LAD TO REST.

This morning, the mortal remains of Sam Fisk were consigned to their last resting place in the "city of the dead"—Longview.
The obsequies occurred from the Lutheran church, being in charge of the Knights of Pythias of this city, of which lodge he was a faithful and enthusiastic member. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Kimmel.
The deceased formerly resided in Mc-Cook, being employed by the Burlington in the capacity of locomotive fireman. With a number of others, after the strike, he moved to Trinidad, Colo., where he secured work on the Ft. Worth road. It was while in the discharge of his duty as fireman on this road that he met his sad and tragic death in a collision. There are many hearts in McCook that will ache upon learning of his untimely demise. All true hearts go out to his beloved wife in her deep sorrow. Peace to his ashes.

E. M. Farnsworth, War Claim Attorney, arrived from Decorah, Iowa, on train No. 1, October 9th, to attend the reunion, and will remain here about ten days.

Editor Warner of the Stockville Faber, DeWald of the Trenton Register, and Barnes of the Indianola Times, are among our visitors, to-day.

As to the size of our pension roll, in comparison with those of other countries, it is explained by the fact that no nation in Europe ever had so many men in the field during a four year's war as we had, and every nation in Europe claims that it owns its subjects body and soul, while we recognize the fact that the people of this country own the government—are in fact, the government, and the people who are well and uninjured, claim the right to vote money to their fellows who did the fighting for their common heritage.

UNDER a recent legislative enactment trusts are illegal in Missouri. The law declares it to be a conspiracy punishable by fine and imprisonment to enter into any trust and combination to regulate or fix the price or quantity of any article of merchandise to be manufactured, and it prohibits corporations from owning or issuing trust certificates and declares any contracts made with that object in view to be in violation of law. Operating under this law the secretary of state, whose duty it is to see that the enactment is enforced, has addressed circulars to officers of corporations doing business in the state, requiring them to inform him under oath whether they have, since the enactment, complied with its provisions. It will be interesting to note what the officers will have to say, for there is no doubt that in many cases they have violated the law. It will certainly have the effect in any event of making monopoly assume a definite shape in that state.

The selection of Norval for the associate judgeship of the supreme court, was in the nature of a land slide. Reese was completely buried under the vote of 545 to 269.
