TRANSFERRING PROCLAMATION. The president of the United States has issued his proclamation naming Thursday, the 25th day of November, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God in humble and devout acknowledgment of His past favors, protecting care and guidance, and to ask His continued mercies and blessings upon us as a nation. "Blessed is the Nation whose God is the Lord." Now, therefore, I, James W. Dawes, governor of the state of Nebraska, do hereby recommend to the people of this state that the day thus set apart by the nation's chief executive be faithfully observed in such form as becomes a Christian people, and in such manner as shall fully meet the objects and purposes of this beautiful custom, and at the same time bear living witness to the existence of a national spirit and faith no less strong, sincere and abiding than was that which prompted the action of those with whom this custom originated. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Nebraska.

Done at Lincoln, this 15th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, of this state the twentieth, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and eleven.

By the Governor, JAS. W. DAWES. EDWARD P. ROGGEN, Secretary of State.

The loss is in the neighborhood of $50,000, with about $40,000 insurance. It is not known how the fire originated.

Mr. Fitzgerald in this work has built the grade, laid the ties and ironed and sublet all the bridge work. There remains yet of his season's work for the B. & M. to be completed some twenty miles of rails to lay on the Blue Hill extension and some eighteen miles more iron to lay on the same road's extension northwest of Broken Bow, toward Wyoming and the Black Hills.

A MAN named Smith, while digging in one of the excavations about two miles south of Omaha, found a fire place, a lot of charcoal and a number of fragments of curious looking utensils. Several pieces were put together and were found to belong to a small boat-shaped piece of earthenware, with a round opening in the top, which was evidently used in cooking, as the marks of fire on the bottom are distinctly visible. The excavation in which these things were found was about seventy-five feet across and had a ridge of earth thrown up around it. Mr. Smith thinks that this once formed the foundation of a hut in which families of the aborigines lived. He has written the Smithsonian institute about them and will investigate further.

Doty was a patient in St. Joseph's hospital, and while there he claims his eye was put out by some carbolic acid through the carelessness of our attendant. He accordingly brought suit against the managers of the hospital, the Franciscan Sisterhood, and the jury returned a verdict for $1,650. The defendants moved for a new trial and the arguments on the motion were heard by Judge Dundy. In overruling the motion day he said there was no valid reason why a private institution like St. Joseph's hospital, which required pay for the treatment of patients, should be exempt from liability for injuries caused by the negligence of attendants. Doty will get his money.

BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE.

President Cleveland Now at Work on His Message and Will Not be Bothered by Office-Seekers.

Washington special: Among the president's callers to-day was a man named Daily, who used his hands as propellers, his legs having been amputated near the thighs and only the stumps remaining. It was remarked by all present, the number of pretty girls and the well-to-do aspect of the majority of the callers to-day, but none were more cheery and appreciative than the president's maimed visitor. Calling him by name the president stooped down to grasp one of the hands which served as feet, and the poor fellow straightened up visibly after the kindly greeting from the head of the nation. Daily belongs in Philadelphia, and is employed as an engineer on one of the local steamers. The trip to Boston seemed to have exhilarated the president, and few of his callers this afternoon were permitted to pass without an expression of pleasure at meeting them. The president's rule not to receive any visitors, except upon purely official business and at a tri-weekly afternoon reception goes into effect to-morrow. He proposes to devote his principal attention from now on until congress meets to the preparation of his annual message, and will not be bothered about appointments.

NEW SUGARING PROCESS. The following telegram has been received at the department of agriculture:

"FR. SCOTT, Kan., Nov. 8.—To the Commissioner of Agriculture: We finished boiling eighty-three tons of Louisiana cane to-day; made nearly 19,000 pounds of strike. A weighed portion run into centrifugal gave 54 per cent of dried sugar. This will be more than 120 pounds of sugar per ton. The cane juice had 14 per cent of sugar, 1.10 per cent of molasses, and 14 1/2 per cent of total solids. It would have made only 80 pounds by the old process. We have increased the yield fully 40 pounds per ton. Sugar of fine quality."

WILEY, Chemist. This dispatch is regarded by the authorities at the agricultural department as a fulfillment of the promise of important results given by the first experiments in the diffusion process as applied to sugar cane.

THE CASE OF CARLISLE. Representative Wellborn of Texas, who is one of the ablest and most experienced parliamentarians in the house, was asked to-day to act as a contestant over Carlisle's seat—should there be a contest—would have upon his candidacy for the speaker's seat of the house. Wellborn replied: "Should there be a contest, over Carlisle's seat the house itself will, in some suitable way, select a committee on elections, and that committee will be relieved of any possibility of embarrassment on that score. To hold that Thobe's contest with Carlisle disqualifies the latter for speaker is illogical and absurd. If such holding were followed, the influence and power of the chosen leader of the dominant party in the house could be effectively crushed at any time by springing a contested election case, no matter how absolutely devoid it might be of merit."

THE APPROPRIATION BILL. Mr. Randall, chairman of the committee on appropriations, is expected to arrive here on the 18th inst. to get things in readiness for the meeting of his committee, which takes place, if a quorum can be brought together, on Dec. 2. The estimates are now in the hands of the printer. It is said, though not by official authority, that their aggregate is slightly below the total of last year's appropriations.

Ohio, 32.3; Indiana, 32.1; Illinois, 24.7; Iowa, 24.5; Missouri, 22.2; Kansas, 21.3; Nebraska, 27.5; New York and Eastern states exceed thirty bushels; Pennsylvania nearly as much, and the Southern states a generally reduced rate of yield.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN. Pittsburg dispatch: Upon the arrival at Dubois, Pa., of the mail train on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railroad to-day the car inspector, while the passengers were getting on and off at the depot, discovered three dynamite bombs and caps fastened under the springs of the rear coach. The bombs were carefully removed, and there were many pale faces among the passengers when they learned the terrible fate they had so narrowly escaped. The train starts from Punxsutawney every morning, and it is undoubtedly at that place the bombs were placed under the springs, as it only makes short stops between there and Dubois. It is twenty miles from the place of starting and how it was possible for the train to run that distance over short curves with that amount of dynamite and caps under the springs of the coach is a mystery. Thirty-four persons were in the person as perpetrator of the deed. The matter will be thoroughly investigated by the railroad authorities, and an effort made to bring the criminal to justice.

NEW YORK'S BIG STRIKE.

A Struggle in Progress That Involves a Great Many People.

New York, Nov. 10.—While great prominence has been given by the press throughout the country to the labor troubles in Chicago, comparatively little attention has been paid by the public at large to a struggle now going on in this state which involves as many people as much capital and a principle of vital importance. This is the contest in progress between the knit goods manufacturers and the Knights of Labor, which now has become an open war upon the latter as an organization. Though the most conspicuous facts in the warfare have been noted from time to time, but few persons have a clear idea of the nature of the controversy or realize that nearly 20,000 men, women and children were employed in the knit goods mills throughout New York state, which the owners have closed against all Knights of Labor.

The gentleman acquainted with the history of the fight declares that within the past two years the Knights of Labor have been actively organizing the knit goods employes and that as fast as they became organized they began to subject the manufacturers to annoyances of every kind. The first struggle was the strike at Cohoes over the question whether or not the manufacturers should be allowed to discharge any employe they might see fit. The issues were joined by the manufacturers declaring a lockout. At the end of five weeks T. B. Barry of the executive board of the Knights of Labor and Mr. Sheard, president of the manufacturers' association, signed a contract running to December 1, conceding that the manufacturers should be allowed to discharge any employe they might see fit. The present trouble originated in Amsterdam, where a boy, a member of the Knights of Labor, was promoted to a new and hitherto unoccupied job in a spinning room. The spinners' union, an inside organization of the Knights, objected. The proprietors said they would let the machine lie idle. The spinners demanded a promise that a number of their children should be put on in case the job should be started at any time in the future. This was refused, and the spinners struck, thereby closing the mill. The other Amsterdam mills followed the same course. It was claimed that all the mills in the state should declare a lockout October 16 and it was done. Since then the mills have been gradually filling up with non-union men, and one local assembly of the Knights has been organized. Two mills, on the other hand, have yielded.

Messrs. Bailey and McGuire of the executive board, have been endeavoring to settle the matter, but the mill owners refuse to treat with the union.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10.—The executive committee of the national knit goods association and Messrs. Bailey and McGuire of the national executive committee of the Knights of Labor met here to-day with reference to a settlement of the differences now existing in the knit goods district. Messrs. Bailey and McGuire offered the following as the only basis upon which they would settle on behalf of the Knights of Labor: That all the former employes should be reinstated in their former places, and that the people who had taken the places of the former employes should be suspended until they should be made a settlement with their organization for violations of its laws and rules.

The proposition was rejected and the following was submitted by the knit goods association: That the manufacturers would open their mills to the Knights of Labor: "Upon the right to employ or not to employ, discharge or not to discharge whom we think best as our employes, and that we will employ any man who is a member of those who remained in our employ at the time of the lockout or strike, and those whom we have since that time employed."

MISS CLEVELAND'S LATEST. New York special: The Sun's Utica correspondent says that Publisher Elder, of Literary Life, was last week refused admission to Miss Cleveland's house, and a note from Miss Cleveland was handed him, stating that hereafter all transactions between them would have to be done through a third party, a gentleman, who is a friend of Miss Cleveland's. Mr. Elder, the dispatch says, was very coolly treated in the village, and departed very much discomfited. Among the reasons given by Miss Cleveland for severing her relations with the paper, it is stated, are Mr. Elder's insertion of an article to which she objected, and her receipt of letters from George Parsons Lathrop and Edgar Fawcett, saying that they could not get their pay for articles furnished.

Owen W. Leggett, an English artist in San Jose, Cal., was killed by John Clark, a ranchman, who imagined that Leggett had trifled with the affections of a young woman in whom Clark was interested.

The train in which Mrs. Cleveland went from Washington to New York carried Miss Winnie Davis, daughter of "Jeff" Davis. The ladies knew of each other's presence but made no attempt to become acquainted.

John L. Barton, of the Waco (Tex.) Examiner, sued the Galveston News for $50,000 for libel. The law of the state permits libel suits against a newspaper to be brought in every county in which the publication circulates.

The Iowa state board of medical examiners have been confronted with the question of jurisdiction over Christian science healers, mind cures, etc. Such practitioners have no diplomas nor licenses, and, although given to practice for all ailments, have not been amendable to any established laws governing the practice of medicine. One branch of the general question contemplates the services of a coroner in cases of death of persons subjected to the treatment of mental science healers.

FIGURING ON THE U. S. SENATE.

Will There be a Tie in the Upper House of Congress?

Washington special: The Star this evening figures out a probable tie in the senate after the 3d of next March. It says that on March 3 the terms of sixteen republican and nine democratic senators will expire. Of the sixteen republicans who will retire twelve will certainly be succeeded by men of the same party. Messrs. Sherman, Aldrich and Edmunds have been re-elected and the legislatures of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin are republicans. The democrats lose one of the nine whose terms expire—Fair of Nevada—and are secure of the remainder, so that if the legislatures of California, Indiana and New Jersey prove to be democratic the result of the change in the senate after March 3 will be a net loss of three to the republicans, a democrat having been chosen to succeed Mahone from Virginia. The present senate stands forty-four republicans, thirty-four democrats and one "readjuster"—Riddleberger. The Senator Van Wyck comes back from Nebraska as a people's representative. He made his fight before the whole people and won on the issue of opposition to corporations. During his present term he has not hesitated on occasions to antagonize his party, and under the conditions of his re-election he may be more independent still. Leaving Van Wyck and Riddleberger out of the count the next senate will stand, provided the democrats secure the three doubtful states mentioned, thirty-seven republicans, thirty-seven democrats. Thus Messrs. Van Wyck and Riddleberger would hold the balance of power. In connection with this probable situation it is a fact worth mentioning that both Van Wyck and Riddleberger have given evidence of a kindly feeling for the administration. In the event of any conflict between the executive and the senate the two votes from Nebraska and Virginia would determine the issue. Van Wyck and Riddleberger would have it in their power, by cooperation with the democrats, to organize the senate; or should Van Wyck vote with the republicans and Riddleberger with the democrats on the question of organization, there would be a tie, and there is no vice-president to throw the deciding vote.
