Crete Nurseries employ seventy-two workmen, and their monthly expenses for labor are twenty-four hundred dollars ($2,400.) This money is expended here in our town. Their trees and plants can be examined any time. Connected with the nurseries are sixty-five acres of orchard and six acres of small fruits, promising a fine crop of fruit. Those who think of planting would do well to look at the choice stock in the nursery and at the orchards, and also to remember that stock grown here is already acclimated and sure to do well. They now grow a full stock, and cannot fail to please.—Crete Globe.

Queen Esther, June 17th, 18th, and 19th.

An anti-contest organization has been formed at Hayes Centre.

Work on the excavation for the mill will commence, this week.

The Lutheran brethren are contemplating the erection of a house of worship.

The first car-load of hogs ever shipped from this place was shipped to Kansas City, Tuesday evening, by Brewer Bros.

The Hayden failure has been the all-absorbing talk of the week. The affair is an unfortunate one and we fear a disastrous one.

The interior of the Metropolitan drug store has received some finishing touches in the way of wall paper decoration and kalsomining.

The publishers of the Democrat have purchased the second-hand Prouty newspaper press, late a part of the Indianola Times outfit.

The W. W. Palmer residence on Marshall street has been purchased by Hugh W. Cole. This is one of the most desirable properties in the city.

The first of the week, Mrs. C. S. McCammon went up to Benkelman, where she has located a branch dress-making establishment. Miss Sarah Hogan accompanied her.

A coach-load of Rhinelanders, bound for California's vineyards, passed through this station, yesterday. Proper sanitary measures were immediately taken by the authorities.

Elsewhere in this issue appears the card of Dr. Thompson, dentist, who will attend to the wants of the people in his line at the Commercial House, for a few days. He guarantees good work.

A buffalo was killed, Monday evening in sight of the town of Yuma, Colo. The denizens of Yuma were greatly excited, and every able-bodied male in the burg was a vaunting Nimrod for the time.

A fine Percheron-Norman stallion, the sole occupant of an express car, constituted part of No. One's train, Sunday night. The animal was consigned to parties at Stratton. The express bill must have been a paralyzer.

At the Congregational church meeting, held on Monday of this week, we learn that Rev. Joel S. Kelsey, who preached in the city a few weeks since, was elected to the pastorate of the Congregational church of this place.

A Lutheran church business meeting will be held at the residence of Herman Pade, on Macfarland street, north of the school house, on next Sunday afternoon, June 13th, at 3 o'clock, mountain time. All members and friends of the church are earnestly invited.

The children of the High School presented Prof. and Mrs. W. S. Webster with a handsome and complete set of Irving's works, last Friday, upon the closing occasion of the spring term of school, as a graceful recognition of their teachers' efforts in their behalf.

Recent developments seem to indicate that the delegation of McCook's sporting fraternity, that visited Denver during the recent races, did not return laden with the good money of the Denverites, very numerous. Mayhap you haven't heard the old hay gag, hey?

On Tuesday, H. G. Dixon sold lots 13 and 14 in block 5, to Rev. J. W. Kimmel, for $500. These lots front on Macfarland street, and are situated just south of Shafer's brick residence. A Lutheran church is to be built on one of the lots, a paragon on the other.

We desire to felicitate the Gazette localizer upon the evident fact that he feels all the ponderous responsibility of his position. Atlas never supported this mundane sphere with more becoming and severe and austere dignity. We make this observation with the most tantalizing titillation.

Next Sunday morning, June 13th, Rev. C. S. Harrison of Franklin Academy, will preach in the Congregation church at 11 o'clock, A. M. In the evening, at 7:30 o'clock, he will deliver his lecture, "The Age of Steel." Rev. Harrison is an able and eloquent speaker, and a large house should greet him.

Next week, the first annual report of the principal of the city schools to the Board of Directors will appear in THE TRIBUNE. The report will contain the names of those pupils who were promoted to higher grades at the close of the spring term, together with other interesting educational information, relative to our city school.

The ladies of the Catholic church will hold a strawberry and ice cream social in the rink, Monday evening, June 14th. Good music will be provided for the occasion. The ladies will make every provision for a highly enjoyable evening and extend a hearty and general invitation to the public to come and participate.

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, June 17th, 18th and 19th, the chorus now engaged in rehearsing the oratorio, "Esther, the Beautiful Queen," will present the same in the Opera Hall. That it will be worth seeing and hearing goes without the saying. It will be the grandest musical event that has ever transpired in the city.

We are requested to announce that the Red Willow Church of Christ will be formally opened on Sunday, June 20th, 1886, at 11 o'clock, A. M. Elder W. H. Pardee of Geneva, Neb., will deliver the opening sermon. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present. This is the pioneer church of this denomination in this county.

The Republican Valley Press Association will hold their summer meeting in our city, Tuesday, June 29th. The program will consist of a short business meeting, an address of welcome to the brethren of the quill, a response by one of the fraternity, a social dance, banquet, etc. Our citizens will be called upon, as is the custom, to help defray the expenses of the entertainment of the members of the association.

The women of the town, some thirteen in all, were arrested, Monday, and brought before Police Judge Fisher, who fined them $10 each. One gay gambler was also among the outfit, and he was mulcted in the sum of $20. If the authorities will repeat this dose frequently enough, they will soon rid the city of a large proportion of the scabs that now infest it. Do they propose to do so, or will they virtually license these offenders against law and morality by fining them thus at stated intervals? THE TRIBUNE favors no compromise with that element.

The Board of Directors held a meeting, Monday evening, at which Messrs. Laws, Trowbridge, Phelan, Helm and Dauchy were present. The Board proceeded to the selection of a corps of teachers for the ensuing year. The entire present corps of teachers was retained, save Mrs. W. S. Webster, who was not an applicant for a position. Miss Rachael Berry of Virginia, Cass county, Ill., a sister of H. H. Berry of our city, was elected assistant to the principal. Miss Berry has a first grade certificate from Illinois, and will doubtless prove an efficient instructor. There were an unusually large number of applicants, comprehending some excellent teachers.

On Monday, C. D. Ercanbrack disposed of his beautiful farm, situated two miles north of the city, embracing a homestead and a timber claim adjoining, in all 360 acres, to Mr. Stephen Ryan of Ohio, for a consideration of $3,700 cash in hand. The purchase includes some $800 worth of personal property,—house, barn, corrals, etc. Mr. Ryan has been viewing all the land in this vicinity during the past two weeks, and in this purchase has secured a bargain. Situated as it is, contiguous to a young and growing city like ours, the farm is sure to increase in value and to prove a good investment. Mr. Ryan, we understand, will move onto his farm in the near future, and will improve it as his ample means will warrant.

A man named A. L. Rhinehall, formerly of Oakland, Iowa, but who has been homesteading in Kansas, some 25 miles south of here, for some time, died at the Star restaurant, Monday evening, after lingering a few days in terrible agony. His mother was telegraphed the news of her son's death, but no instructions concerning the disposition of the remains were received, and the stranger was accordingly interred by the county in the cemetery northwest of the city. As the physicians were in doubt as to the disease which caused his death, a post mortem was held, revealing a terrible state of the omentum, which had become enlarged from a delicate membrane to the thickness of two or three inches, besides being completely honey-combed by tubercular deposits. The examination was made by Drs. Kay and Davis. The deceased was about 35 years of age.

If the business men of this city are alive to their best interests, they will take most energetic steps in the direction of improving the public roads leading north from here. Every day these highways remain in their present almost impassable condition, the merchants and other business men of our city will lose a certain and by no means inconsiderable amount of trade which naturally belongs to this point. There are many substantial traders on the Upper Willow and Medicine creeks who prefer coming to this city, but who are now compelled to go elsewhere perforce of the execrable roads leading into this city. Let the proper forces be set in motion toward securing better roads. They are of vital importance. Our merchants can't afford to let their trade go elsewhere because of poor roads.

On Tuesday noon was closed the most extensive contest case that has ever occupied the local land officers at this place. We refer to the Dever-Colvin contest, which involves the southeast quarter of section 28, lying just east of the Republican Valley Horse Breeders' Association's grounds, held by G. W. Colvin of Arapahoe as a timber-claim. Fifteen days were occupied in the hearing of this case. The testimony covered 467 pages of legal cap. 1275 questions being asked during the hearing. LeHew & Leach appeared for the contestant Dever, while Cochran & Helm and Boyle & Kelley looked after Mr. Colvin's interests. The case is now under consideration. Both parties feel assured of success.

A private letter from Rapid City, Dakota, informs us that Mrs. W. M. Rollins of this city is living there with a man named Riley Miller.

Opera Hall, June 17, 18 and 19, Queen Esther.

THE HAYDEN FAILURE.—It becomes our unpleasant duty to chronicle another business failure in our city, this time the unfortunate parties being the pioneer firm of our town—W. H. Hayden & Co., whose extensive establishment was taken possession of, Monday, by the Omaha National Bank of Omaha, Paxton & Gallagher of Omaha, and the Exchange National Bank of Hastings, under the terms of chattel mortgage held by them against the firm, amounting, we understand, to over $20,000. Just what the liabilities of the firm will amount to is a matter of conjecture, some place it as high as $50,000. The store at this place is now in the hands of the above-named mortgagees, who are invoicing the stock preparatory to selling the same off at retail. The Atwood store is in the hands of the Citizens Bank of this city, who hold a chattel mortgage of over $4,000 against the content, the same is now being invoiced, and will also be retailed out to satisfy the terms of the mortgage. Mr. V. Franklin is personally looking after the bank's interests. Messrs. Ballard of Omaha and Papin of Indianola are here looking after the interests of the Omaha National and Paxton & Gallagher respectively. What the other creditors will do remains to be seen. Deputy Sheriff Bennett created a momentary breeze of excitement, Monday evening, by breaking into the store to attach some goods. The mortgagees advertise to commence the sale of goods on Saturday.

Many of our citizens will be glad to know that Mr. Patrick Egan of Lincoln, Neb., has laid out his land just north of McCook into beautiful 5 acre lots, with broad streets and avenues on every side of same. One of these blocks contains at least thirty of our residence lots, or equal to about two and one-half city blocks. "Egan Park" lies two blocks west and about six or eight blocks north of the City Park or water tank in McCook and only ten minutes walk from the centre of the city. There are sixteen in all and those who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity now offered them of securing more spacious grounds—where city ordinances will not reach them and where they can keep cows, calves, pigs, poultry of all kinds, and where they can plant large fruit orchards and have truck patches for their own use and for sale in the city, should lose no time in seeing Thos. Colfer, who is agent for these blocks. Several have been already spoke and the prices and terms are within the reach of all. With the continued growth of our city Egan Park will soon cease to be a suburb of McCook, but will be part and parcel of the whole.

On Tuesday evening, Sheriff Joe Small of Hayes county, arrived in the city, having a warrant for the arrest of one, William Hildebrand, on the charge of attempted rape. The accused has been in the employ of the Hoover Implement Co. of this city, and has a wife and family residing here. The crime is said to have been committed about the first of this month, on the person of a poor, ignorant German girl, in Hayes county, Hildebrand enticing her from her home under the guise of wanting a hired girl. During the evening, Hildebrand succeeded in eluding the sheriff, and it was only through the assistance of our police that the prisoner was again secured. He was finally captured in the cellar of his residence, and placed in the cooler over night. The sheriff proceeded on Wednesday morning for Hayes Centre, with his prisoner.

Before going to press it is reported that Hildebrand was hanged shortly after his arrival in Hayes county. Nothing authentic.

We learn from some confidential friends of the editor of the boodle organ on Main Avenue, that the penny paragrapher thereof purposes in his heart to publish a thrilling serial, in the near future, entitled, "What I know about State stationery and waste baskets." It will embrace some interesting personal experiences by the author and will of necessity be absorbing reading. This story will be carried on in addition to those essays on moral and political ethics now in press. If the editor of the corkscrew could just be induced to relate some of his personal observations while editing that prohibition sheet in Kansas, some few years since; as well as to throw some light on the time he was running that republican journal in this state, at a still later date, his cup of glory will run over.

Some dastardly wretches placed a tie on the track near Rheischick's place a few miles west of this city, Tuesday evening, but fortunately causing no damage, as the obstruction was thrown from the track by the engine which drew No. 1, that evening. Engineer Hunt was pulling the train.

F. D. Hobbs of Grand Island, land office inspector, has been in the city since last Thursday. The impression having gone abroad that Hobbs was here to "inspect" the various applicants for the land office, Wahiquist of the wet goods organ immediately presented his card, seeking an interview. The inspector has since been quite indisposed.

GLADSTONE'S Irish Home Rule bill, on second reading, was defeated in the House of Commons by a majority of 30. An appeal is to be made to the people, with some prospect of success.

At Columbus, Tuesday, R. Brandt, a saloonist, was arrested for obstructing the front of his saloon with screens, tried by jury, found guilty and fined accordingly.

In accordance with The Journal's announcement last fall and in pursuance of an understanding arrived at between the railroad commission and the management of the Colorado Central Coal and Mining company, during the visit of members of the commission to Denver, a schedule of rates for Canon City coal will soon go into effect at all stations on the B. & M. railroad and its branches in Nebraska. According to this schedule a graduated scale of prices is made for the retail dealers, the price increasing a little as the distance increases from Denver until competing points are reached where the Wyoming coal comes in, such points as Beatrice and Lincoln.

The maximum price at any point to consumers will be $7.25 per ton. West of McCook the price will be under $7.00. This is a reduction on all points west of Beatrice of $1.75 to $2.00 per ton. The new contracts of the Colorado Central Coal and Mining Company with its agents will, in accordance with the request of the commission, limit the retail dealer to the figures given.

The question has received a good deal of attention from the commission, and it is with great pleasure that it hails the advent of the new schedule. When it is stated that the quality of Canon City coal that is brought to Nebraska is retailed in Denver at $5.50 per ton, it will be seen that the rate of transportation to Nebraska is extremely low.

SPARKS' order suspending pre-emption and timber-culture filings has been peremptory revoked by the Secretary, and these filings are rolling in faster than ever.

Special Agent Geo. B. Coburn is also in the city, and the matter of anti-contest organization is supposed to be under consideration.
