BANKSVILLE BUDGET.

F. Cain has as fine a piece of spring wheat as has been noticed by the scribe.

T. C. Kelley, two miles west, had a dozen glass broken by hail, and some others in that vicinity.

Corn planting is about completed and what is up looks quite well considering the cool, moist weather.

The hail, Monday, June 1st, did not reach Banksville, but south on the state line was considerable hail.

Rain every day for a fortnight and the ground well wet up. Sunday was the first clear day for a week.

Mrs. S. R. Seaman was a visitor from McCook to Mrs. M. E. Hill and to her old home near Banksville, the first of this week.

W. H. Benjamin measured a straw of rye and reported it to be five feet. He has forty acres of as fine rye as the county can produce.

If appearances are any indication the vicinity of Banksville will show more abundant crops than any year since the settlement of the precinct. OBSERVER.

THE IRRIGATION AGE.

"The Irrigation Age," published at Denver, Colo., has already achieved a place as a standard publication. It comes out fortnightly, crowded to the covers with the news of irrigation developments and attractive illustrated articles. In the issue of June 1st, just from the press, it begins a most important series of papers on "The Future of the Public Lands," to which Governor Willey of Idaho, Major John W. Powell of the Geological Survey, Hon. Joseph Nimmo, Jr., of Washington, Hon. Elwood Mead of Wyoming, and others contribute strong articles. Most of them favor the ceding of lands to the states. Other attractive features are exhaustive articles on "Agriculture in Idaho," "Irrigation in Australia," "The Economical Use of Water," etc. Mr. T. S. Van Dyke edits the interesting California pages, and the departments on "The Irrigated Orchards," "Financial," "Personal" and "Irrigation Law" are as attractive as usual. Mr. Poore's "Humor of the Age" is one of the brightest of funny columns. Besides the principal edition, issued from Denver, the publishers now issue an Inter-Mountain edition from Salt Lake and Ogden, and a Pacific Coast edition from Los Angeles.

"Can the character be read from the handwriting?" Most assuredly it can. Everyone can remember being influenced favorably or unfavorably by the penmanship of some unknown person, and has been astonished to find how true the conclusions were, and some of the world's foremost thinkers have maintained that the handwriting furnishes a more exact key to the character than the head, face, or form. Character-reading from handwriting is a fascinating study; and if you wish to learn all about it you must read the excellent and profusely illustrated article "How to Read Character by Handwriting," by Prof. Nelson Thorpe, published in the July number of Demorest's Family Magazine. In the same number is a splendid article on "Chilli," which is particularly apropos at present; "Foes Afield: Plants Poisonous to the Stomach" is quite as seasonable. "Summer Outdoor Games: Lawn Tennis, Badminton, Colors," are clearly described and illustrated. Besides, there are stories and poems, and over 200 illustrations, and the departments are full to overflowing with valuable matter. Briefly, this number fully maintains the justly earned prestige of being the Model Family Magazine, and it is published for $3 per year by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York.

What it ought to become and can easily be made by energy, faith, and labor.

It contains all the news of irrigation development, articles on the use of water, the best crops to be cultivated, the experience of Colorado, California, and also foreign countries, departments in "THE IRRIGATED FARM" and "IRRIGATED ORCHARDS," and a hundred other things of practical usefulness to the farmers of South-Western Nebraska. It is worth

For the cure of the inflammation and congestion called "a cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh, after all modes of treatment have failed.
