The McCook Tribune.

A PAINT has been invented to take the place of whitewash. No legislature should be without it.

A RETURNED congressman informs us that the "hauls of legislation" are to be looked for in the lobbies.

As a result of the Mikado epidemic "the flowers that bloom in the spring" will be chestnuts when they do come.

MR. MOSES COHN—"Rachel, put der emeralds und der green umbrellas in der vront vinder. It's Saint Batrik's day and we've got to be patriotic. Vas sagst du?"

A BILL in the New York legislature provides that female teachers in the public schools shall be paid not less than 65 per cent. of what is paid male teachers.

"If spring poets were hens," says an exchange, "even an editor could afford to eat eggs. Doubtful. If spring poets were hens, they would not send their lays to the editor."

IN Brooklyn there was a serious strike in the public school, the boys and girls demanding shorter day's works. The teachers called in the troops and the police suppressed the strike without much bloodshed. One bloody monopoly has triumphed.

GENERAL Master Workman Powderly, it seems, began his working life as a switch tender. Mr. Hoxie, manager of the Gould system of railroads in the southwest, was at one time hostler in a hotel near Des Moines. Afterwards he became chairman of the republican state central committee and United States marshal of Iowa. Mr. Gould himself earned his first money as a map peddler.—New York World.

THE labor troubles of the southwest are not yet over. The great railroad managers have declined to re-employ all employees, and many hundreds of men are in consequence out of a job, and will be even after traffic is resumed. This is unfortunately apt to be the case after every great strike, and furnishes one of the strongest reasons why earnest attempts should be made to arbitrate rather than to fight out labor troubles. The present troubles have already cost the railroads and their employes more than $4,000,000. If cooler heads had directed the Knights of Labor of the southwest, it need not have cost either side a dollar.

THE American dies from overwork and anxiety. When he is five years old he begins school with the determination to be at the head of the class. He will out-run, out-jump and lick any boy of his size. He enters upon a condition of strain that is perpetual. As he goes on it gets worse. He must be in politics at twenty, rich at thirty, great at forty and if he measurably succeeds he is decaying at fifty and dead at sixty. He ought to be dead. It is a fitting punishment for his audacity and his steady violation of the laws of nature.

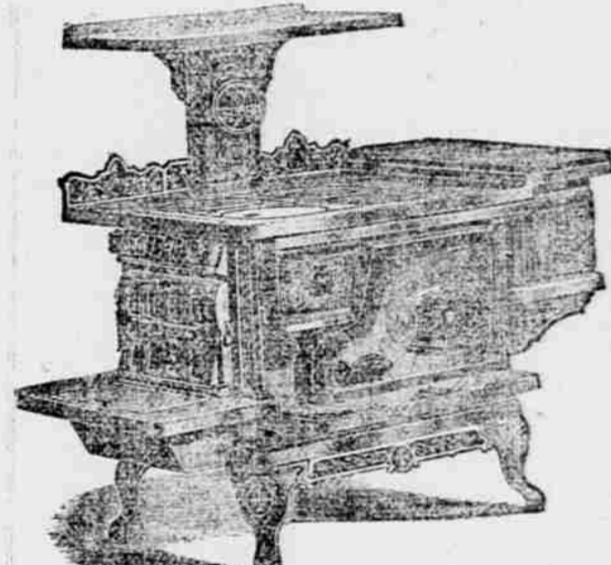

S. H. Jones of Ashley, Ill., buys Chamberlain's Pain Balm by the half dozen bottles. He says it is a sure cure for neuralgia. It is also used for rheumatism and has cured many cases that had resisted all other treatment. Sold by M. A. Spalding and Willey & Walker.
