Matinee races are advertised at the Driving Park, Saturday, July 17th. Entrance to the grounds and grand stand, etc., free.

Last week, Miss Effie Crane closed her fourth successful term of school, on Ash creek, and has returned to her home in McCook.

THE TRIBUNE carries the largest stock of land and legal blanks west of Hastings. Special forms printed to order on shortest notice.

The hope of Nebraska is in stock. Her grain and corn must go to the market on foot--in the shape of fat cattle, etc., to reap the greatest profit.

The late station agent at Bartley, Ben Marvin, is now occupying a position on Agent Woods' night force, taking Mr. Simmons' place, who is now at Denver.

IMPROVING--Supt. Campbell's little boy, George, who has been seriously ill with dysentery for a few days past, we are happy to announce, is improving, with a fair show to rapid recovery.

Observe the bargains offered in fine stock, in the advertisement of the Spring Creek Cattle Co., to be found in this issue. Call on Representative Hocknell, McCook, or J. D. Welborn, Indianola.

Will the authorities devote a little attention to the alley running south of this office. It is in a wretchedly filthy condition, filled with rubbish and odors that would discourage the stomach of a coyote.

Our base ballists have retired on their laurels. They went up to show the unsophisticated Strattonites how to manipulate the willow and sphere, last Friday, and had crow served up to them in the style of 47 to 18.

A CHANGE--Prof. G. E. Barber, of the chair of Latin in the State University, will lecture before the members of the institute and others, next Wednesday evening, vice Prof. Sherman, who will not be able to be present.

A little dog, owned by Tom McInroy, which showed signs of fits or rabbies, was promptly removed from this land terrestrial, via the shot gun route, by him, last Friday. Due precaution this hot weather, may not be amiss.

The running race, Monday afternoon, between Dave Rogers' sorrel colt and Dunbar's "Buckshot" resulted in an easy victory for the colt. The backers of the Dunbar animal were confident of victory and consequently lost heavily.

The dog tax ordinance has not been largely complied with. Only about a dozen of the multitude of worthless curs in this community, we believe, are properly licensed. The Police might do some efficient work with their arillery, these quiet times.

It is a matter of no small pride to THE TRIBUNE to observe its original and selected matter largely copied by our contemporaneous press, but we would suggest that journalistic ethics dictates that courtesy which gives the usual credit to original matter.

We were shown a specimen of corn, yesterday, coming from the farm of H. T. Church on the Willow. The specimen was taken from a field of 100 acres, and stands over 8 feet high. Is strong and beginning to tassel out nicely, and can't be beaten anywhere.

As our police are apparently on friendly terms with those who appear to be prominent in these affairs, it may be that they know more about the whereabouts of the gambling dens, etc., than THE TRIBUNE gives them credit for. If so, there existence is clearly contrary to law.

The folly of forensic fulsomness was ably displayed in Justice Colvin's court, Friday. Although the average juror is chosen for his ignorance rather than his intelligence, he can see as far through a millstone (when the aperture therein is sufficiently manifest) as the ordinary barrister.

IMPROVEMENTS--C. D. Ercanbrack has just built a substantial stable on his property in this city and now has a corps of workmen building an addition to and making alterations in his residence, which will make it much more commodious and convenient, and one of the comfortable abodes of the city.

The Happy World Stereopticon entertainment, which was advertised and billed to take place, yesterday evening, has been indefinitely postponed by reason of the continued and excessive heat. We are assured, however, that when the mercury has a less "upish" tendency the entertainment will be given in good style, when it will doubtless be patronized and enjoyed.

The special car of General Manager Barnard of the Hannibal & St. Joe, a leased line of the C. B. & Q., passed through, Tuesday afternoon, attached to No. 39, for Denver. The passenger was over three hours late upon her arrival here.

Now is the time for the ladies to commence the preparation of their fancy work, jellies, jams, preserves, etc., for the October fair. It is proposed to make the ladies' department a prominent feature, and we hope the ladies will lend their aid in that direction.

We have a clerk in one of our Main Avenue stores who erstwhile has played Hamlet. He recently had occasion to attempt to fit a No. 2 shoe on a bashful maiden's No. 8 pedal appendages. He finally resigned the bootless task with the soliloquy: "2 B o: not 2 B--that is the question."

Crop reports from all over the country are unanimous to the effect that while crops are not yet suffering much for moisture, a little rain is needed and will make things hum. As the crops are to-day, Western Nebraska is probably in better condition than any other portion of the state or union.

No. 1, west bound, Friday night, was composed of four sleepers, seven coaches and three baggage and express cars. The heavy passenger traffic is explained by the fact that many are already going to the national encampment at San Francisco. The train was over an hour late upon reaching this division station.

The short-order joint man--McCamm--came near furnishing an item of interest, last Saturday evening. A lamp exploded, thereby affording a superfluous amount of light, but McC. grasped the situation at once and hurled the lamp into the street. What an item there might have been for insurance companies had the little glim got in its deadly work.

REMOVED--Colfer & Cordeal, on Monday, moved into their new quarters over the First National bank, lately occupied by Jennings & Starbuck. These gentlemen have fixed their new rooms up in excellent style, with brussels carpet, etc., and certainly have handsome law offices, wherein they can do business much more satisfactorily than in their old location.

The people living on and in the vicinity of Brush creek indulged in a round of picnic festivities, last Friday and Saturday, which they will remember with sensations of pleasure for many days. On Saturday, there was coupled with the picnic, an exhibition by the school children under Miss Kanouse, which was a pleasant feature of the occasion, one enjoyed by old and young. These little neighborhood affairs go far toward making lighter life's duties, and should be continued as frequently as possible.

The second suit brought by Frank Everts against L. K. Moore and Ed. Starbuck for "wilfully and maliciously killing a horse," was tried before Squire Colvin, last Friday, and again dismissed. The killing of the horse, of which mention was made in last week's issue, was in all human probability, an accident, and we are informed that they, the defendants, offered Mr. Everts $125, in time, for the horse killed, which offer, for reasons best known to the proprietor, was refused, and the case now stands in statu quo, as it were.

Well our boys partially redeemed themselves, yesterday, in their game with the Arapahoe boys, and doubtless would have won the game had they kept cool, and been satisfied with the rulings of the umpire, who performed his part, all in all, in a satisfactory manner. It required ten innings to decide, and the Arapahoes finally came out victorious in a score of 16 to 15. The contest was interesting throughout, and was witnessed by quite a large concourse of people, not a few of the ladies being present. Considerable money changed hands.

Last Sunday morning, the Congregational pulpit was considerably occupied by Charles Whitney of Chicago, the considerableness of that occupancy being over 60 consecutive minutes, with the thermometer ambitiously climbing above the hundreds. We feel constrained to ejaculate that the next Good Samaritan that cometh over from Macedonia to help us poor sinners even 60 minutes worth consecutively will doubtless not come again with rejoicing, but will beyond a peradventure be entitled to a nook in Fox's "Book of Martyrs."

Our people are long-suffering, are not puffed up, vaunteth not themselves, but a rising 60-minute see-saw makes homicide justifiable under some circumstances.

PERSONALS.

Under this head we would be pleased to have our friends throughout the city acquaint us of the arrival and departure of their visitors.

Jesse Welborn was in the city, yesterday, en route home from the company's ranch on the Frenchman.

Fred Lytle of Benkelman transacted business in the chief city, Monday morning, returning home on 39.

Miss Colvin of Arapahoe and Miss Kennedy of Plattsmouth, came up to witness the base ball game, yesterday.

Judge Ashmore passed through the city, Monday evening, bound to Indianola from the ranch on the Stinking Water.

Receiver Babcock is entertaining his father from the east. His mother also came west, but is staying with her sons at Cambridge at present.

Reid, the jolly fat man of the Arapahoe "Looking Glass," enjoyed the success of their boys, yesterday. We acknowledge a fraternal call.

Rev. J. S. Kelsey of the Congregational church spent a part of the close of last week in Cheyenne county, Kansas. He was absent over Sunday.

H. H. Troth of Carrio, who has been in town a few days after supplies and some other business matters, started for the ranch, yesterday evening.

Mr. Bailey of Brownville an old-time friend of L. L. Hulburd, E. E. Lowman and other of our citizens, was a visitor in the chief city, Saturday.

John M. Cotton of the Lincoln State Journal Co. was in the city, Monday, canvassing for some law books and the legal blanks published by that company.

Judge J. E. Cobbe of Beatrice was in the city a few hours, yesterday, looking after his real estate interests in this vicinity. He left for the east on No. 2, this morning.

Fred Harris received a telegram, yesterday, from Brooklyn, N. Y., announcing the serious illness of his sister. He left in response thereto on No. 40, for her bedside.

Ed. Murphy has resigned his position in the U. S. land office and leaves for Benkelman, Saturday, where he has a claim, and where he will engage in the land business.

Mrs. Charles Meeker and baby arrived in the city, Monday noon, and have gone to house keeping in the cosy little home lately completed by Mr. Meeker, just north of the reservoir.

Miss Hannah R. Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dixon, arrived home, Wednesday evening, from Tough Kenamon, Penna., where she has been attending school in quaint old Quaker-dom.

Clark Ward of Indianola made us a pleasant call, Saturday. Mr. Ward informs us that he has retired from the management of the Indianola grist mill, and that he will again engage in the grain business.

Dr. E. A. Hall, the B. & M. surgeon at Red Cloud, was called to the city, yesterday, for consultation with Dr. Kay in the case of Supt. Campbell's little boy George, who has been dangerously ill, but is now convalescing.

William Coleman and son Ernest were passengers on No. 40, last Thursday, returning from a trip to Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou and Pike's Peak. Both returned deeply impressed with the grandeur and beauty of that scenery.

Miss Carrie Shepper made proof on her homestead on the Willow northwest of the city, Monday. Miss Shepper has exhibited lots of pluck and courage in thus living upon her claim so far from the city, and alone.

W. H. Van Horn of Monroeville, Ohio, was a pleasant caller at these headquarters, Tuesday morning. Mr. Van Horn has two son located in Hitchcock county, to whom he is on a visit. He is also interested to some extent in farm lands in the eastern part of this state.

Edward Ervin is a man after our own heart. He stepped in, yesterday, renewed his own subscription one year, and had THE TRIBUNE sent to two different parties in Missouri. He reports that continued dry weather will cut short early corn, but that small grain will be a good crop barring hail or storm.

J. F. Forbes, our "genial" B. & M. dispatcher. (like the conventional bank cashier,) has absconded to Canada. He left on 40, Friday evening last, and will be absent until the last of the month. He will attend the grand K. of P. "doings" at Toronto, and besides will visit at his home in Park Hill, Ontario, and other places in Kanuck land. A glorious trip is before him.

W. S. Blood of Perry, Iowa, is in the city, and made THE TRIBUNE a short call, yesterday. He reports the condition of small grain and corn as much better here than that of Iowa, where he says the drouth has greatly reduced the possible yield. This sounds strange coming from a state, where the people and papers are wont to speak of the dry and sandy states to the west.

Remember, readers, that the members of J. K. Barnes Post, No. 207, G. A. R. of McCook have made stipulation with Private Edward Warren to give a G. A. R. entertainment, consisting of 176 actual war views, taken by the Governmental Photographer, at the Front. These views are to be shown on the screen by the calcium light through the stereopticon. Come comrades, come every one and see war in its true light, Thursday and Friday evenings, July 29th and 30th, 1886, at the Opera Hall. See bills. Tickets for sale at Meard's.
