BOX ELDER BLOSSOMS.

The hum of the threshing machine is heard in the land.

A little rain about now, would much assist the fall plowing.

Look out for a full delegation from Box Elder during fair week.

Farmers are about ready to commence leaping up the golden ears.

Preaching next Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Chapin, at 11 A. M. All are invited.

A. W. Campbell, house builder, sod houses a specialty, and frame houses built around them if desired. Estimates given.

Some much needed work has been done on the highway in the vicinity of Box Elder, and if our friends on River Canyon will fix their end of the road, we will have a good passable road to McCook.

Real estate is still on the rise in this part of the county. We learn that 160 acres was sold last week, a few miles east of here, for $2,000. We say to those wanting good farms in a pleasant locality, come on, no matter how good the country is, some one is always ready to sell. SELONX.

Box Elder, October 5th, 1886.

SOUTH SIDE LOCALS.

Roth Hileman has indulged himself in a span of bronchos.

One of Perry Stone's wild horses has got the big head. Perry says he is afraid he will go over the range.

Tim Hannan had the misfortune to smash a wagon wheel, last Thursday, while hauling home a load of sand.

C. H. Jacobs, his dog and revolver, played a game the other night with Mr. Polecat. Mr. Cat held a poor hand (although a strong one) and got enquired.

Frank Preston is building a new house. It looks like he is getting ready to—well, I guess we will wait awhile. It won't do to tell tales out of school, for fear of the school narn.

A South Side lady introduced a new feature in the culinary department, the other day. While getting up a meal for guests, salting the potatoes with sugar and filling the individual salts with the same. She had evidently been interviewing some of those city agents, who are around selling cheap sugar to the grainger.

The party at Mr. and Mrs. Perry Stone's, Thursday evening, was a success, socially speaking, those that had the good fortune to be present enjoying themselves hugely. The bountiful repast before the guests appealed to the inner man, and attested to the good qualities of Mr. and Mrs. S. as host and hostess. Miss Hileman received many valuable presents. Uxo.

GLENWOOD WONDERS.

Autumn's solemnly days have come.

Fred. Benjamin has moved into his new home.

Miss Lena Burtless visited McCook, Saturday.

Dr. Critser's sod mansion is nearing completion.

We understand Mrs. Hopkins is quite sick with rheumatism.

Mr. O'Neill and wife passed through Glenwood, last week.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Joy is recovering from her illness.

N. Burtless has been attending to business matters on the Willow, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gowling, from the Willow, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. Burtless.

Don't forget the temperance meeting to be held at Glenwood, October 10th. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Parker, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred. Benjamin, will return to her home in Illinois, this week.

District 48 has purchased of C. T. Brewer, a frame building and located it one mile west of Glenwood for school purposes.

John Manley, who has been rusticiating on his claim, has returned to Johnson county, this state. He returned sooner than expected on account of the illness of his brother.

Ed. Benjamin and Mr. Ashley are expected home from the Willow, this week, where they have been to work during the past month. They are both quiet, industrious young men and their industry seems to lead to gold. We presume they were driven back by the GALE. COUNTRY COUSIN.

October 4th, 1886.

VAILTON NOTES.

Jack Frost, Esq., called on us last week.

Mr. McCroskie will make Iowa a short visit, this week.

Mr. Huffman and family returned to Seward county, on the 29th. He intends locating among us soon.

We met a brother of Isaiah Pate, Sunday. Mr. Pate is late from Illinois and expressed himself well pleased with the west.

Mrs. Armstrong delivered an eloquent and able discourse on the "Christian Armor," last Sabbath. We wish all could have heard it.

Victory! The Vailton base ball nine compelled the Banksville boys to make twenty complete circuits of the ring to their seventeen during the same number of innings, leaving Vailton champion of the field for Southern Nebraska and Northern Kansas. Joseph Relph's umpiring was pronounced faultless by both clubs, and a general good time was had all around. RALPH.
