Senator Everts' Log Cabin.

Senator Everts has erected an old fashioned Log Cabin on an elevated point of land which he lately purchased on the Potomac, just below Washington.

It is much more elegant in its finish and appointments than were the homes of our ancestors in the Log Cabin days long ago, but probably not more conducive to comfort.

Outside, it presents the appearance of the typical old fashioned house of the pioneers, being built of logs hewn in the adjacent forest and raised and chinked in the olden style. The interior will be finished in native woods, from the place, but, unlike the primitive original, it will be finished in oil.

This is luxury to which the dwellers in the rustic cabins of early days dared not aspire, it being pure luxury, and not adding to the comfort of the domicile.

Senator Everts began the Log Cabin last summer with the determination that if Gen. Harrison were elected, he would reverse the popular campaign name of half a century ago. "From the Log Cabin to the White House," is a social axiom of the new administration, "From the White House to the Log Cabin."

Harrison was successful; Senator Everts, unfortunately, was not. He has, however, doubtless a great success. Many a happy day's surcease from the toils and cares of his great station, our great Log Cabin president will no doubt enjoy beneath its hospitable roof as the friend of the general, senior Senator from New York.

Great as the success may be that attends the introduction of this old-time log cabin to fashionable life, it cannot be greater than the success which has attended the introduction of Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, one of the old-time, effective remedies, the use of which, in primitive times, gave our grand parents health and rugged old age.

Senator Everts' log cabin is but another evidence of the tendency in fashionable life, at present so marked, toward things primitive and antiquated. The new fashion is for things old fashioned, and a return to the old fashioned roots and herbs remedies of long ago days is noted with pleasure, as their common use does not permanently injure the system, as the use of the mineral drugs of modern medical practice does.

Lead not your stock into temptation by poor fancies.

A Hundred Tons of Money.

It hardly seems possible that the money paid in one month for a ten-cent article, could, if pennies were used in payment, weigh one hundred tons. One of our bright school boys has figured that this is true of Diamond Dyes. To judge from the stocks of dealers, large stocks of Diamond Dyes own the field of package dyes, and are a complete success. Of course they have imitations. "Nothing is a success until it is sold." But no one wants to risk a counterfeiter when the genuine can be obtained at the same price. Three new colors have lately been added to the list of Diamond Dyes: Fast Stocking Black, Turkey Red for Cotton, and Brown for Cotton. The manufacturer, Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., will send colored samples of these new dyes, with book of directions, to any address, free of charge. These additions have made the line so complete that any shade can be matched with some color of Diamond Dyes. The beautiful sample book of colors, lately sent to all dealers in dyes, will delight the eye of any lady. "It's easy to dye with Diamond Dyes," is so absolutely true that dyeing is no longer a difficult and disagreeable task. Almanacs, with their hints as to proper times for different work, tell us that now is the time for Spring dyeing. This, together with the thought of that hundred tons of money, leads us to ask what school boy can figure how many thousands of ladies are now saving that this is the time to use Diamond Dyes.

FOR THE LADIES.

Two Very Pretty Jackets Illustrated and Described.

A Smart Blind-Deaf-Mute Girl—Kentucky's Girl Preacher.

Woman's Work!

Darning little stockings for restless little feet.

Washing little faces to keep them clean and bright.

Hearing Bible lessons, teaching catechism, Praying for salvation from heresy and sin.

Woman's Work!

Letting fall her own tears where only God can see.

Wiping off another's with tender sympathy; Learning by experience, teaching by example.

Striving for the gateway, golden, pearly, simple.

Woman's Work!

Lastly cometh silence, a day of deep repose. Her locks are smoothly braided, upon her breast a rose.

Lashes resting gently upon a marble cheek, A look of blessed peace upon the forehead meek.

A fresh grave in the valley, tears, bitter sobs, regret.

One more solemn lesson, that life may not be forever hidden, the race forever run, Dust to dust and voice to voice.

And woman's work is done.

And woman's work is done.

A "Smoking" Jacket:

FOR THE LADIES.

Two Very Pretty Jackets Illustrated and Described.

A Smart Blind-Deaf-Mute Girl—Kentucky's Girl Preacher.

Woman's Work!

Darning little stockings for restless little feet.

Washing little faces to keep them clean and bright.

Hearing Bible lessons, teaching catechism, Praying for salvation from heresy and sin.

Woman's Work!

Letting fall her own tears where only God can see.

Wiping off another's with tender sympathy; Learning by experience, teaching by example.

Striving for the gateway, golden, pearly, simple.

Woman's Work!

Lastly cometh silence, a day of deep repose. Her locks are smoothly braided, upon her breast a rose.

Lashes resting gently upon a marble cheek, A look of blessed peace upon the forehead meek.

A fresh grave in the valley, tears, bitter sobs, regret.

One more solemn lesson, that life may not be forever hidden, the race forever run, Dust to dust and voice to voice.

And woman's work is done.
