A Poverty-stricken Millionaire!

This seems a paradox, but it is explained by one of New York's richest men. "I don't count my wealth in dollars," he said. "What are all my possessions to me, since I am a victim of consumption? My doctor tells me that I have but a few months to live, for the disease is incurable. I am poorer than that beggar yonder."

But, interrupted the friend to whom he spoke, "consumption can be cured. If taken in time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will eradicate every vestige of the disease from your system." "I'll try it," said the millionaire, and he did, and to-day there is not a healthier, happier man to be found anywhere. "Discovery" strikes at the seat of the complaint. Consumption is a disease of the blood—is nothing more or less than lung-scurf—and it must and does yield to this wonderful remedy.

Our Beef Abroad.

American stock growers may well make up their minds that their hold on the European market is to be maintained by not only the production of a good article for export, but the exercise of no little ingenuity in meeting the objections which foreigners are offering to their product. American live stock and dressed beef are figuring more largely from year to year in the English markets, to the natural and great dissatisfaction of English producers. Various pretexts are sought by which to cut off this trade, and whether well grounded or not, some of them seem destined to give our exporters serious annoyance before a general while. The English market for produce of this kind, is of great value to us, and we cannot afford to give it up without a struggle.—National Stockman.

A Bride Should Not Wear a Decollete Dress.

By the bye, it should always be remembered that no matter how beautiful the neck and arms of a bride are she is sinning against good form who does not have a high neck and long sleeved bodice, for it must be remembered that she is not going to a dance or reception, but to a religious ceremony that means the joy or misery of her future life, and while everything may be as merry as a marriage bell, in the bride's frock there should be an expression of her knowledge of that which she is undertaking.—Mrs. Mallon in Ladies' Home Journal.

The Number of Teeth.

In the majority of mammals the teeth are limited in number and defined in their forms. The number ranges from one in the narwhal to 220 in the dolphin. The average is 32; the types with this number being represented by man, the apes and the ruminants. Forty-four is called the typical or normal number. The animals in which this number occur are represented by the hog and mole. The number of teeth in the animals last named is exceeded only in animals of the lower groups.

The Child of an Evil Parent.

Malvolio says in Shakspeare's Comedy of Twelfth Night, "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." So it is with nervousness. Some are born nervous, some achieve nervousness by their own imprudence and neglect, and some have nervousness thrust upon them by disease. The basic starting point in this ailment, which grows rapidly and assumes alarming proportions when it reaches the stage of hypochondria and chronic sleeplessness, is weakness, the child of indigestion, parent of many evils. For the incapacity of the stomach to digest food, and of the system to assimilate it after digestion, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has ever proved a sovereign remedy. Sleep becomes tranquil, appetite improves, abnormal sensitiveness of the nerves is succeeded by steadiness and vigor in those delicate tissues, bodily substances increases when that signal restorative of digestion is systematically used. Conquer also with it malaria, rheumatism, kidney inactivity, liver complaint and constipation.

Men With Three Eyes.

There is a tradition among the Persians and the Jews of eastern Palestine that the old patriarchs and people in general had three eyes, one in the back part of the head, prior to the time Moses was given the law on the tables of stone. On that eventful day, Moses commanded his followers to turn their faces from Sinai. This they did, but took care to uncover the other eye, which Moses commanded to henceforth be forever closed.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, With Hypophosphites.

If we didn't have any trials we couldn't have any faith.

Forty persons that accumulate in the blood and rot the machinery of the system, are eradicated and expelled by us by Prickly Ash Bitters, a medicine that will irritate the stomach or bowels, it acts in a gentle manner on these delicate organs, and restores health in every case.

A pugilist who drinks is likely to get into a tight box.

"The man in the wrong is the one who won't forgive."

"The tree of deepest root is found, least willing still to leave the ground" and this could once have been most truly said of chronic pain of any sort. But after the lapse of so many ages, a sovereign remedy has been found in Serravallo's, every prudent householder should keep it.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

But do not use the dangerous alkaline and mercurial preparations which destroy your nervous system and ruin the digestive power of the stomach. The vegetable kingdom gives us the best and safest remedial agents. Dr. Sherman devoted the greater part of his life to the discovery of this reliable and safe remedy, and all its ingredients are vegetable. He gave it the name of Prickly Ash Bitters!

A name every one can remember, and to the present day nothing has been discovered that is so beneficial for the BLOOD, for the LIVER, for the KIDNEYS and for the STOMACH. This remedy is now so well and favorably known by all who have used it that arguments as to its merits are useless, and if others who require a corrective to the system would but give it a trial the health of this country would be vastly improved. Remember the name—PRICKLY ASH BITTERS. Ask your druggist for it.

Have You? Many Millions Have accepted James Pyle's invitation to try his wonderful discovery, Pyle's Pearline; for easy washing and cleaning. You couldn't count them in a lifetime. Some of the twelve million housekeepers in this land must have accepted very often. That's the way with Pearline. The wise woman who investigates, tries it; the woman who tries it continues to use it. A daily increasing sale proves it. The truth is, there's nothing so acceptable as Pearline. Once accept its help, and you'll decline the imitations—they don't help you. It washes clothes or cleans house. It saves labor and it saves wear. It hurts nothing, but it's suited to everything. Try it when it suits you, for it will suit you when you try it.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 175 JAMES PYLE, New York.
