

The Only Store

OF ITS KIND

IN THE WEST.

THE only place where you can find what you want in our line.

THE only place that sells goods on their merit.

WE make our own prices. We sell at a profit.

WE have bargains in surplus stock. We guarantee every article as represented.

WE are establishing a trade for the hereafter, not only for to-day and to-morrow, but for years to come, by conducting our business in a straight, legitimate manner, giving full value, dollar for dollar, and backing up just what we say.

WE have one of Dr. King's celebrated Optometer's and can fit your eyes with spectacles correctly.

WE charge nothing for piercing ears with a new painless process,—its very funny; makes any one laugh.

WE are having a big sale on Gold Watches, which we sell same price as silver.

It will be impossible to describe all we have for sale, so drop in and convince yourself that there is no place like it on earth.

MAIN AVENUE, CORNER NORTH OF POST OFFICE.

REMOVAL!

I am now located in the store room lately vacated by Mrs. T. Nelis, on Main Avenue, where I will be pleased to see all my old customers and many new ones. My stock will be larger and finer than ever, and my prices as low as the lowest.

H. H. BERRY.

1888. -- Fall Season. -- 1889.

The fact that my efforts in the past to produce none but of the highest standard of excellence have been appreciated by friends and customers, as shown by my large and rapidly increasing business, has encouraged me to still greater exertions for the Fall and Winter season.

My Collection of Fine Fabrics

For gentlemen wear, is now complete, and it will give me pleasure to have you see my stock, which is as large and handsome an assortment of new goods as can be shown by any of the best houses in larger cities. I am better prepared now to execute all orders promptly, and give the trade stylish and perfect fitting garments.

This is an administration of the spoils, by the spoils, and for the spoils. It is running a check book propaganda if ever there was one. Witness the following announcement jubilantly made in the editorial columns of the New York Sun: "When President Cleveland gave his magnificent contribution of $10,000 to the funds of the Democratic campaign committee he was not alone in that work of National beneficence. At the same time with the President's check the committee received a check for $10,000 from the Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, a check for $10,000 from the Hon. Chas. S. Fairchild, a check for $10,000 from the Hon. William C. Whitney, a check for $10,000 from the Hon. Don. M. Dickinson; in all, from the President and Cabinet, the handsome sum of $50,000. But three members of the Cabinet, Secretary Endicott, Secretary Vilas, and the pan-electric Attorney General gave nothing. However, to make good every deficiency, the Hon. William L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, gave $20,000; Mr. Sidney T. Fairchild, Secretary Fairchild's father, and Mr. J. J. Hill, the Democratic hustler of Minnesota, gave $10,000 apiece; the Paynes, of Cleveland, gave liberally, and other personal friends of President Cleveland clubbed in swelling the aggregate contribution to the impressive total of $150,000."

At the north there is the collision of political policies. At the south there is "the peace of Poland." Reputable men, good men, religious men of the south, not only admit the suppression of the suffrage, but they also justify it. The fact is undisputed and undisputable. Worse than all, the number of the manhood electoral votes is increased by the enfranchisement of the colored race, formerly counted in the basis of apportionment as only three-fifths of its aggregate. Without this increase there would be no peril to republican supremacy. The contrast is drawn. The lights and shadows may be plainly discerned. Is it fair, is it just, is it in conformity with the genius of republican institutions that the free vote of the north should be overcome by the chained vote of the south. This is not a plea for the ensanguined garment. This is not a gun fired at the Kuklux Klan. It is simply a question directed to loyal American citizens. Shall not the will of freemen be so emphatically expressed as to nullify the will of those who trample the ballot box under their feet?

THERE are people who maunder about the evils of party strife, and shake their heads gravely over the intensity of political feeling. The sputter of the storm hides from them the sweep of the tide. They fail to see that underneath this conflict of opinion is that mightier tide of patriotism which flows all the deeper and stronger because of the tempest that vainly seeks to oppose its course. Political enthusiasm is not stirred in the American people by a desire to rule nor by the lust for personal advantage. It is not dependent on flags or firewords. Neither the zeal of the office-seeker nor the skill of the demagogue can inflame or deceive them. What we see is only the only the froth upon the surface. When the American people have made up their minds they will act coolly and according to their best judgment.

Books, the vice presidential candidate of the prohibition party, says in a recent speech, "He has been a rebel, a slave holder and a fire-eating democrat, and the Lord only knows what else," but, thank God, never a republican." Well, if were to offer a prayer, it would run somewhat in this wise: "Oh, Lord, for some things we are truly thankful. When we read of the many and diverse iniquities charged up to the republican party by the prohibitionists, it makes us weary, and in view of this fact, we feel unable to have borne the last straw. Therefore, oh, Lord, we feel especially thankful that Thou didst put it into this man's heart to acknowledge before all men, "That he never had been a republican." Amen.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 2, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:
Gentlemen—I can cheerfully and truthfully say that S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier on earth. In 1884 I contracted blood poison. Physicians treated me with no good results. I took a half dozen different kinds of blood medicines, but, without receiving any permanent relief! I was induced to try S. S. S. I began the first bottle with the gravest doubts of success. I had been so often deceived. But improvement came, and I continued its use until perfectly well. I have since married, and have a healthy family. No trace of the disease is seen. Swift's Specific did all this for me, and I am grateful. Yours truly,

KEMP, TEXAS, June 23, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.:
Gentlemen—A sixteen-year-old son of mine was afflicted with bloody flux. I do not know of a case that was lost where this remedy was used. One of my friends, about six miles from here, had a child that was given up by two doctors who attended it, he then used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and the child recovered. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms. Washing you abundant success for the good you are doing. I am, Very Truly Yours,—P. E. LAVENDER, P. M., Chestnut, Amherst, Co., Va. Sold by all druggists.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the most successful preparation ever produced for Summer Complaint, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Bloody Flux and Chronic Diarrhoea and thousands of persons will testify that they believe their lives have been saved by this great remedy. It is the one preparation that every family and every traveling man should be provided with, especially during the summer months. Many cases of Chronic Diarrhoea that had resisted all other treatment and baffled the skill of good physicians have been permanently cured by it. Sold by all druggists.

Ague can not be permanently cured until the system has been thoroughly cleansed of all morbid matter. Quinine and other febrifuges, will check it temporarily but it is sure to return unless the system has been cleansed. For this purpose there is nothing better than St. Patrick's Pills. They not only physic, but thoroughly cleanse the entire system and will, in most cases, prevent ague and like malarial diseases if used as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by all druggists.

"Nearly Everybody Reads It."

The Merchant reads the Chicago Daily News because he must know what's going on in the great business centres of the world, and he can't waste time hunting for a "blank sheet."

The Farmer reads the Chicago Daily News because he makes more than $5.00 a year—one cent a day—by keeping promptly posted on the valuation of the market,—he doesn't wait for the slow weeks any more.

The Mechanic reads the Chicago Daily News because he knows that even in reverse of handiwork the more general intelligence a man has the more he'll earn. The workman can't wait until after his daily paper at "one cent a day."

Grandfather reads the Chicago Daily News because it gives him the news, and yet so condensed that it doesn't tire him out to read it. And then, the print is so clear.

Mother reads the Chicago Daily News because she wants to keep up with her husband in general information, and then she particularly enjoys the household hints and things of special interest to women which are in every day.

Grandmother reads the Chicago Daily News because she still wants to know what's going on. And it's a comfort to see a daily paper in the family that's clean and pure,—one she's not afraid to have "the children see."

The Boys all want the Chicago Daily News because it gives the best news to fully,—to say nothing of all the other things boys enjoy. And this year even the boys don't skip the political news.

The Politician always reads the Chicago Daily News because it's an impartial paper, and whether he likes its independent views or not, he wants to know the truth. He "supports" his particular party "organ," but when he wants cold facts he reads the Chicago Daily News.

The Girls all read the Chicago Daily News because they're specially interested in its story gossips about fashion and home accessories, and nothing about the excellent world news always running.

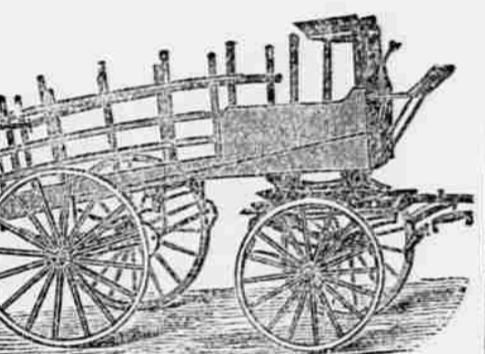

The Post Office Review, says: "Nearly everybody who reads the English language in, around and about Chicago, reads the Chicago Daily News." Do you? It's a "short and to the point paper,"—made particularly for busy people, and it costs one cent a day. All newsdealers sell it, and all postmasters forward subscriptions for it at $3.00 a year, or $1.00 for four months. Address VICTOR F. LAWSON, Publisher The Chicago Daily News, Chicago.
