The farmers' alliance up in Frontier county are already preparing to celebrate the Fourth of July at Stockville in grand style.

Marsh, the liveryman, makes a specialty of pleasing his patrons. He sends out good horses and clean, comfortable vehicles, at fair rates.

The Eagle Clothing Store is in the clothing business. They will dress you up handsomely and stylishly, and do it at a very reasonable figure.

Make Noble your family grocer and many other blessings will fall to your lot, besides having the best groceries on your table that the market affords.

Remember that Marsh offers the public the best of livery facilities. At the same time he don't want the earth. A reasonable amount of "dust" satisfies him.

And the True Democrat is with us.

A policeman's star now ornaments W. D. Paine's manly breast.

To celebrate or not to celebrate, that is the question. Don't all speak at once.

Considerable of the sidewalk recently ordered built by the council on Manchester street has been put down, this week.

Already the streets and sidewalks show evidences of the fact that Street Commissioner Bennett has donned his work cloths.

THE TRIBUNE is the first paper mailed in the McCook postoffice. Then comes the aftermaths, gleaners, and neighborhood publications.

This is a time when the people must say with the poet Riley: "When God sorts out the weather and sends rain, why rain is my choice."

Some of the candidates for county offices will have to pull off, or the number of offices will be largely increased, or some trusting ones will be disappointed sadly, this fall. There are more dogs than days.

The wind played some uncanny pranks up in Town. Four, Monday evening. The sod houses of J. W. Smith and William Devine were unroofed, Mrs. Smith being slightly injured. Besides some sod stables were unroofed and windmills blown over. The neighborhood visited was small and damage caused was slight.

Rev. P. S. Mather has been called to Riverton to dedicate the new Methodist Episcopal church at that place. Rev. Fulmer of Culbertson will fill the pulpit in the Methodist church at McCook, next Sabbath morning and evening. Rev. Mather goes from Riverton to Lincoln to attend the commencement exercises at Wesleyan university and will not be back for a week.

Tuesday noon, Dr. Davis had quite an exciting runaway. His spirited team became frightened and in their efforts to get away broke a neck yoke strap. The pole falling to the ground, the buggy was quickly overturned and the Doctor and J. C. Birdsall were thrown out with more of alacrity than grace. Fortunately neither of the men were injured, though both have enough sore spots on their persons to keep them in remembrance for some days to come.

Patronize home industries. That sounds old and trite; but the advice is full of wisdom. That's the way to build up home institutions. That's the way to towns and cities are built. Its reciprocity in its most practical sense. Joe Reizenstein advocates the idea, and invites the people of McCook and vicinity to call at his parlor when they are looking for a first-class cigar, and become converts to that doctrine. Joe makes right here in our city goods of the best quality for the money. He accordingly solicits the patronage of our people. Patronize home industries.

The buffalos arrived in McCook, last Friday evening, and are quietly grazing on school section 16, about two miles northeast of the city, which Mr. Hoeknell has offered for their pasturage and which has been fenced for their accommodation. They number about 80 head, and comprise the largest herd on earth. The early days of the week the herd grazed over the vacant land adjoining the city on the north and scores of people took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the 30 or 40 thousand dollars' worth of bison in the Buffalo Jones herd. No doubt section 16 will be the objective point of many a pilgrimage from citizens and visitors, this summer, to see the noble animal that once held undisputed possession of this entire section of country.

Saturday, Mr. L. J. Holland submitted a plat and plans of his irrigating ditch. According to what knowledge we have of irrigation and the water supply here his plans are feasible. The Red Willow which affords an abundant supply of water has been dammed just below the railroad crossing, and a flood ditch has been constructed which carries off all surplus water, allowing none to go over the dam. The main ditch is cut for about a mile and a half and the work is moving along steadily. A number of reservoirs will be constructed at different points along the channel for storing water and in case the Willow cannot supply the demand Mr. Holland has a plan for tapping the underflow, which will furnish an inexhaustible supply. The survey for the ditch passes through Indianola on the street just south of the court house and Mr. H. expects by fall to have the water flowing through our city.—Herald.

A GREAT DAY.

That Decoration Day holds an exalted place in the hearts of the people is annually attested by the unanimous way they lay aside for the nonce their several business and professional affairs, and turn out en masse to decorate the veterans' graves with choicest flowers, and to engage in appropriate exercises in their sacred memory. Last Saturday was no exception to the rule,—on the contrary the exercises were of unusual interest and the outpouring of people more general.

The exercises at the opera hall consisted of patriotic music by the band, singing of appropriate songs by the school children, prayer by Post Chaplain Berry, reading of orders by Adjutant Wilcox, and closing with an eloquent oration befitting the occasion by Rev. P. S. Mather. The hall was not adequate to the concourse of people.

The parade then formed and the column proceeded to Longview cemetery in the following order: McCook Band; Sons of Veterans; a white pony bearing floral offerings on a handsome black velvet robe in which the letters "G. A. R." had been worked in gold; thirteen boys mounted on ponies to represent the original states; Goddess of Liberty and children representing all the states; J. K. Barnes Post, veterans, and W. R. C., in carriages; fire department; citizens in carriages etc. The procession was perhaps the longest ever seen in McCook. At the cemetery the exercises were impressive. There were recitations, vocal and instrumental music, the graves of the departed heroes were lavishly bedecked with flowers, a grand salute was fired by the Sons of Veterans, and after a short address by Commander Welles they disbanded.

The weather was propitious; the attendance large; the exercises replete with patriotism and interest; and withal it was a highly creditable celebration of a grand day.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The closing exercises of the public schools held in the Lutheran church, last Friday evening, formed one of the brightest and most interesting entertainments of that character ever given in this city. Long before the opening, standing room on the lower steps was at a premium, and many failed to gain admittance. The program was rendered in a meritorious manner throughout, commencing with opening exercises by the school. Little Edwin Cochran recited "The Little Claim Holders" very pleasingly. "Mamma's Help" was given in an acceptable manner by Amy Creswell. "The Rescue" was rendered by Master Walter Shaw with his usual effectiveness. The wand drill by eight little girls was one of the prettiest features of the program. Bertha Boyle has an established reputation, and her recitation of "The Relief of Lucknow" was up to her usual standard of excellence. Eva Reizenstein exhibited considerable talent in her violin solo, "Turkish March." Roy Smith strengthened his popularity by rendering the "Cause of Education" with most comical effect. A very cute thing was the trio by Jessie Huddleston, Alla and Vida Hagar, in costume. Frank Colfer's recitation of "The Painted Baby" elicited the most enthusiastic applause, and it was all deserved. A duet by Belle and Lillie Spry was well received. Mamie Chapin has a graceful, pretty way of saying things, and her recitation of "The Merrythought" was of that order. The concert recitations and choruses by the school were all given in a sprightly, satisfactory style. Mrs. E. G. Nettleton, county superintendent, and Prof. Wm. Valentine, city superintendent, closed the exercises with short addresses, full of interest and excellence.

AT REST.

There is a vacant chair and sadness in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ludwick. On Sunday morning, death came to the relief of their daughter Bernice, who had been a terrible sufferer for a number of days from a malady, the sequence of an attack of scarlet fever, which has baffled the physicians and caused the little sufferer excruciating pain. Little Bernice would have completed her fourth year in a few days. The funeral occurred on Monday afternoon. All hearts sympathize with the bereaved parents in the sorrow which has come into their lives.

"STICK TO YOUR LAST."

And by the same token the young "lawyer" who has been devoting several yards of "poetry" to the publisher of THE TRIBUNE lately should "stick to" his collections, and to his petty pettifoggery. They may prove more profitable to him in the end. See?

BOX ELDER REVIEW.

Small grain looks well.
Rye is about in full head.
About all the land in cultivation will be put in crop.

Corn planting is wound up and promises a good stand.
Roy Kimball has become a famous angler, a real Galilean in fact. He has drawn many a good "try" out of the Willow, this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Brower have both been quite sick and are not recovering as fast as could be wished.

Brother Berry's memorial sermon was full of tender feeling as only one who has interest in the subject can give.

Mrs. Piper and son, Morley, went down to Alma, last Thursday, to attend the graduation exercises of her son Edwin.

The exercises on Decoration day were very good. The forenoon was taken up in carrying out Mrs. Sherwood's "Memorial of Flowers" and decorating the graves. In the afternoon we listened to appropriate songs and declamations by the young people. Miss Anna Moore's essay "Thoughts for the Day" was full of sentiment and sound thought. Mrs. E. A. Saxon's "Memories of '61 and '62" were sad ones. We were favored in having Mr. C. H. Carmichael of Bartley to make the address of the day. Comrade Teas spoke of the good work done by the women during the war. Comrades Saxon and Johnson spoke of the past in that feeling manner that proves that comrades who sleep on Southern soil are "The lost to sight to memory dear." Afternoon exercises were preceded by the presentation of a large and beautiful crimson sash from Commissioner Boiles and County Clerk Roper to Veteran Association. The sash was presented in a neat speech by Comrade Johnson. Comrade Saxon as president accepted in behalf of and returned thanks in the name of the Association, promising to keep immaculate this token of their appreciation of the old veterans and to hand it down to his successor in office.

A Safe Investment.

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of throat, lungs or chest, such as consumption, inflammation of lungs, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, croup, etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to take, perfectly safe and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at McMillen's.

A century of progress has not produced a remedy equal to Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh, cold in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid or a snuff, but is perfectly safe and easily applied into the nostrils. It gives immediate relief and cures the worst cases.

Don't say there is no help for catarrh, hay fever and cold in the head, since thousands testify that Ely's Cream Balm has entirely cured them. It supercedes the dangerous use of liquids and snuffs. It is easily applied into the nostrils and gives relief at once.

A little girl in her prayer illustrated the value of advertising. In her innocence she said: "Lord, make me pure—make me absolutely pure, like baking powder."

IS SOME BETTER.

THE TRIBUNE rejoices to announce that Mr. Frank H. Fowler, who has been seriously ill all week with a dangerous bowel trouble, is some better. His sudden and alarming illness has called forth the solicitude of this entire community. While we cannot report him out of danger, his many friends will be glad to hear that his condition is more encouraging.

LATER—Before going to press we learn that the patient is weaker, and the result of another attack is viewed with alarm.
