We hear it rumored that private parties contemplate establishing another lumber yard in our city.

Preaching in the Lutheran church next Sunday at 10:30 and 7:30, mountain time, by the pastor, J. W. Kimmel.

Bulard & Co. seem to have great faith in the boom from the amount of lumber they are receiving now-a-days.

We saw the finest thing on the market in the line of screen doors, handsomely painted, at the Badger lumber yard.

The ladies of the Congregational church will serve refreshments to the hungry and thirsty on the Fourth of July.

The ladies of the Catholic church desire to announce their strawberry festival at the Opera hall, Friday evening, June 15th.

The brick making outfit of the Hocknell brick yard has been purchased by E. Fitzgerald, of the late firm of Rooney & Fitzgerald.

"McCook," pertinently observes the Oberlin Herald, "has organized a first class baseball club. The Kennedy brothers will be the battery."

This issue contains another lengthy list of patents recently received at the local office for distribution to those properly entitled to the same.

Peedoddies is the new word for "blues." It is entirely too long and complicated for good slang. The language of the street is short and nervous.

The Catholic ladies are making their usual thorough and extensive preparations for a strawberry festival, which they will hold in Menard's hall, Friday evening, the 15th inst.

A neat porch being built along the west side of his residence, this week, will add materially to the appearance of F. L. McCracken's home besides the feature of comfort subserved.

It is said that Sampson was the first man to advertise. He took two solid columns to show his strength and several hundred people tumbled to his scheme, for he brought down the house.

A pan of sliced raw onions placed in a room where there is diphtheria will absorb the poison and prevent the disease from spreading. The onions should be buried every morning and new ones cut up.

A McCook man, with more money than good judgment, talks of opening a saloon at Neel. It won't pay, stranger, for Neel is the central portion of the strongest prohibition community in Dunay county.—Bankelman Democrat

The board of directors of the Building Association held a short session, Monday morning, and elected E. C. Ballew treasurer, to succeed John A. Burt, resigned. Mr. Ballew is efficient and will fill the office with entire satisfaction.

Crop prospects were never more promising in Red Willow county than at present. Shall not happen (now unforeseen) to prevent the coming harvest will be bountiful far beyond any past season. To this effect are reports from all sections.

The members of the Geometrical Society of the Congregational church are requested to meet at the church, next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, M. T., to report success in raising funds and for such other business as may come before the society.

The "hen and a half" cod is coming west. If a man and a half throws a hot jack and a half at a cat and a half under his window and a half every night and a half, he'll have kindling for several days and a half, but how many cats and a half will he kill in that time.

A new front is being put in the building lately occupied by George Snell on Main Avenue, and other changes and improvements are being made to the room, which will be occupied, when in readiness, by Geo. Paxton, one of the West Demeion street cigar manufacturers. It will make him an excellent stand.

The P. P. P. combination played to a small audience at the Opera Hall, Monday evening. From all reports the performance was decidedly "rocky." Mr. Parley's determination to shortly retire to his home in Republican City "to hoe 'aters," is evidently an eminently wise determination. "The sooner the quicker."

A co-partnership has been formed by Messrs. Geo. B. Berry and Lou W. McConnell. These gentlemen will enlarge the present stock and will add other lines thereto, besides pushing the wholesale business briskly, when they move into their new and more commodious quarters. May their star of prosperity be in the ascendent ever.

A deal was consummated, Monday, between C. B. Gray, of Eaton & Co., and Messrs. Geo. W. Roper and Alex. D. Johnson, where in the former traded his fine and valuable quarter of land just west of H. H. Pickett's farm to the latter gentlemen in exchange for three quarters on the bluffs to the south. Mr. Roper, we understand, secures the Gray claim and will build upon and greatly improve the same. Mr. Gray comes into possession of valuable land for winter grazing—a thing Eaton & Co. have lacked.

Thus merrily sings the Kearney Co. Democrat: "Another month and wheat will be heading out. Another month later the sound of the reaper will be heard. Ninety days hence we will be eating bread made from new wheat, and the critical moment will have passed and gone. Soon the streets will be crowded with farm wagons loaded with grain and the farmer will be returning home with lumber, merchandise, etc., whistling merrily, and the merchants will be hastening to the bank to make their daily deposits. Hang on! Hang on!"

The devil has written the Acheson Globe a poem for publication, from which we take the following extract: "I stand at the gate of a snoudering land and bask in its sulphurous glow, and I beckon the spirits with welcoming hand, to the regions of torture below. The young and the old, the rich and the poor, who live in the palace of sin, I beckon and welcome them all to my door—I gather, I gather, I gather them in. The clump who deserted the town of his birth to bump up a town far away, who'd never invest in the city's own earth, for fear the move wouldn't pay; who groaned of the evils that held down the town, and never would squander his; as sure as I'm living he's wandering down—I'll gather, I'll gather him in."

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

There will be no flies on McCook's Celebration.

PREPARATIONS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY AND SATISFACTORILY.

The executive committee of the Fourth of July celebration organization held a short session at C. F. Babcock's office, Monday evening, T. E. McCracken, A. M. Kelley, J. C. Allen and G. B. Berry being present. Additions to the following committees were announced: To the new committee—E. C. O'Donnell, Lee—Frank P. Allen, Calathunson—John F. Majors and James Denison. The license of stands for the fourth was fixed at $5 each. It was agreed to offer a purse of $10 to Hocknell Hose Co. for a run of a given number of yards to a fire hydrant, make coupling and throw water, within a stated time. The various committees represented had very encouraging reports of progress to offer. The celebration will be the memorable one in the Republican valley. The races will be first-class. The ball game absorbing. The Calathunsons "immense." The oration masterly. "The trades" parade worth the "full price" of admission. "The fire works grand." The amusements varied and entertaining. Make your plans accordingly. Excursions at greatly reduced rates will be run from points east and west. McCook will soar the bird aloft to a dizzy altitude and don't fail to remember the fact.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

KAIME—VANFLEET—At residence of W. D. Paine, on Saturday evening June 2, 1888, Mr. George W. Kaime and Miss Ida L. Vanfleet, both of this city. Rev. J. W. Divire officiating.

The groom is employed in the B. & M. shops at this place and is a young man of steady habits and sterling worth. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Starbuck and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends. A number of beautiful presents were received. The TRIBUTE voices the sentiments of all in extending congratulations and very best wishes to the young people who have just entered upon this new and tender relation.

The driver of the street sprinkler, Henry Busey, experienced a narrow escape from serious injury, Friday morning. While taking water at the hydrant opposite the McEntee, a barrel in front of Lawler's store was taken up by the high wind and rolled under the spirited team of mares attached to the sprinkler. The long carvings and hoops made a most determined move for liberty, and certainly would have done things hum but for the nerve and determination of its driver, who finally stopped them after the wagon had been overturned and the reach broken.

Elsewhere appears the notice of the Water Works Co. restricting the use of water on lawns to from 5 to 7, M. T., morning and evening. It will perhaps be possible for the present to allow an hour or so longer than the time above stated. When such is the case, the whistle at the pump house will blow accordingly. A faithful observance of the rule is requested.

The McCook TRIBUNE has just entered upon its seventh year, and is our ideal of a first-class journal. Mr. Kimmel has a cultured vocabulary, and his diction is elegant. The members of the local Lodge, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, were both "surprised" and delighted with the lunch spread for them at the lodge room, Tuesday noon. The boys sufficiently recovered from the effects of the "surprise" to devour the good things provided by the ladies, with commendable gusto and astonishing rapidity, and announce their ability and willingness to stand the dose daily.
