UNLESS Senator Paul can successfully prove the Bee's statements false, he is unfit the suffrages of the Republicans of this state.

SPARKS has added another feather to his cap, by forcing the suspension of an old crippled veteran, Major S. W. Clark, recorder of the general land office.

COLONEL INGERSOLL is going to drop his assault on christianity, and next season lecture on Shakespeare. Of course, if Mr. Ingersoll is consistent with his past, he doesn't believe there ever was such a man as Shakespeare.

LINCOLN papers are solicitous lest a milk famine be added to their present oppressive base ball troubles. The loving kine, they claim, are all becoming dry, because of continued drouth and scorched pastures. That does look like laying more upon misery than she can bear.

ANDREW CARNEGIE, the millionaire iron maker, thinks that "one hour of courtesy from employers would prevent many strikes." There is humanity and reason in this. Employers are too apt to forget that their employes are men, and that the difference in stations is due to chance or opportunity.

THE possibility of a war with Mexico has developed the fact that in Nebraska there are about forty thousand men ready to raise regiments to respond to the call of their country. About a hundred thousand are ready to raise companies, but not a private soldier has yet come forward. Unless we can get a private soldier or two the war will be a failure. There must be somebody to drive the wagon containing the officers' baggage.

THE story that the late Hubert O. Thompson, the New York democratic politician, committed suicide, is repeated with additional evidence supporting the theory. It is not unlikely that the developments in the trial of Squires and Flynn will supply further reasons why Thompson should have desired to escape a catastrophe which he must have seen was imminent. There is a lesson in these events for both politicians and people, if they would but learn them.

Now is the accepted time for the administration to hunt for scalps. Sparks has opened the game boldly by demanding the resignation of a crippled union veteran in his department who has served acceptably for twenty years. The house cleaning will go merrily on during his vacation thanks to the tameness of the republican majority in the senate. Civil service reform will be whooped up for all she is worth within the next sixty days.—Journal.

G. L. LAWS of McCook, the very efficient servant of Uncle Sam in the land office, at that place, was a visitor for a few hours in Orleans, last Sunday. In this section we would say that hardly a vote in the whole county will be cast against delegates in the county convention unfavorable to Mr. Laws' nomination by the state convention for the office of secretary of state, and in case he receives the nomination we pledge Harlan county solid for him.—Orleans Press.

An exchange says: At this season of the year, when people are subject to sudden attacks of cholera morbus or cramp in the stomach, nothing is so valuable to have close at hand as the camphor bottle. When a person is thus attacked, let him lie down and keep as quiet as possible, and take two drops of camphor in a teaspoonful of water, repeat the dose at intervals of five minutes until ten or fifteen drops are taken. It will in almost every instance give relief without the use of any other remedy. This same treatment has been used in cases of cholera. Every family should keep a well-filled camphor bottle.
