Young men of the day are finding poker more economical than the theatre with the necessary carriage, flowers and lunch. Were it not for the old men this might dispose ultimately of the ballet question.

"If you want to enjoy a green old age live within your income while you are young. A debt is like a drizzling rain which makes you uncomfortable all the time, while bills all receipted and a lucky penny laid up for bad weather make the heart warm when the mercury is at zero."

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad company takes a position in advance of all other roads in compelling its employes to sign a pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors. The point is well taken. If there is a class of men on this earth who of right ought to be absolute teetotallers, the class is that of railroad employes, in whose care the lives and property of thousands are daily intrusted.

LORENZO SNOW, of Utah, who was caught in the toils of a despotic and irreligious government, found guilty of living in celestial and terrestrial marriage with seven different females, and sentenced to a term of six months for each of the six superfluous loves, appealed from the decision, the other day, demanding to be set at liberty at the expiration of the first six months, because his offense had been "continuous" and there was no good way to separate his bigamy from his trigamy and quadrigamy and quinquegamy and so on. The court has refused his habeas corpus, and he will have to serve out the full sentence.—Journal.

It has become a common thing to hear that some one has been struck dead while uttering horrible blasphemy. A lesson is pointed out in every instance. The good hear of it with reverent awe, and the wicked, with a shudder, resolve to do better. It is well perhaps, that what contains no lesson is made to appear as big with it. As a matter of fact, the farmer sometimes falls dead at the plow, the fingers of the housewife relax as she kneads the family loaf. Men of every calling drop their tools to die. There is in all of this, the same warning as when the blasphemer dies—the warning that the end may come to any person and at any time.

Mrs. LOGAN, in a recent talk, spoke as follows of her assistance to her husband: "A great deal has been said at different times about the assistance I have rendered the general in the performance of his public duties. I aid him by relieving him of many details, but it is not right to say that I write his speeches, because it is not correct. I take charge of his correspondence, and I do this because the General is very conscientious. I read all his letters and lay the contents before him. Most public men are at the mercy of their private secretaries, who do not have their interests at heart, and who often abuse the confidence reposed in them. Every correspondent making a reasonable request is entitled to some sort of a response. The General never deceived any one, because he has known the contents of all his correspondence. I have also done much copying and have marked authorities on various subjects on which he proposed to speak. I belong to that class of American women who feel that the glory of their husband is their glory. I choose rather to shine in the reflected light of my husband than to put myself forward. It has always been my sole ambition to be a good and useful wife and a true mother. I have been the companion of my husband and I think this is the sole ambition of the great mass of American women, as it should be.

Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup
 Will relieve that cough almost instantly and make expectoration easy. Acts simultaneously on the bowels, kidneys and liver, thereby relieving the lungs of that soreness and pain and also stopping that tickling sensation in the throat by removing the cause. One trial of it will convince any one that it has no equal on earth for coughs and colds. McMillen & Weeks have secured the sale of it and will guarantee every bottle to give satisfaction.
