ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Pierce special to the Omaha Herald: The entire Downey family, Nicholas Downey, his wife and their three sons, all men grown living in the edge of Pierce county about five miles from Burnett, were brought in Saturday by Sheriff Heath and Deputy Box, charged with attempting to murder Charles Erskins three or four weeks ago.

It will be remembered that in April, while Erskins and some more men were moving a school house in Madison county afterdark, George Downey, who was under the influence of whisky, came up and raised a dis turbance. He was ordered away, and during the quarrel Erskins struck him on the head with the blunt end of an axe, crushing in his skull. Downey died two weeks afterward, and at the preliminary examination at Madison Erskins was placed under bonds to answer for murder at the next term of court. While going home at night about four weeks ago from a harvest field near old man Downey's house, some cowardly wretches concealed in the large sunflowers in a drain shot Erskins twice, one ball passing through his lung and the other through his left arm. Erskins lay at the point of death for several days, but is now neighborhood had grown intensely bitter and more shooting was feared. Erskins' friends finally secured the services of Attorney Boone, of Norfolk, and he had the entire family of Downeys arrested. Erskins them all. The preliminary examination came off Wednesday. Nicholas Downey, the old man, who is charged with doing shooting, is about sixty years The old lady and the boys are charged with aiding him. The Hon. AUGUST 26, 1856, AND 1886.

There are three of the seven men who lo cated the city of Fremont, August 26, 1856, now living here. Where thirty years ago no white man had ever before lived; here, where there was one vast waving meadow of high grass, which from the bluff looked like a deep green sea; where no house or tree could be seen to break the wild expanse, inhabited only by the wild buffalo, elk, deer, antelope and wolf; where then 4,-000 Indians roamed, chased their game and met in battle their ancient savage foes. Here, where the red man and war painted savage knew no master, had one of the three white men now living, while in Buffalo, N. Y., mapped a transcontinental railway, and who had met another of the three in Des Moines, and there proposed to him a company to locate this city. Here, where the one to whom this proposition was made was the first to come upon the location pointed out to him by the other, and before these two could get their outfit from Omaha, the third man of the three was upon the ground. These three, who drove the first stake and made the first settlement and thus shaped the future of the prettiest city in Nebraska, are still here with families reared on the ground .-[Fremont Herald.

Chicago special: The boldest robbery that has taken place in this city for some time was perpetrated last night on La Salle street, near the alley running east and west between Monroe and Adams streets. About 10 o'clock John McGregor, a wealthy stockman living in Davenport, Iowa, was strolling along the east side of the walk when he noticed four men walking rapidly towards him from the rear. They came up with him just as the shadow of the alley restaurants in Lincoln have decided to was reached, and he stepped aside to allow them to pass. As he did so, one of the men raised his arm quickly and with some blunt weapon dealt McGregor a powerful blow on the head, stretching him insensible HASTINGS' water works are progressing on the ground. THE CITY A COMPLETE WRECK.

Charleston, Summerville, and Other Places in South Carolina Partially Destroyed by Earthquake. Charleston dispatch: The principal business portion of the city was destroyed last night by the earthquake, and hundreds of persons rendered homeless. Men are fran-Almighty, and children are in tears. Many persons were seriously, if not fatally, injured. Broad street presented a spectacle of utmost horror. Men with hatchets fought desperately to rescue imprisoned unfortunates. Meeting street, from Broad to Hazel, is a wreck and lined with unfortunates. To add to the horrors of the scene, many fires broke out and were ineffectually fought by the fire department. The night was hideous with the groans of the dying, screams of the wounded and prayers of the uninjured.

It is impossible to estimate the loss of life or property at present. Up to 1 a. m. to-day there had been ten distinct shocks. At 8:25 precisely, this morning, another wave swept over the city, coming as the other did, from the southeast and going in a northwest direction. By that time the people, who had been out in the public parks and open places all night, ventured into the houses to get clothing and something to eat. The approach of the quake was heralded by the usual rumbling sound. resembling distant thunder. Then it gradually approached, the earth quivered and heaved, and in three seconds passed, the sound dying out in the distance. This is the only wave felt since 2:30 this morning. It was not destructive, all destruction having been done at 9:55 last night. The city is a complete wreck. The two most historic churches in the city-St. Michael's and St. Philip's-are in ruins, as are also Hibernian hall, the police station, and many other public buildings. Fully two-thirds of the residences in the city are uninhabitable, wrecked either totally or partially. It is impossible at this time to give a correct estimate of the casualties. It is expected that between 50 and 100 persons have been killed and several hundred wounded. About twenty houses were destroyed by fire. Scarcely 100 houses in the city are occupied at this time. The people are all encamped in the open places. All stores are closed and a scarcity of provisions is feared, not from want of provisions, but because no one can be got to reach the stores to sell them.

The earthquake caused far more loss of life than the cyclones of the year before. tried to cross ahead of the train. A car The city is wrecked, the streets incumbered with masses of brick and tangled telegraph and telephone wires, and up to an early hour it was almost impossible to pass from one part of the city to another. The first shock was by far the most severe. Most people with families passed the night in the streets, which even this morning are crowded with people afraid to enter their homes. More than sixty persons were killed and wounded, mostly colored. Among the killed are M. B. Lynch, Dr. Hammond and Air sley Robinson. There is no way of leav-

St. Michael's church steeple will come down, likewise the steeple ian church has fallen. The porticos of the Hibernian hall and the station house are broken. There is much injury to mansions on the East and South Battery. The portico of the Ravenal mansion is down. Hardly a house in the city escaped injury and many are so shaken and cracked that a hard blow would bring them to the ground. The shock was severe at Sumnerrille and Mt. Pleasant and Sullivan's island, but no loss of life is reported there. Fissures in the earth are noticed from which a fine sand, apparently from a great depth, exudes. A sulphurous smell is very noticeable. Three or four fires started in as many sections with the first shock and the city was soon illuminated with the flames, thus leading all to believe that what was left by the quake would be devoured by fire. However, the fire depart- assassination in the order, but at the Richment was so well divided and handled that the fires were under control by daylight. From 125 to 150 residences and stores were consumed. The loss by fire and earthquake cannot be accurately estimated, but can be placed safely at $5,000,000. As seal its report and no one is to know its far as could be ascertained during the night fifteen or twenty were killed and a much greater number were wounded, in all sorts of ways. The loss of human life will be | derly's testimony is, but I understand it large and it will take days to get at the ac-urate number. Shocks equally as severe were felt at a distance of five miles and have done inestimable damage to the railroads and telegraph property. Charleston is now entirely isolated from the outside world. The alarm and apprehension among citizens continues unabated this evening. The impression has spread among the people, from some unknown cause, that the shock of last night is likely to be repeated and this is the cause of the prevailing anxiety. The streets present a sad picture of desolation and ruin. The parks and open places are the camping ground of thousands of structed their delegates to vote against poorly clad and discouraged people. There are also form, what will be claimed, a straight-out many visitors who see no charms in the place now and will hasten to their homes in the north and south. A well-known citizen thus describes his experience during the shock last night: "We all made a rush for the street, but when we saw buildings swaying and walls feeling of despair seemed to seize upon everybody. I for one realized the uselessness of attempting to escape and I saw themselves up to whateverfate had in store for them. The sickening sensation caused by the movement of the earth was hardly more appalling than the terrible noise which accompanied the shock. This was not very loud but was like a low and threatening growi under the earth. The piercing cries of the frightened women and children, and the frenzied shouts of the men calling to one another and attempting to organize some means of rescue, formed a singular contrast to this subterranean thunder. open spaces. I ran as fast as anybody, yet I recall vividly the horror pictured on the faces of those near me. The thing has made an indelible impression on my mind, and even now I look for that ominous roar; the weeping of the women and the hoarse cries of the men, as they ran hither and thither among the wrecks of walls and telegraph wires, can never be adequately described.

The largest crowd of fugitives was collected in Marion square, in the center of the city. Three shocks followed one another at short intervals and hardly had the panic caused by one partially abated when anthat the prayerful and despairing throng, finding the earth once more solid for many hours, gathered courage enough to again seek the neighborhood of their shattered

At a quarter past 5 o'clock this evening, when thousands of the people of Charles ton were out in the open squares and vacant places of the city, lingering and resigned to another night of anxiety, fear and terror, the premonitory symptoms of another earthquake were heard and felt in tic; women are beseeching mercy from thes a slight vibratory wave and shock that passed along over the city. No additional damage or wreckage of buildings followed, but men, women and children out in the open spaces for a while were greatly agitated. Fortunately the weather has been pleasant and the privations and hardships attending the outdoor exposure are not severe. The situation is becoming desperate, with the whole city camped out in a terrible state of fear. It is now twentyfour hours since the first quake visited this unfortunate city. The negroes have taken possession of all the parks and vacant lots and are holding excited prayer meetings.

It may be stated now that all the damage to property and all the loss of life was caused by the first shock at 9:50 p. m. last night. Owing to the repeated shocks and the lack of systematic effort to unearth casualties it is impossible to give details. Many of the dead, it is believed, are yet buried in the debris, and no regular relief parties have been organized to recover their bodies. Unfortunately the mayor of the city is now in Europe. His place is indifferently filled. The chief of police, too, it seems, is unable to meet the emergency. Summerville, twenty-two miles from Charleston, was nearly destroyed by the earthquake. The passenger train from Columbia to Charleston was thrown from the track near Summerville and the engineer and fireman were killed.

J. H. Averill, master of transportation for the South Carolina railread company, telegraphed from Summerville that many persons were killed and hundreds were homeless. The whole business portion of the city is badly wrecked. Savannah special: The earthquake shocks here, commencing at 9:30 last night, asted several minutes. Several slight shocks were felt later in the night. When quaking first began men, women and children rushed into the streets, where many remained till daylight. The negroes were terror stricken. Bryant street church (colored) was badly cracked and the plaster felling upon the congregation assembled within, caused a terrible scene of confusion. Many negroes thought that the day of judgment had come. Nearly every building in the city was more or less damaged, and nine-tenths of the people are sleeping out of doors to-night.

The investigation shows that in 1883 their sight on account of their burns. some radical members of the Home club hired a couple of New York thugs, who, acting under instructions, went to the Fulton street ferry one night and waited for Powderly. That night he was expected in Brooklyn to attend a special meeting, but something occurred which kept him back. Details of the plot are being kept very quiet, as a New York member said, with | board of trade building and one in the Johnthe intention of publishing the whole matter at the Richmond meeting. John Shields, of No. 359 Fulton street. Brooklyn, on Thursday, said: "You can easily see why everything is being kept so quiet, as the men who have facts are mighty careful about making the charge of mond meeting the world will know that the two men in New York were hired to kill Powderly, Powderly himself was before the investigation last week. His statement created a sensation. The committee will contents until it is read at Richmond." Another member, high in the councils of the order, said: "I cannot say what Powwas an astonisher to some of the committee. Every effort is being made to keen the matter out of the newspapers, so as to strike the Richmond convention with information that will result in totally crushing out the Home club." Continuing he said: "The Home club is a power, which will be overthrown, but I fear the organization will split. District 49 now has 60,000 members in good standing. They claim greater strength, but we know they have sixty delegates elected for the Richmond meeting. Then will come the greatest internal war ever seen among the labor unions Districts of Troy and Albany have inand if he is found to be implicated in the of delegates being instructed to down the Knights of Labor organization under the old rule with the oath-bound secrecy. If district 49, under the Home club leaderhip, should win, the other districts will eave the Knights of Labor and form a new combination with the trades unions. Hence it looks now as if a split was inevit toppling into the street in every direction a able. The committee now sitting can only report to the convention. But we have no hope that the report will improve matters. The Home club is sending members all over others stop and stand still as if giving the country to get the feeling of delegates and enable district 49 to control the Richmond proceedings."

THE HADDOCK MURDER

Sioux City special: The end of the deliberations of the now famous Haddock coroner's jury were not reached to-day and nobody longer pretends to predict when they will. Various rumors are affoat as to the whereabouts of H. L. Leavitt, and People stood despairing for a moment, when he is to be brought back to the city. and then a tumultuous rush was made for but upon this point the police preserve a stoical silence. The calling before the coroner's jury of a number of men who are connected with the liquor business, caused much new talk on the streets as to the point at which the investigation is drawng. It is generally believed, however, that the jury is carefully investigating the nature of the meeting held by saloonists on the day of the murder, and also the conspiracy at the court house. Learning these facts they will then have a key which will unlock the whole mystery. As soon as the police have all the men implicated where they can easily arrest them the jury will announce its verdict.

COOK COUNTY SHAKEN UP.

An Explosion That at a Distance of Twelve Miles Broke Strong Plate Glass. CHICAGO, Aug. 29 .- A tremendous explosion occured at Brighton, a suburb of Chicago at half past nine o'clock yesterday morning. A powder magazine containing thirty tons of powder was struck by lightning and the shock was distinctly felt in all parts of the city. One or two people were killed by falling window glass in the city and it is reported that fully a dozen people were killed near the scene of the explosion. The large plate glass in the board of trade building six miles distant were broken.

A severe shock like that of an earthquake was felt in every portion of the city. The cause was the explosion of the Latlin & Rand Powder company's magazine, on Archer road, near the McCormick reaper works. It is sup posed that a bolt of lightning struck the magazine and the concussion set off the dynamite and gunpowder stored there. The shock caused in two magizines of the Oriental Powder company and those belonging to the Warren Powder company, the Hazard, Dupont and Forcite dynamite store houses. The Ætna, which stood about three-fourths of a mile distant, was unharmed. The Laffin & Rand company's was the only one which expioded.

The house of John Goht, a driver for the Oriental Powder Co., was flattened out upon the ground, a mass of kindling. Gold and his wife were fatally injured, and Carrie Erawurth, their servant girl, was instantly k Hed. The residence of Mrs. Devine was demolished in the same way. Mrs. Devine had her legbroken and body bruised, but suffered no other injuries. She was dragged out from under a heap of splinters and sent to a hos-

The whole side of Justice Michael Tearney's house near the Oriental magazine was ripped off and the roof caved in, but not one of the household was injured. Little Tom Tearney, nine years old, was lifte I bodily from the back stoop on the outhouse, about 10 feet from the dwelling. The outhouse collapsed but he came ont unburt. Several people received slight wounds from falling stones and a number of barns were riddled. The scene of the disaster was crowded with people this afternoon. Where the Laflin powder works had stood was a deep hole in the clay in which not a vestige of the building re-
