

By F. M. KIMMELL.

A RECOUNT of the population of New York City began last week.

OVER sixteen thousand bills have been introduced in congress the present session.

IOWA papers claim that the new tariff bill will save that state $2,000,000 per year.

THE constitutionality of the original package law is to be tested in the supreme court.

A BILL has been introduced in the house of representatives, to locate a branch mint at Chicago.

DISTRICT Assembly 246 of the Knights of Labor has officially admitted the failure of the New York Central strike and declared it off.

THERE will be no break in the Nebraska congressional delegation. Three republicans will as usual represent this state in the next congress.

FROM the latest statement of the Treasury department it is estimated that the present circulation is $22.11 per capita on a basis of 65,000,000 population.

THE more the site chosen for the Columbian exposition is examined the greater satisfaction does it give. Chicago has opened her parlor, in the language of one of her newspapers, to the great international party to be held there years hence, and none of the bidden guests will stay away through fear of inhospitable treatment. The clouds that have overhung this enterprise almost since its inception, have been cleared away, and now every true American will work with might and main to eclipse even the famous Paris exposition. Nebraska must prepare to do her part.—Journal.

ON LAST Saturday morning Attorney Morlan and Editor Wahlquist had a joint discussion in the office of the Leland hotel at this place on the merits and demerits of the combination candidate for Congress in this district, and although R. B. defended his candidate with marked ability, he could not evade a pointed question and had to admit that the supplement published in his paper and said to be signed by 200 business men of Red Cloud, was not an endorsement of McKeighan, but merely a glittering array of generalities which do not prove or deny a single allegation charged against him. It simply gives it as their opinion that if he was elected he might do better. He also admitted that not one man in ten would read it carefully and analyze it, and that it would consequently gain its end: mislead instead of inform.—Indianola Times.

THE DWYER-McKEIGHAN CASE.

HASTINGS, NEB., Oct. 6.—[Special to The Bee.]—An interesting fact in connection with the case of Dan C. Dwyer, the alleged lunatic, against W. A. McKeighan has just been discovered by The Bee correspondent. The facts in the case are pretty well known and are in brief as follows: When McKeighan entered upon the duties of county judge of Webster county he received from his predecessor $287.60 belonging to Dan C. Dwyer, who had previously been adjudged insane. This money he has never paid to Mr. Dwyer nor did he turn it over to his successor in office. Mr. Dwyer sued McKeighan for the amount, alleging embezzlement, and McKeighan entered no appearance and made no answer. Judgment was accordingly rendered against him on April 17, 1890, for the full amount. McKeighan and his friends admit that he withholds the money, but to justify him, claim that Dwyer has never been legally competent to receive it. It has just been ascertained that Mr. Dwyer was discharged from the state hospital for the insane as recovered in 1885, and before McKeighan entered the office of county judge. The question now arises what explanation can McKeighan make to justify himself in keeping this money for campaign purposes. Mr. Dwyer has been obliged to mortgage his farm to raise money, which he would not have done had he received what was due him from Judge McKeighan. He is a Webster county farmer, a member of the alliance and a democrat, but not a McKeighan man.—Bee Oct. 8.

FEW men on the Republican state ticket have grown in public fervor more rapidly and substantially than J. C. ALLEN, our fellow-townsmen and candidate for secretary of state. His quiet, business-like demeanor before the people has made him friends everywhere.

Congressman Laws.

Congressman Laws returned from Washington, Friday, and was a pleasant caller, Saturday. Speaking of the McKinley bill he said it was the best they could do and thought it would serve the country well. He does not think the Lodge force bill will pass and is against it. He said the Hastings public building bill is in excellent shape, and he believes he can secure its passage in December if properly assisted. Congressman Laws says that he is glad his duties are nearly ended. He is in excellent health, and says that Washington climate agrees with him.—Hastings Democrat.

Kalstedt, The Tailor.

Successor to L. Bernheimer, wishes to announce that he is now located in the rear of The First National Bank, with a new stock of latest and most fashionable fall and winter suitings, and is prepared to give the public correct and satisfactory results in all branches of the merchant tailoring business. He invites a trial and guarantees satisfaction.

John C. Allen.

There's no trouble about him. He's a business man and has a good, clean record. There's no trouble about a man who has a good record. Open, honest and manly. Everybody respects him. Allen will make a good secretary of state because he will attend closely to the details of the business.—Sutton Advertiser.

Wall Paid.

It is rumored at Indianola that McCook paid that distinguished, well-fed jurist Judge Jay Boone Cessna, O. P. $800 cash for five prohibition addresses. McCook, on the other hand, says Indianola agreed to pay $800 for four speeches. If reports be true, the judge has been well paid.—Hastings Democrat.

Come Again, Joe.

The labors of Joe Critchfield, the temperance advocate, closed at the opera house, Wednesday evening, with a literary and musical entertainment of decided merit, and replete with enjoyment and instruction. The audience was deservedly large, sympathetic and enthusiastic. Come again, Joe.

Everybody Takes Satisfaction

In driving a good team, and in a clean, comfortable jig. The City livery and feed stable is catering to just that trade, and is making a special effort to give satisfaction. Give me a trial.

What's in a Mug of Beer.

[From the Pharmaceutical Record.] A writer in a German newspaper has had the temerity to jot down the ingredients which go to make up a glass of beer in Germany. The pharmacopoeia of the beer barrel this scientific man sets forth in alphabetical order. We give the German nomenclature for fear of spoiling the brew. It consists, says the writer, of: Alcohol, Lakritzensaft, Athopienol, Logensalz, Aloe, Malzextract, Metallsalze, Mohn, Moussepulver, Bilsenkraut, Natron, Bitterkies, Niezwurz, Buchenspane, Nux vomica, Caraghenmoos, Pickersaure, Coloquinten, Enzian, Pottasche, Fichtennadeln, Quassa, Gogel, Heis salicylsure, Gelatine, Starkezucker, Glycerine, Spanischer Pfeffer, Haselnusspane, Soda, Hosenblase, Starkezucker, Herbstzeitloee, Starkemehl, Hofenaroma, Strychnin, Hopfenbittensure, Syrup, Ingwer, Tannin, Ingwer, Tausendguldenkraut, Kamille, Tischlerlein, Kartoffelzucker, Wacholder, Karobenedict-Waldmeister, enkraut, Weidenschalen, Kockelkorn, Wermuth, Korlander, Zuckeroulor, etc. This, adds the Record, is why we pass on lager.

SELLING OUT

The - Cash - Bargain - House

IS GOING OUT OF BUSINESS ENTIRELY.

The prices we are selling at will be called SENSATIONAL, and our methods ditto, by some, simply because they would be impossible to them. With CAPITAL to swing, opportunity to sell, and knowledge and GRIT to BUY, we bought for less money, we sold cheaper and handled more goods than any other concern in McCook. In closing out we shower upon you bargain after bargain, without thinking of what each may be worth, until the very air reeks with dry goods bargains. Now is the time to buy—to borrow for to buy, for with the ending of THE CASH BARGAIN HOUSE comes the ending of the reason why.
