Served With an Injunction. Des Moines special: To-day the railroad commissioners were served with an injunction issued by Judge S. H. Fairall, of the district court of Johnson county, restraining them from promulgating the new schedule of freight rates. This is additional to the injunction issued by Judge Brewer, of the United States circuit court, but it is based on substantially the same ground. The petitioners in this case are the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, and the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railroads.

Both of these companies are incorporated under the laws of Iowa. Hence they seek relief through the state courts. The principal reason given in the application for an injunction is that the proposed schedule is not a reasonable rate, as required by law, but is so unreasonable and severe as to cause the roads to do business at a loss if put in force. Comparisons of rates with those in other states are set out, showing that the Iowa rate is lower than all. It is understood that all the Iowa roads, including the trunk lines crossing the state, have agreed to pool their issues and make a common test of the case in the courts.

THE MEN NOMINATED AT CHICAGO.

Biographical Reference to the Men Chosen by the Republicans. BENJAMIN HARRISON.

Gen. Benjamin Harrison was born at North Bend, O., in his grandfather's house August 20, 1833. Gen. Harrison inherited a robust intellect that matured early. He entered Miami university, Oxford, O., at the age of 16, and was graduated at 18. On quitting college he commenced the study of law in Cincinnati with the Hon. B. S. Storer. In 1854 he removed to Indianapolis, where he began the practice of his profession. He soon won a place as a lawyer in his new home, and before 1860 he was also considered one of the ablest political speakers in the state.

In 1860 Mr. Harrison was nominated for rector of the supreme court and elected. In July, 1862, Gov. Morton, under the call of the president for 300,000 three years troops, requested Harrison to assist in recruiting the regiment from the Sixteenth district, under that call the quota from each district being one regiment.

Harrison was the first recruiting commission issued by the governor for the Seventieth regiment, bearing date of July 19, 1862, and making him a second lieutenant. He was made captain of Company A of the regiment as soon as it was recruited, and when the whole regiment was filled he was chosen colonel.

In 1868 he declined a re-election as rector of the supreme court, and resumed the practice of law. In 1876 he became the candidate for governor, but was defeated.

In the convention of 1880 his name was mentioned for president, but he promptly checked the movement in his favor. In the campaign of that year he was conspicuous, and having secured a republican legislature for Indiana, he was elected to the United States senate to succeed Senator McDonald.

His service in the senate was not that of a new member. He went to the work well prepared and he took part in the debates upon every important question. He was regarded as one of the ablest, best lawyers, and strongest debaters in the senate.

His senatorial term expired March 4, 1887, and he resumed the practice of law at Indianapolis.

LEVI P. MORTON. Levi Parsons Morton was born in Shoreland, Vt., May 16, 1824. He became a clerk in a country store, soon developed an aptitude for business, and rose rapidly. In 1850 he was made a member of the firm of Beebe, Morgan & Co., merchants of Boston, and in 1854 he moved to New York, where he established the firm of Morton & Grinnell.

In 1863 he founded the banking house of Morton, Bliss & Co. in New York, and that of Morton, Rose & Co. in London. The latter were the fiscal agents of the United States government from 1873 till 1884.

The firms of which Mr. Morton is the head were active in the syndicates that negotiated United States bonds, and in the payment of the Geneva award of $15,500,000 and the Halifax fishery awards of $5,500,000.

Mr. Morton was appointed honorary commissioner to the Paris exposition in 1878. In the same year he was elected to congress as a republican, and he was re-elected in 1880. In the latter year he declined the nomination for vice president on the republican ticket.

President Garfield offered to nominate Mr. Morton for secretary of the navy or minister to France. He chose the latter post, and filled it from 1881 to 1885. Through his intercession the restriction upon the importation of American pork was removed, and American corporations were permitted to compete with France. He was American commissioner general to the Paris Electrical exposition, the representative of the United States at the sub-marine cable convention, and publicly received, in the name of the people of the United States, the Bartholdi statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World."

Mr. Morton, in 1887, purchased "Elerslie," the estate of William Kelly, at Rhinebeck, on the Hudson. The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon him by Dartmouth college, in 1881, and by Middlebury in 1881. In 1887 he was a candidate for United States senator.

Survey of the Public Lands. Washington dispatch: The senate committee on appropriations will in all probability increase the amount granted by the house in the sundry civil bill for public land surveys to $200,000, which was afterwards increased to $100,000. Mr. Randall told Delegate Toole in the house that it was the purpose of the committee to give $30,000 to secure the survey of the 17,500,000 acres of land thrown open to settlement in the great northern reservation of Montana, and along the Northern Pacific road.

Mr. Toole was authorized to make this statement to the secretary of the interior and the commissioner of the general land office when he should go to them to look after surveys in his territory. Another fortunate change made by the bill is a change of existing law increasing the maximum to be allowed in contracts for surveying. The surveyor general may now contract as high as $13 per mile for staked, $11 for township and $7 for section lines in heavy and mountainous country, when the civil bill becomes a law. The present maximum rate is $8, and it was this that prevented the making of any contracts on the Northern Pacific lands in Montana last year and causes the covering back into the treasury on Monday of $20,000 appropriated especially for these lands last year.

Arnold shot and instantly killed George S. Burton, at Minature, last night. The difficulty arose over a settlement of $12.50. Arnold is now in jail here.

CLEVELAND TOLD OF HIS NOMINATION.

The Committee Appointed for the Purpose of Visiting Him.

The notification committee, accompanied by the members of the national democratic committee and the Columbia democratic club of the district of Columbia, met at the Arlington hotel in Washington on the 20th, and forming into pairs, marched to the white house. They were ushered into the east room, and ranged themselves in a circle in the south end of the room. The president was notified of their arrival, and descended to the room, accompanied by the cabinet and several prominent men and friends of the family. Their approach was the signal for a general clapping of hands on the part of the visitors, and as soon as the party had taken their places, General Collins stepped forward and addressed the president. The president, having been notified of his nomination to the presidency, said:

"I cannot but be profoundly impressed when I see about me the messengers of the national democracy, bearing its summons to duty. The political party to which I owe allegiance both honors and commands me. It places in my hand its proud standard and bids me bear it high at the front in the battle which it wages, bravely because conscientious of the right, confidently because its trust is in people and soberly because it comprehends the obligation which success imposes. The message which you bring awakes within me the liveliest sense of personal gratitude and satisfaction and the honor which you tender me is in itself so great that there might well be no room for any other sentiment, save that which bids me bear it high at the front in the battle which it wages, bravely because conscientious of the right, confidently because its trust is in people and soberly because it comprehends the obligation which success imposes.
