days.

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN. BY THE PRINCIPAL.

State Supt. Jones has sent out a circular letter calling attention to the feasibility of incorporating and endowing the Neb. State Teachers' Association, and solicits teachers to become life members of the organization, the fee for which is five dollars, members to be forever free from the payment of dues.

The University celebrated its seventeenth anniversary by a meeting in the chapel on the evening of Charter Day, Monday, Feb. 15. Addresses were made by students, alumni, professors, and gentlemen connected with the state government, when the charter was granted, as well as those now connected.

Our pupils are taking a commendable interest in their Friday afternoon exercises, the effort being to make each recurring Friday noon exercise more interesting than the preceding one. We are glad to welcome so many visitors upon these occasions.

The seventh grade is to have a paper this week, of which John Cordeal is editor, and Nora Schaffer assistant editor. Evidently they will have a very new paper, for their first attempt in journalism.

The class in Latin is nearly ready for Caesar, and will doubtless commence that study in about a week.

THE decision of Rome in the matter of the selection of a successor to the late Cardinal McClosky has been finally announced. The red hat and title of the prince of the church passes to Archbishop John Gibbons of Baltimore, and increased dignity is given by the choice to the oldest Catholic see in the country. Archbishop Gibbons, while one of the youngest of American prelates, is distinguished among his brethren for his piety and ability as a churchman. He was born in Baltimore on July 23, 1834. He received most of his classical education at St. Charles college, Howard county, Maryland, where he graduated in 1857. He afterwards studied theology in St. Mary's seminary in Baltimore, and was ordained in St. Bridget's church, Canton, on June 30, 1861. On August 15, 1868, he was consecrated vicar apostolic of North Carolina, and upon the death of Bishop McGill, of Richmond, Pius IX made him bishop of that see. He was made coadjutor archbishop of Baltimore on October 3, 1877, and upon the death of Archbishop Bayley he succeeded to the title. During the second plenary council, five years later, he was made one of the chancellors of the council, which position he filled with great ability. At the last council, as is generally known, he presided as the representative of the pope, and was complimented by all the bishops for the dignified and learned manner in which he had presided over the deliberations of the body. Archbishop Gibbon is known in the church as a prelate of liberal and progressive ideas. He is said to favor a greater share by the priesthood in the administration of the spiritual affairs of the church, and a larger participation by the laity in the management of the purely temporal concerns. He will make an able and erudite cardinal, and his selection will give general satisfaction in the church of which he has for years been a leading spirit.—Bee.

The temporary spring has caused many to commence that annual task "house-cleaning." Several front yards last week were adorned with household chattels and everything seemed to indicate that they were closing it up for good.

Rev. J. V. Harrison has delivered two of his very interesting lectures at the Congregational church. The subject of the first was "Women" and was very ably handled. Last night his subject was "The Age of Steel." His lecture on that subject was very interesting indeed and those who were absent missed a "good thing."

INDIANIA, JAN. 17. NONDESCRIPT.

HYDE, COLORADO.

Our county surveyor returned from Hyde, Colo., last week, where he has been for a number of days surveying the surrounding lands. He reports the country of excellent soil and formation, and a rich field for persons seeking government land. The Lincoln Land Co. is interested in the town, which is sure to boom in the spring. W. H. Doggett, a former B. & M. conductor, is now located there, and is busy building a hotel and selling lumber, he being the Free & Hoeknell Lumber Co.'s manager at that place, besides being interested in the town-site. Garey & Castberg are locating settlers on government land and doing a general land business. Dr. A. J. Shaw will put up a drug store, and a newspaper will shortly be issued from that burg.

THE pretense that there is need of a resurvey of lands in Nebraska is false and dishonest. Whenever a corner is displaced or lost there is ample provision for its restoration by local officers. There is not a section in all the surveyed area of the state but is well and properly defined. All over the western portion of Nebraska to-day men are following out land lines for miles with no aid but a compass, not even a plat or a field note—men who never run a line before in their lives. The surveys are honest and the corners are there. Gardner can go without any inconvenience.—Topics.

A FUNNY part of the Bell-Pan-Electric-administration episode is that out of the thousands of people and papers that have rushed in to whoop it up to Cleveland and Garland and their Fryng Pan, not one but opens up by stating his or its lack of friendship for the Bell company. It is then curious why they rush. There is no need for hurry. The lawyers employed by the Bell company will attend to the business part of the controversy, and if, as it appears, the company hasn't a friend on earth except them, there won't be much political capital made out of it. Look out for the rebound.—Topics.

It would probably pay Mr. Garland to trade off some of his electric stock for some of these electric belts that are so widely advertised. They might restore his standing.
