The republicans of the 66th district, composed of Frontier and Gosper counties, on the 13th instant, placed A. R. Crazen of Curtis in nomination for representative. Mr. Crazen is a banker, and a young man of considerable ability.

THE trusts, being freebooters in trade and commerce, should be made outlaws before the courts of the land. Laws were never intended to promote brigandage and robbery, and their protection should be withheld accordingly from these combinations.

In a recent interview, John Sherman says of Grover Cleveland as a man, possessing average ability but of poor information; a man who originates nothing, and who is better able to pick flaws and find faults in legislation than to suggest original measures. In a nut shell, this is a poor picture of Mr. Cleveland which everybody will at once recognize.

The Lincoln Land Co., Wednesday, filed an amended section to its articles of incorporation, setting forth that the indebtedness of the company could not go beyond $50,000.

The attorney general reached that point where it seemed necessary to "call him down"; and the secretary of state, with his incisive style, seemed to have been just the man to perform the operation.

In this railroad rates matter both Omaha and Lincoln have been and are following an intensely selfish course inimical to the best interests of a large portion of the state, and of the western part especially.

The republicans of the 67th representative district, in convention assembled at Benkelman, Monday, placed in nomination CHARLES W. MEERER of Chase county, after a very spirited contest. The nominee embraces the counties of Hitchcock, Hayes, Chase and Dundy. The nominee is an able young man who will represent the district with credit and ability.

Complete stock and best grades of lumber and coal at W. C. Bullard & Co.'s yard.

There was considerable atmospheric disturbance with the rain, Wednesday night.

It is reported that I. J. Starbuck has sold his trotting stallion, "L. J. S." record of 2:28, for $7,000.

The way Mr. Shively is stirring up things political throughout the county is anything but reassuring to the democracy.

W. C. Bullard have in stock best quality of hard and soft coal. Remember this when laying in your winter's supply.

The McAlpine boys, this week, commenced the erection of another neat little cottage in the northeastern part of the city.

Work on George Leland's brick residence on the river bank, near Rooney & Fitzgerald's brick yard, is progressing slowly.

We present a few school notes, this week, of interest to both pupils and patrons. Read them carefully and mark suggestions.

Saturday was the Hebrew atonement day, Yom Kippur, 5649. It was observed by those of the faith in the usual way.

A lunch room has been opened up in the building adjoining Berry's grocery store, by Mr. Swarts, late baker at the Old Bon Ton.

The high wind that accompanied the rain, Wednesday night, played havoc with the high board fence at the base ball grounds.

Let Bullard figure with you if you contemplate building or making any improvements. He will save you money every time.

The Howard Lumber Co., this week, removed their coal sheds from the track, to their lumber yard, subserving convenience thereby.

The county treasurer and deputy were in the city, Wednesday and Thursday receiving taxes. The list of delinquents is still quite lengthy.

This week, William Fruin removed his dancing pavilion from the hillside on North Manchester street, and devoted the lumber to other uses.

Joel S. Kelsey will speak, next Sabbath morning, upon, "The Sanctuary, Its Claims and Influence;" in the evening, upon, "Christian Manliness."

The republicans of Cambridge will indulge in an old-time rally, Saturday. Geo. D. Meiklejohn, nominee for lieutenant governor, will address the meeting.

Note the purchase of Mrs. J. B. McCabe's millinery store by Mrs. A. A. Prescott, whose display advertisement appears in this issue. Call and see her goods.

Extensive improvements are contemplated by Mr. Geo. B. Berry to his Upper Main Avenue residence. A commodious addition, porches, etc., are on the list.

The republicans on Ash creek have organized a club at the North Star school house. Meetings are held every two weeks, and considerable interest is manifested.

When a man nearly breaks his neck trying to get out of the way of a lightning bug, supposing it to be the headlight of a locomotive, it is time for him to sign the pledge.

On Wednesday morning, John Shepherd, contractor and builder, commenced work on a residence, 24 feet square, for Mr. Unzieker, in the northeastern part of the city.

As the day approaches when shall be determined which of the great parties shall be in power for the coming four years, election bets are being placed more frequently.

A subscription list was circulated in the city, Wednesday, by Thomas Whitmer, to secure funds to aid in the building of a church up in 53d. He secured the useful help of his assistants.

An increase of pension has been granted Thomas Whitmer, after the matter has been pending almost four years. THE TRIBUNE congratulates and hopes the increase may be substantial.

The Oswald reinvest suit was reargued, Wednesday afternoon, before his honor, Squire Colvin, Attorneys Rittenhouse, Colfer and Wiley being the orators. The case was adjourned till 15th October.

In spite of the popular belief, it isn't true that the rain falls alike on the just and the unjust. The just generally get the most of the shower because the unjust have coolly walked off with his umbrella.

All, especially the young people of the town, are invited to attend the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E., at Congregational church, 7 o'clock, M. T., Friday evening, September 21. Subject, "Our Love for Christ." John 14:1-24.

Wednesday, while passing down Main Avenue, Treasurer Goodrich came in violent contact with an awning curtain pole painfully injuring one of his eyes. Anything so dangerous to the pedestrian merits the intention of the authorities.

The efforts of the opposition to belittle Mr. Wilcox are in a wise having the desired effect; but that gentleman grows in popularity daily. He is a man whom the people feel they can safely tie to, and in whom they can impose implicit confidence.

The otherwise melodious whistle at the water works pump house was somewhat hoarse, the latter part of last week, caused by some local bugaboo shooting a hole through it. Its dulcet notes are now heard at usual intervals, however, in the customary key.

There are no flies, political or otherwise, on Mr. Shively. He is making a clean, manly and able canvass, and his election is practically assured. The Colonel may provide some innocent amusement for the other fellows; but he has a record of laughing last that is very discouraging to his opponents.

Promptness, that excellent characteristic of the insurance feature of the A. O. U. W., is again exemplified in the case W. A. Brown, whose death is elsewhere noted. Proof of decease has already gone into headquarters and word has been received that a draft for $2,000 will be forwarded, this week yet. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harmon of the South Side are the beneficiaries.

In the removal of Dr. Johnson from this district, the M. E. denomination loses an able, energetic presiding elder. Rev. I. N. Clover, late of the Indiana charge, succeeds him, and will, we understand, make McCook his headquarters. Dr. Johnson moves to Lincoln early in October. He will carry with him the best wishes of a host of admiring friends and churchmen in this part of the state.

Their Intentions Were Good.

There was a dance at residence of Mr. B. F. Olcott, a few miles west of the municipality, Wednesday evening. Quite a company of young people from the city attended, and a good time was of course enjoyed. Miss Mina Bullace, Miss Mayme Hunt and Mr. C. B. Gray had proposed in their hearts to participate. But they didn't, lacking. In making the railroad crossing in West McCook, "at a right smart trot," one of the horses slipped and fell, the vehicle running onto the prostrate and vigorously protesting animal, altogether unmindful of consequences. In the "little unpleasantness" that ensued the startled occupants alighted from the buggy with perhaps more rapidly than grace, and the horses and conveyance disappeared in the gathering gloom in the unseasonably haste usually attendant upon such occasions. Gathering up under his arm such evidences as remained of the rig, Mr. Gray retraced his steps to the barn, somewhat "shook up" by the incident, but undaunted! Providing himself with fresh quadrupeds and a more-seemly buggy, the trio set forth for the scene of merriment. But alas! Jupiter F. now takes an interesting hand in the proceedings. Still the would-be votaries of Tersiphoedra drove on. Whither? Let the wild waves answer—if they can. By the time they reached Mr. C. E. Hinman's place, short distance west of town, (after much aimless wandering,) J. Fluvius had the "dead drop" on them. Their bewitching ball costumes had been rapidly transformed into "just killing" bathing suits of the Coney Island pattern. This was laying on more than misery could stand. The damper was complete; and a hasty council of war resulted in an ignominious retreat homeward. They desire us to assure Mr. and Mrs. Olcott that their intentions were genuine; but circumstances beyond their control intervened.

Attention Farmers.

Only one more week intervenes between this and the date of holding our county fair. During this time brush up the stock, look through the corn fields, and select the finest samples of corn; go to the granary and get all kinds of small grain, and put it in the best possible condition, for exhibition. Bring vegetables of all kinds, especially potatoes. Bring corn on stalk, broom corn, corn, millet, timothy, clover, alfalfa, blue stem, and especially produce that has grown on soil; wild sunflower, horseweed, or wild hemp. Anything to show the productivity of the soil. There is a special premium of $30, on corn. For particulars see premium list. Box Elder is making preparations to capture it. Will Beaver sit quietly by and make no effort to secure it? Why can't the "Divide" step in and scoop the whole business, and show what the high prairie soil is capable of producing? We hope to see the boys' and girls' department well filled. An agricultural fair would be quite incomplete without the ladies department, and we expect to see a large exhibition of their handwork. One of the awarding committees on bread, at our last county fair, was a lady from Iowa, and over 60 years of age. She remarked in our presence, "I have attended many fairs, and seen a great deal of bread in my days, but this is equal to, if not better, than any I ever saw." We hope to see an unusually large display of bread, pies, cake, jellies, etc. We invite our "city cousins" to join with us, and present a fine display of their goods and wares. We want all to join together, and show to eastern visitors what Red Willow county can do.

Touched by the Finger of God.

W. A. Brown, sister of Mrs. W. H. Harmon, with whom the deceased has lived since early spring, departed this life, Sunday morning, at the home of his sister, a few miles south of the city, another victim to that destroyer of mankind, consumption. He was a member of Lincoln lodge A. O. U. W., and was buried in Longview cemetery, by the McCook and Indianola lodges, Monday afternoon. His relatives have the sympathy of all in the sorrow that has fallen upon them.

An Expensive Drive.

A young man by the name of Griffin from near Parks, and his brother from Iowa, drove a team from Eaton & Co.'s barn down to Oberlin and return, Tuesday, with fatal consequences to one of the horses, the faithful equine dying shortly after entering the home barn. The Jesus came down with $70.00 in coin of the realm,—a sum insufficient to cover the value of the horse, however. Griffin will be remembered as the Benkelman pitcher in last week's ball game.

Confirmation Services.

Confirmation services will be held in the Catholic church of this place, Sunday, Sept. 24, by Bishop Bonaeum of Lincoln. Bishop's Mass at 8 o'clock, A. M. High Mass at 10 o'clock, A. M. "Farmer Mass" by the choir. Confirmation after High Mass; followed by benediction. Father Capellan of Indianola will be a delegation of citizens will accompany the Bishop to Indianola, where he will administer confirmation at 4 o'clock, P. M.

That Melon Social.

The melon social held at the residence of Rev. Dwyer of the M. E. church, last evening, was an eminently successful and enjoyable affair. The attendance was large, and the same adjective faithfully repeats the number of melons that disappeared during the engagement.

Woman's Relief Corps.

There will be a meeting of the corps at Masonic Hall, Saturday afternoon, September 22d, at 2 o'clock, M. T. All members earnestly requested to be present.

NELLIE LEE, MRS. J. H. YARBURG, Secretary, President.

The Practical Joker.

The facts in the practical joke played at the Hon. Thos. Colfer's expense, last evening, in that contest case matter, may be secured in reference to application to Mr. John Majors.

All kinds of school supplies at THE TRIBUNE office.
