Republican Senatorial Convention.

The Republican electors of the twenty-ninth senatorial district of Nebraska are requested to send delegates from their several counties to meet in convention at the city of McCook, Thursday, September 6th, 1888, at 10 o'clock, P. M. M. T. for the purpose of placing in nomination one candidate for senator and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention. The several counties are entitled to representation as follows, being based upon the vote cast for Hon. Samuel Maxwell for judge in 1887, giving one delegate at large to each county and one for each 150 votes and major fraction thereof: Rod Willow..... 7 Frontier..... 10 Hitchcock..... 6 Gosper..... 5 Hayes..... 4 Furnas..... 4 Chase..... 3 Dundry..... 4 It is recommended that no proxies be admitted to the convention except such as are held by persons residing in the counties from which the proxies are given. T. E. McCracken, Chairman pro tem. McCook, Neb., Aug. 21, 1888.

AGAIN have the republicans of Nebraska in convention assembled declared for submission. Shall we have it?

"The only time England can use an Irishman is when he emigrates to America and votes for free trade."—London Times.

"GROVER CLEVELAND has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any prime minister of England has ever done."—London Spectator.

CHARLES W. MEEKER, Esq., of Imperial, has secured the Chase county delegation for representative, and his friends regard his chances for raising Mr. W. D. Wildman's top knot as really roseate.

SENATOR ALLISON will take the stump for the national republican ticket. The senator has made a national reputation as a clean, conservative, able, republican statesman and his speeches will be listened to by the people with profit and interest.

"BABBLING" BROOKS, prohibition nominee for vice president, in a recent public speech, made the boastful assertion that he "thanked God that while he had been a democrat, a slave-holder, and a rebel, he had not the sin of being a republican to answer for."

The announcement is made that more than fifty of the best known ladies of Battle Creek, Mich., have formed a Dress Reform club and declared themselves against bustles, high heels, tight shoes, stiff corsets, etc. Ladies reform at a time. The world can't be changed at one "fall swoop."

WITH the nomination, Tuesday, of Warner Miller by the New York republican convention, the last hope that the democracy cherished of carrying that state for Cleveland and Hill died out. The combination is too strong to be beaten. Without New York, Cleveland's chances are not worth a picayune. No wonder the democrats are more disheartened than ever.

You will perhaps observe, gentle reader, that the most radical opponents of capital, railroads and so-called monopolies are generally that class of individuals who do not own a dollar's worth of property themselves except it be covered over with a mortgage or else they transact what little business they may have in their wife's name. While this class is always on the market for sale, there seems to be no demand for it.

ANOTHER ocean horror, Wednesday, illustrates the old saw that misfortunes never come singly. Reports from 'Frisco, the scene of Wednesday's collision, are meagre, but it is feared that great loss of life has resulted. These two collisions, coming so close together, emphasize the need of some system of signals for use in the fog and darkness, whereby such catastrophes can be avoided. Accidents of this kind on the ocean are particularly horrible, and it seems that some means should be devised for preventing them.

THERE is likely to be no surplus during the current fiscal year. The lavish hand of congress has appropriated for one thing and another four hundred millions of dollars, being an increase of sixty millions over the appropriations of last year. The prospective revenue from all sources is estimated as not much more than four hundred millions. The democrats evidently are willing to clean out Uncle Sam's vaults and leave them as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard when they turn the treasury over to the republicans March next.

If Not, Why Not?

NEBRASKA needs a law authorizing the investment of the permanent school fund under fewer restrictions than the statute now in force. That fund has already reached the enormous sum of over $500,000 and is rapidly increasing. The same, so far as the state is concerned, lies in the vaults unproductive; at the same time, precinct, city and school district bonds are being negotiated in eastern markets. Why not buy these bonds and keep the interest at home? The income to the state would be considerable. Her idle money would become productive. The amount subject to the semi-annual state school apportionment would be largely augmented and the school tax, of necessity, materially decreased. There seems to be absolutely no excuse for allowing so large an amount of state money to remain idle, when the state taxes are so burdensomely high. And again, The total of other monies held by state and county treasurers, from which the state realizes no revenue is doubtless immense. Would it not be more business-like for the state to loan out these monies to the highest and best bidders, on approved security, as is done in some states? The advantage of these sums properly belongs to the people, and not to their servants, who are supposed to receive remuneration in prescribed and stated salaries. If these are inadequate—and THE TRIBUNE considers them too low by half as to state officers—they should be increased, so that perquisites are not necessary. Many advantages, financial and otherwise, would accrue to the various counties and to the state, were such a law in force. The incentive to bankers to dictate state and county nominations would be gone; as each would have an equal show to obtain such funds in an open market. Other good and sufficient reasons exist; but we will not enter into a fuller discussion, deeming the above altogether important enough to call for such legislation.

GROVER is getting anxious and excited. Under the pressure he has given up more money to help re-elect himself than he ever spent in his life before for benevolence, religion and politics. He has sent his check to the democratic executive committee for $10,000. One can imagine the thoroughness of his care from his phenomenal liberality. His other contribution for the public good since he was president was $20 to the Charleston earthquake sufferers. As he remarked in that first letter of acceptance of his, the chief cause of official position is that it demoralizes a man and he wants to hang it to his office forever. Probably the committee will draw on him again inside of a month and yank an entire year's salary out of him before it gets through, for democratic campaigning has been terribly expensive of late. Even Thurman had to advertise a barbecue in order to draw a crowd.

The third party in Nebraska, known as the prohibition party, is not satisfied with the submission plank in the republican platform. No sane man ever expected that it would be. The third party has not been pacified in Maine, where prohibition has been on the statutes for over thirty years. It is not satisfied in Iowa and Kansas, where prohibition amendments have been submitted, adopted and reinforced by ironclad laws. The third party does not propose to be satisfied with anything short of the breaking up of the republican party and a division of offices and patronage among the third party agitators.

LORD BRASSY, a prominent member of the Cobden club in England, has contributed $5,000 to the democratic campaign fund. And yet the democratic papers of this country are trying to make us believe that England isn't interested in this campaign and doesn't want free trade in the United States. The fact is that Englishmen who are interested in securing an open market in this country recognize who their friends are and are coming down handsomely for the democratic fund. It was very bad policy, however, for the English papers to give the fact away.

THE Nebraska democrats in convention at Lincoln, Wednesday, named the following lambs for the slaughter: Governor, John A. McShane; Secretary, Patrick A. Hines; Lieut. Governor, Frank Folsa; Attorney General, W. H. Munger; Auditor, W. A. Paynter; Supt. Public Instruction, W. G. Sloan.

"THE NEGRO," said Judge Thurman, bourbon candidate for the vice presidency, in his Port Huron speech, "is A VERY PROLIFIC ANIMAL." Whereat, the report says, there was "great laughter and applause."

As a token of his belief that Eli is a more euphonious name than Dennis Mr. Cleveland's $10,000 contribution to the national campaign fund and his fisheries message are not bad.

The ticket put into the held by the late republican state convention meets with the unanimous approval of the press of the state.

Purify Your Blood.

Bodily and mental health depend upon a healthy condition of the blood. The blood particularly in the spring and summer months, becomes clogged with impurities, which in turn cause various diseases. A harmless blood purifier is necessary to restore a healthy tone. The best purifier and blood tonic is Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). Of its wonderful purifying and tonic powers we give a few testimonials: Mr. W. C. Stinson, with George P. Rowell & Co., 19 Spruce Street, New York, writes: "I feel it my duty, for the benefit of others who may be afflicted as I was, to write you this letter, which you can use in any way you choose. I suffered great pain from boils, all over my neck; I could not turn my head without acute pain. After trying all the usual remedies, and finding no relief, I used one bottle of S. S. S., and very soon I was entirely relieved of my 'Job's Comforters.' Now not a sign of my ailment can be seen." Mr. M. S. Hamlin, Winston, N. C., writes: "I use it every spring. It always builds me up, giving me an appetite and invigorating, and enabling me to stand the hot summer days. On using it I soon became strong of body and easy of mind." Mr. C. E. Mitchell, West 23d St. Ferry, New York, writes: "I weighed 116 pounds when I began taking your medicine, and now 152 pounds. I would not be without S. S. S. for several times its weight in gold." Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
