C. H. MARTIN, Secretary. C. T. BREWER, Chairman.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

In response to the persistent urgings of numerous and warm acquaintances and friends throughout Western Nebraska, Mr. J. C. Allen of our city has concluded to permit the use of his name in connection with the secretary of state ship, and THE TRIBUNE takes pleasure in formally announcing his candidacy. Primarily, because Mr. Allen is splendidly and efficiently equipped for the discharge of the duties of that high office with fidelity to the people of the state and with credit to himself; and secondarily, because a proper local pride makes the privilege doubly felicitous. Mr. Allen is a sturdy young Republican, a typical Nebraskan of good metal, full of the elements and promise of the energetic and successful western business man, possessing the manly, independent qualifications which should mark the public servant, and which recommend him as a deserving object of popular suffrage. Mr. Allen is in the field with a support from this section of the state which augurs well for the attitude he will occupy as a candidate before the coming state convention.

WAIT for the Republican county convention!

CONGRESSMAN LAWS' true friends throughout the district will do well to be watchful. There is no foe so dangerous as an ostensible friend. Trade is in the air. Be alert. Let your delegates be men above the dirty dickering of political suttlers.

LAWS WILL BE RENOMINATED.

To the Editor of The State Journal.

HAVING just completed a business trip that carried me into the most of the counties of the Second congressional district, and feeling at all times a lively interest in matters political, I took not a little pains to inform myself as to the situation while there. My conclusion is that Laws will be renominated and this conclusion is based largely on the fact that the people of the district are reasonable and believe in fair play. They know him to be an honest man, true to his convictions of duty, and that he has worked conscientiously and hard to serve them in matters of legislation. They realize the fact that under the most favorable circumstances, the matter of settling 200 post-office and many other appointments in the district, was extremely difficult and embarrassing, and as there were in all cases many aspirants, there was sure to be many disappointed, and it is the disappointed aspirants that in all parties usually make up the body of kickers. The people understand that for a year business had, owing to the sickness and death of his predecessor, accumulated to such a degree that the most extreme dissatisfaction prevailed in all parts of the district, and a year's strife for possession of the post-office appointments had engendered a degree of bitterness among the supporters of rival aspirants that the unsuccessful side immediately transferred to Mr. Laws when in the line of duty he settled the matter as to whom should be appointed. Those holding pledges from Mr. Laird seemed to think that Mr. Laws was in duty bound to care for them, regardless of all other considerations, and as this could not in all cases be done, the list of kickers grew. The people understand that they themselves are wholly at variance as to just what legislation is needed or desired, and how utterly impossible it is for any congressman to suit all of a constituency that is of itself divided on the leading issues which congress is now trying to settle. There is a disposition among those who are looking forward to becoming candidates after a reapportionment and redistricting to concede Mr. Laws another term rather than to send a new man at this time, and this, together with the fact that they hope, if successful once, to receive the courtesy of a second term is favorable to his renomination, and I think it doubtful if when the convention meets there will be found any one willing to contest the nomination with the man who through the heat and discomfort of midsummer remains at his post of duty, working early and late for the people whom he represents, rather than to come home and enter into a strife for self, and who, by all the traditions of his party, should be given a second term by the unanimous vote of his party in convention and at the polls.

NEBRASKA crops are in pretty fair condition, taking them all around. The oat crop was light and a failure in some localities. The wheat crop developed rapidly at the last in many parts of the state and will make a good yield, the harvesting being about completed. Another heavy corn crop has been started and if the weather continues favorable, a yield fully up to the average for the state will be made. The season is about two weeks later than usual.—Falls City Journal.

A CONFERENCE of prominent republicans was held in the city today. In addition to the local gentlemen present, the following were here from over the state: J. E. Cochran, McCook; Jules A. Dempster of Geneva, N. V. Harlan of York, J. J. Steadman of Omaha, E. O. Kretzinger and W. Morton Smith, managing editor of the Republican.—Lincoln Cor. Sunday Republican.

THE "Goosetown Banner's" solicitude for Congressman Laws, last fall, is explained by the fact that he was an applicant for the McCook land office. His vindictive opposition to Mr. Laws, this fall, is explained by the fact that his presumption was rebuked. Mr. Laws will get Red Willow's delegation, just the same.

THE republicans of Hayes county at their convention, Monday of this week, renewed their allegiance to Congressman Laws by selecting a solid delegation in his support.

ACTING upon THE TRIBUNE's kindly suggestion in last week's issue, the democracy of the 67th district have brought forward John S. Hughes as their legislative candidate, through their organs the Hayes County Times and Benkelman Democrat. That is right. Follow THE TRIBUNE and your attire will be silk and you will wear diamonds, etc., etc.

ANANIAS of the "Goosetown Banner" never forgives one who refuses his presumptuous demands. Congressman Laws failed to deliver him the Registership of the McCook land office, and his warm support of the Congressman, last year, was quickly changed to a malignant and mendacious warfare on Mr. Laws, this campaign. Bishop will die a victim of his own venom one of these days.

SEN. BURTON of Orleans pulled our latch string on Tuesday. The Senator has shied his castor into the Gubernatorial arena and, if he does not greatly mistake the signs of the times, will corral a large number of the Republican Valley votes, and have his share of delegates through other portions of the state. Mr. Burton is an old settler and served as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, State Senator and other minor positions. He is a man of good judgment and much political sagacity and will, as the turf men would say, give his competitors a "horse race."—Crete Vidette.

THE FIRST IN THE FIELD.

Pursuant to call a peoples' convention was held at Indianola, last Saturday, and a ticket was duly placed in the field. The major portion of the delegates were on hand, Friday night, and at the caucus held then, and it is stated as having been warm and lengthy, the slate was virtually made up, the convention on the morrow simply ratifying the work of the caucus in a formal way. J. B. Teas was the presiding officer and F. G. Stilgebauer, Secretary. In the forenoon the convention organized in usual form and adopted the platform promulgated from state headquarters, after which an adjournment was taken for dinner.

Reassembling at one o'clock, the delegates set to work in a perfunctory way to place in nomination a county ticket. It was smoothly and expeditiously done and resulted as follows:

For Representative,
A. C. MODI of Coleman Precinct.
For Treasurer,
GEO. W. BURT of Indianola precinct.
For Attorney,
SIDNEY DODGE of Gerver Precinct.
For Commissioner, 1st District,
S. S. GRAHAM of Beaver Precinct.
For Commissioner, 3rd District,
ISAIAH BENNETT, of Lebanon Precinct.
The nominees each made neat, but brief speeches, expressing with marvelous unanimity their surprise at being called upon to serve their country in the various offices, stating their sympathy with the movement and their willingness to sacrifice their personal interests for the public weal.

The closing business of the convention was quickly performed: A. Utter, T. M. Clark, J. F. Helm, S. W. Stilgebauer, Sidney Dodge, I. W. Spaulding, T. M. Smith, Thos. Teas, E. M. Pearson, A. C. Teal, S. S. Graham, J. F. Black, Chas. Collins, W. E. Rollings, N. W. Miller and A. G. Dole were named as state delegates. The County Central Committee was constituted with J. B. Teas as Chairman and F. G. Stilgebauer, Secretary, and delegates from each of the precincts.
