THE FAMOUS.

WHAT I MUST DO IS ALL THAT CONCERNS ME, and not what people think. It is the harder because you will always find those who think they know what is your duty better than you know it. It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after your own; but the great man is he who, in the midst of the crowd, keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Emerson.

Now that both parties have presented their schemes of tariff reduction, the voters are brought to the forks of the roads. One party proposes a reduction of $55,000,000, much of it taken off wool, and the other of $70,000,000, two-fifths of which is to come off sugar. The means and methods proposed to reduce the surplus are widely different. The democratic party is struggling and fighting to take the road which leads to free trade, while the republicans are determined to take the other fork and keep inside the lines of protection.

The new pumps ordered for the water works will be superb machines, capable of raising to the stand pipe on the hill 1,000,000 gallons of water per day.

The Brown vs. Dunlap case which had a hearing before Squire Hulbert, last Saturday, occupying a good part of the day, was continued until the 17th instant.

No man makes much of a success of any kind of work unless his heart is in it. Generally those who do a task because they are compelled to, make a sorry job of it.

The postmaster was somewhat taken aback, the other day, when an old lady appeared at the general delivery and respectfully inquired for "a yaller development to do letters up in."

"It is a remarkable, singular fact," observed a local philosopher, the other day, "that a man who is clearly second in command at home, always wants to rule all creation when he gets outside his own door."

The first of the week, Frank Allen sold his dwellings on Main Avenue and Macfarland street to J. G. Hamilton. Mr. Allen has purchased the Cal. Reind residence on Madison Avenue, now occupied by him and family.

Every man aims to "strike the nail on the head," as the old saw has it, but when success crowns his efforts, and it happens to be his finger-nail, his enthusiasm at once becomes wild and incoherent and utterly unfit for publications.

A French doctor who has been searching for a method to ward off intoxication recommends, before drinking, "an appropriate amount of food of albuminous and fatty nature," particularly cheese. The beer saloon seems to get at science by instinct.

How women can manage to sit bolt upright and not change a position, looking neither to the right nor left during a sermon in church, passes the understanding. A man will sit on a picket fence all the afternoon to see a ball match, but put him in a church pew for three quarters of an hour and he will wobble all over the seat.

It has been discovered that excellent preserves can be made of banana peels. It is to be hoped that the discovery will be taken advantage of to such an extent that the banana peel will never be found on a sidewalk again. That kind of preserves will have much to do with preserving the dignity and equality of many men on many occasions.

Halladay & Co.'s colored Georgia Minstrels occupied the boards at the Ashland Theatre, Thursday evening. They are of the regular old-fashioned sort, such as causes one to kindly remember the good old days of minstrel shows. The programme was new and varied and the entertainment was greatly enjoyed by all who were present. There is no disputing the fact that they are "original" in every respect. They drew the largest house of any entertainment this season.—Ashland Courier.

A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which the sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that over which the sleeper carries the sleeper while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper, the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper, while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper by striking the sleeper under the sleeper, and there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper on the sleeper.

The Prejudiced Palatino.

The enterprising (?) proprietors of the Tribune and Democrat at McCook, presented their readers with a tri-plate tax list, last week. If our county commissioners had had a little wit they would have let the contract to papers in the county that are capable of doing all the work at home. But the sending of the tax list to have it set up and stereotyped is on a par with sending the county job work to get done by non-payers, by people who have no interest in the county more than to make money out of it. We hope another year will see a change along this line and that for all work that can be done in the county, the contracts be let to residents and taxpayers who will do the work and thus keep the money at home. We have to say for the enlightenment of the unsophisticated cot who penned the above billings bilge that the plates of the delinquent tax list now running in the TRIBUNE and Democrat of this city were cast in the stereotyping rooms of THE McCOOK TRIBUNE. Oh, thou jealous jade, who shall deliver you!

A Solid Growth

Beats a boom, it is said; and the truthfulness of the statement is beautifully exemplified in the thousands of dollars invested in splendid, substantial improvements in this city, this year. The work has progressed without special blowing of trumpets, elegant buildings and other costly improvements have been completed, one after another. Perhaps the city has never experienced a more solid growth in any one year of her history. And McCook's building boom has not yet commenced—her era of growth seems just about to dawn. The zenith of that growth will be glorious; its culmination bids fair to exceed the expectation of many hopeful ones even.

Will Have Handsome Quarters.

The McCook Book and Stationery Co. are having the old postoffice building, lately purchased by them, thoroughly overhauled and renovated, preparatory to moving into the same. A new hardwood floor, raised a few inches to correspond with the street grade, has been laid; the walls and ceilings handsomely and elaborately decorated with paper especially designed; shelving of yellow pine, with hard oil finish, provided; and every thing pointed up in elegant style. They will have a fine, well-appointed store room, which they expect to occupy by Saturday evening.

The Boom Edition.

We still have on hand a number of hundred copies of the "write-up edition." We hope to have them placed where they will do the most good; and to this end will dispose of a remainder at 2 1/2 cents per copy; 25 cents a dozen; $2.00 a hundred. At these low figures they ought to be taken rapidly. We have been to considerable expense of money and labor in its preparation, and do not feel able to stand the expense of circulating them as well. Do your part in advertising the city by sending a number of copies to the east.

Last Saturday Night's Rally.

A crowded house greeted M. A. Hartigan, Esq., at the opera hall, last Saturday evening. He handled the issues of this campaign in a most masterly manner, and held the close attention of his large audience during the hour and a half occupied in the delivery of his excellent speech. Perhaps no more able address on questions political has been made in our city during this campaign. It was a clear, concise, forceful and convincing statement of the present situation.

A ROUSING RALLY.

SECRETARY OF STATE LAWS AND CONGRESSMAN LAIRD TO BE PRESENT. The republican rally at the opera hall, tomorrow evening, promises to be the grandest of the season, and an immense attendance is assured. Congressman Laird and Secretary Laws will make the speeches on the occasion. Music will be furnished by the band. It will be a rouser. Don't fail to attend.

Town 4 Republican Club.

A republican club was organized in Town 4, Wednesday evening, by Messrs. T. E. McCracken and C. W. Davis, with the following officers: President, N. A. Fraue; Vice President, W. K. Forbes; Secretary, W. M. Rozell. The club commences its organized work with a membership of some 15 or 20 aggressive, intelligent republicans from whom good work may be expected in that locality.

The Rule Declared Off.

The inspiring music of the water works whistle will be heard no more—this season. Those who have paid their lawn tax will hereafter be allowed the privilege of using water for lawn purposes at hours of their own election and in amounts without particular limitation. This will allow of the thorough watering of lawns, etc., before the winter season sets in, an act which has trees started should perform.

Halladay's Minstrels.

J. H. Halladay & Co.'s minstrels, well known to the theatre-going people of our city, will give one of their popular entertainments in the opera hall, Thursday evening next, October 18th. The company is said to be better prepared to delight their patrons than ever before. A full house is assured.

Assume All Risks.

It is authoritatively stated that an unusually large amount of counterfeit money is at present in circulation in the city. But don't let this deter any of our delinquent subscribers from coming in liquidating, for fear of passing some of the "queer" on us. We will assume all risks.

The "Sore and Yellow Leaf"

Cool mornings and evenings, brown "prairie" and the fact that the trees are rapidly assuming their autumn foliage all go to remind us that the summer is over, harvest ended; and that shortly Jack Frost will coolly draw his mantle of white around him and reign supreme.

Two of a Kind.

On Monday, James Tenelworth's little girl sustained a fractured arm, below the elbow, in a fall. And for Wednesday, Mike Welch's young daughter received a similar injury in a like manner. Both of the little ones are doing well under the skillful care of Dr. Davis.

Don't Live in Indianola, You Know.

The Indianola Courier thinks that the county file was not a success and places the responsibility upon the fact that William Coleman, president, and C. W. Beck, secretary, live in McCook and Bartley respectively. To be sure.

On His Own Hook.

John Steinmetz, late chief clerk to Receiver Steinmetz, has resigned his position and gone into business for himself. He will do a real estate and loan business, making contracts a specialty. His office is over Citizens bank.

DEATHS.

WELBORN—Of apoplexy, at the residence of T. M. Welborn, Esq., Sunday, Oct. 7th, 1888. Mrs. T. C. Welborn, nee 7th and 8th streets.

The deceased was born in February, 1811, in Tennessee, and while quite young moved to Kentucky. When a young lady she joined the Presbyterian church of which she remains a faithful and consistent member up to her death. Over fifty years ago she married William Welborn. Seven children came to bless their union and were spared to care for their parents in their old age. In 1851 the family moved to Missouri and in 1855 to this state, where they have continued to reside. The four sons, T. M., Frank, John and Jesse are well known to our citizens; the two daughters reside in Cass county. The remains were buried in the cemetery at this place. To the bereaved ones a host of friends join in an expression of our sincere
