

Tribune Supplement.

McCOOK, NEB., DECEMBER 23, 1886.

VAILTON NOTES.

We noticed Mr. Kaley, Jr., on our streets, Monday.

Mr. Jesse Webb was on the sick list, last week.

Mr. Holland will occupy the Nicholson building for the present.

Solon McCroskie has finished his large and well planned house.

Isaiah Pate has returned from his Kansas visit.

Messrs. Gustin and Armentrout are scouring the plain for buffalo.

We understand that our old neighbor Enoch Matson has sold his place to his father, and will, we fear, remove from our midst.

Our school building was burned to the ground on the 14th. It is being rebuilt and will be ready for school after the holidays. The fire was caused by some faulty arrangement of the stovepipe and flue. The loss of the school books and Sabbath school library will be quite large. RALPH.

An "Ideal" Addition of Longfellow's Poems.

The expiration of copyright is at last bringing into really popular circulation the works of some of the most celebrated American authors, whose writings the high cost of monopoly has kept within the hands of a few. Alden, the Literary Revolution publisher, has recently brought out a number of the best books by Hawthorne, Prescott, Emerson, Poe, Cooper, and others. He has now just published a very pretty edition of Longfellow's Poems so far as copyright has expired. It is in the form which he is making famous as the Ideal Edition—beautiful enough to be worthy of the name—the type being large Long Primer, the printing and binding (cloth) in excellent taste. People who have been used to buying Longfellow might suppose the price of the handsome volume to be a dollar or more—instead of which Alden asks only 25 cents for it! Postage, 5 cents extra, by mail. Alden's last catalogue, 64 small quarto pages, which he sends free to anyone (his publications are not sold by book-sellers buy direct only), is a veritable literary wonder in its attractions. Address, JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, New York or Chicago.
