Luck of a Portuguese from Fayal. NEW BEDFORD, Nov. 15 .- [Special.] -A Portuguese from Fayal bought a ticket of the Lousiana State lottery, and after carrying it in his pocket for fourteen months, gave it to a fellow countryman who has been in America only a few weeks. The latter investigated, and found that the ticket had drawn $15,000. The money arrived in this city to-day, and the Portuguese will sail in a few days for Fayal.

New York Tribune's special, Nov.

A young man from Fayal, who has been in San Francisco five weeks, has drawn $15,000 in a lottery, and will go home in the barkentine "Moses B. Tower," to sail this week. The ticket had been purchased for $1.10, and held fifteen months by a Portuguese in Califorcia, who got tired of it and presented it to the fortunate man. The money has arrived in this city, and Messrs. Loum, Snow & Son, agents of the barkentine, have deposited, it in a bank for safety. The owner of it takes it very coolly, and does not wish to have his name printed.-New Bedford (Mass.) Stand-in the Last Ten Years-A

Great Industry. There are probably but few persons the consumption of that article in the past ten years. Although to many the peanut is an extremely disagreeable product and an object of aversion, yet those whose digestive organs are in a normally healthful state, especially the younger portion of the race, are fond of peanuts, and instances could be cited where they are eaten regularly in great quantities. Whatever may have been the origin of the peanut-this being a disputed point-the peanut plant has gradually made its way over an extended area of the warmer parts of both the old and new world, and in North America has gained a permanent foothold in the soil of the south Atlantic and gulf states. Nor has it vet reached its ultimate limits, for cultivation and acclimation will inure it to a sterner climate, untill it becomes an important crop in latitudes considerably further north than Virginia. This is indicated by its rapid speed within the past few years. Remaining long in comparative obsenrity, it was nut gained prominence as an agricultural and commercial staple, but since it fairly started its progress has been rapid and sure. The peanut will thrive on any suitable soil within the limits of the United States as far north as a line extending eastwardly from tion of the peanut, in short, is possible in by far the greater portion of the entire country. Any section having a growing season of five months exempt from frost may raise the peanut. Planted in June, cultivated until August or a little later, and harvested the last of September, it can be perfected in four months, though the Virginian planter takes five months for it. Any good calcareous soil that is not too elevated will grow the peanut. Some idea of the magnitude of the industry may be gained from the fact that the total consumption of this country for the year 1885-6 from Oct. 1, 1885, to Oct, 1, 1886) was 2,715,000 bushels as compared with 1,187,000 for | Side when the car don't stop in the middle the year 1875-6 an increase of over 100 per cent in the last ten years. The supply available for consumption during the ensuing year, from Oct. 1, 1886, to Sept. 30, 1887, is estimated at nearly 3,480,000 bushels. Peanuts are cultivated also in Europe, Asia, and Airica. Among many of the negro tribes of Africa peanuts constitute an $150,000 by strict attention to the truth important article of food. They are grown in large quantities for the for a living. Write to Hallett & Co., Portmay be employed for every purpose to which that is applied. A bushel of peanuts, it is estimated, will yeld one gallon of oil. For burning it is highly esteemed, but the chief consumption of the oil is in making soap. For the production of oil for soap making. there were imported into Marseilles, France, from the west coast of Africa, in one year, peanuts to the value of over five millions of dollars. The residuum, or oil-cake, may be sold for cattle-feed. Almost every person residing in this locality must necessarily know someany city without encountering at every turn the peanut-stands, where roasted peanuts are sold by the pint. They are retailed in numerous stores, are peddled on the railroad cars, sold to States. the loungers in every depot, are eaten on the streets, at home, in the office, and, greatly to the annoyance of some have them at their parties. Peanuts are healthful and fatten ng. From a Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant pig to a school-boy no diet will fatten Sold by all druggists. sooner than roasted peanuts. A person, it is said, can live on them alone for an indefinite period, if eaten regularly and with moderation. Wherever they have been introduced they can not well be dispensed with. Peanut candy is another article in the manufacture of which they play an important part. The peanut fills a useful end good and palatable beverage. Even bread can be made of peanuts. If first mashed or ground into a pulp and then worked into the dough in the process of kneading no lard will be required to make good biscuit, which will have an agreeable flavor. The skin of the kernel must first be removed or it will impart a bitterish and nutty taste. Good soap can be made from the peanut, but whether the manufacture of such an article would be profitable at present prices is another question. For the higher grades of toilet soap it might be. As feed for stock it is very useful. Every kind of stock, horses, cows, sheep, hogs, and poultry, are ex-ceedingly fond of the peanut, and will leave any other food to partake of it. Cows, horses, and sheep eat the whole pod, hull, and kernel together. Hogs and poultry reject the hull, eating the kernel only. Turkeys, however, as a rule, swallow the pod whole. All stock fatten on them. The hog will lay on flesh very rapidly on a diet of peanuts. The peanut vine makes very good provender for all stock, and most planters make it an object to save the vines for hay. The foregoing are the most important uses of the peanut, and

A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters

ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are Lore preparations of iron then of any other substance used in medicine This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfect, astisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsin, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neural-gia-for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however, does minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts allowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is renewed energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In somen the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it. The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed red lines
