'August Flower"

What is It For?

This is the query perpetually on your little boy's lips. And he is no worse than the bigger, older, balder-head-point. "What is it for?" we conis August Flower for ?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this brimful. We believe August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. Twenty past one, never, in any emergency, town. To-day it has an honored fell ill and faint. place in every city and country store, pos: sses one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country and sells everywhere. Why is this? The reason is as simple as a child's thought. It is honest, does one thing, and does it right along-it cures Dyspepsia.

A wail of distress comes from tortured clothes. Save their feelings, and your own back, by washing them with Pearline. Your clothes will last longer-your hours of labor will grow shorter. It takes away the dirt without taking away your strength. Nothing that "will wash" is toogoodfor Pearline-no praise is too strong for Pearline. Beware of imitations. 218 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

DRICKLY ASH

One of the most important organs of the human body is the LIVER. When it fails to properly perform its functions the entire system becomes deranged. The BRAIN, KIDNEYS, STOMACH, BOWELS, all refuse to perform their work. DYSPEPSIA, CON-STIPATION, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY DIS-EASE, etc., are the results, unless something is done to assist Nature in throwing off the impurities caused by the inaction of a TORPID LIVER. This assistance so necessary will be found in Prickly Ash Bitters!

It acts directly on the LIVER, STCMACH and KIDNEYS, and by its mild and cathartic effect and general tonic qualities restores these organs to a sound, healthy condition, and cures all diseases arising from these causes. It PURIFIES THE BLOOD, tones up the system, and restores perfect health. If your druggist does not keep it ask him to order it for you. Almost Starved.

In one way and another we were all frequently reminded of the uncertainty attaching to human judgments. A grown man, in the full possession of his faculties,-as we commonly speak,-certainly ought to know when he is hungry. Yet an experience like the following related by "Taverner' in the Boston Post, is probably not very exceptional: I was engaged some time ago in preed boys. Life is an interrogation paring an interesting chapter in my new work on the origin and developtinually cry from the cradle to the ment of the bonnet. I had got as far grave. So with this little introduc- as the head-dress worn by the Athentory sermon we turn and ask: "What | ian matrons to the theatre, and was naturally much engrossed with the work, when an inward monitor, in a still, small, but yet unmistakable voice suggested "lunch." I looked at my watch-it said three o'clock!

Now I always take luncheon at halfyears ago it started in a small country later than two. But three o'clock! I

> I started for the club, feeling like Rip Van Winkle when he came home for his lunch twenty years late. I passed a friend, and tried to slink by without his noticing, but I could see that he looked upon me sadly and askance, as if I were in some way a stricken wether of the flock.

I went in and sat down. Somehow every one else seemed to be late. looked at the clock it was exactly twenty-five minutes of two. I looked at my watch again. It was still three o'clock. It had stopped during the night. Now mark the result. I instantly recovered from the starvation from which I had been suffering, and began to converse in my usual cheerful and intelligent manner. But I did not mention the extraordinary behavior of my watch, which I now reveal only in strict confidence.

Street Scene in Montreal.

"I was passing down the St. Lawrence Avenue in Montreal, one cold winter day, says a contributor, when I saw a little tableau, the recollection of which has made me laugh many times since.

"A very courtly, dignified old gentleman, wrapped in a heavy beaverfur overcoat, was just passing another gentleman, who, from the appearance of his clothing, was in destitute circumstances, but trying to keep up a jaunty bearing, which went down the week's washing.' It wouldn't do with an ill grace in an atmosphere with the temperature at ten below zero. As the fur-coated gentleman passed, he glanced at the face of the other man sharply, and after taking three steps, he turned around, strode back to the other and touched him on the shoulder, saying very politely:

"Excuse me, sir, but I think your nose is frozen.'

"'Ah,' replied the other carelessly, 'shouldn't wonder. It very often is.' And catching up a handful of snow from the pavement he began to rub his nose furiously. Then taking off his hat very deliberately he bowed as if in a drawing-room, and said, 'I am under deep obligations to you, sir. Some time may I hope to be in a condition to return the favor!' "And the two formal Englishmen parted without having even smiled at the absurdity of the scene.'

French and German Bread Laws,

"The laws regulating the manufacture and sale of bread in France are very strict and are enforced with the utmost-vigor," said a prominent bread-maker last month. "The baker is not only required to conform to laws regarding weight, but he is also told at what price he must sell his bread. He is further required to deposit a certain sum of money in the hands of municipal authorities as a surety of good behavior. In the large fortified cities he has to keep a specific quanity of flour on hand to provide for war-like energencies. In Germany laws of similar import are in existence, and are enforced with such relentless severity that no baker ever dreams of defying them. The British law regulates the weight of loaves and makes provision for the cleanliness and ventilation of the bake-shops. The price is left to regulate itself by trade competition. The Ontario act empowers municipalities to engage officers for the prevention of fraud, and clothes them with authority to confiscate all bread found to be of light weight. The bread seized in this way is turned over to charitable instituker's Helper.

Preserve Your Vigor.

A healthy, vigorous system resists disease. Worms burrow in decaying trees; not in the young, the vigorous and the thrifty. Some persons can alers fall before the slightest attacks. Many diseases come from germs, which plant themselves within the body. and then multiply and destroy. If we have the vigor that can resist the first of these little germs, we escape. But if the system is debilitated: if bad food and bad air have impaired vitality; if stimulants, strong drink, sensual and vicious indulgences, excessive strains, idleness or inactivity, have sapped the vigor of the system, then disease lays hold upon the enfeebled frame and works its overthrow. Many a poor fellow whose life is wasting and wearing away with some incurable malady, is only paying the penalty for the excesses of those young days, when nothing he could eat, drink, or do, ever injured him! He had the treasure of health, -he squandered it, and now comes the time of settlement, and he finds that "the wages of sin is death."-

England's Taste in Smoking.

The English cigars are made o American tobacco, but fail in manipulation according to our standard. They look bright and "wooden" rather than like a natural leaf product. When cigars were introduced into England they all came from Cuba, and this being before the days of steam the goods were five or six weeks in transit, packed in the vessel's hold without ventilation. The cigars being made iu a humid climate, packed while fresh, fermented and generated a fungus like mites in cheese, which tasted very bitter when smoked, utterly destroying their value. It was then discovered that by subjecting the cigars to the dry heat of the kiln the life of the fungus was destroyed and the cigar became smokable.

It is owing to this fact that the English insist on "dry" cigars to the present day, and pinch them to see if they crack before they buy them. The cigar dealers knowing this mark a date on the bottom of eigar boxes as fresh stock is received, but the date marked is six months back, so a box marked October 1, 1889, would be received by the dealer April 1, 1890 .-New York Telegram.

is a coachman with all the trimmings. He came into the house a day or two ago, shortly after breakfast, and said he would like to go away for an hour

"I want to take some clothes to the shop to be mended," he said. "Certainly, James," assented his em-

"I won't be gone long," he said pologetically. "All right."

"And I won't tire the horses, so if ou want them later' "The horses!' exclaimed the head of the house. 'For heaven's sake. how far is it?" "Only a short distance, sir, and I'l be careful to keep them fresh."

"But what do you want them for?" . So awkward to carry a bundle, sir. Then it looks bad. People would say. There goes Brown's coachman with the family any good, sir."

Then Brown dropped his morning paper, gasped, and finally said:

Important Trade Name Decision. Judge Thayer of the United States Circuit Court at St. Louis, has recently handed down an opinion and granted a perpetual injunction against the defendants in the case of The Hortetter Co. against the Bruggeman Reinert Distilling Co., allas "Gold Spring Distilling Co.," prohibiting the advertising, manufacturing or selling of any article of stomach bitters either in bulk, by the gallon or otherwise, or in any way making use of the name "Hostetter," except in connection with the sale of the genuine bitters which are always sold in bottles securely sealed and also pronibiting the sale of any bitters in bulk, though the name "Hostetter" be not used. but the suggestion made to the purchaser that he can put them in the empty Hostetter bottles and purchasers would not discover the differ-ence. His decision supports the Hostetter company in the exclusive ue of the name "Hostet-ter" in connection with either the manufacture or sale of stomach bitters in any manner or form whatsoever, and firmly establishes its ownership in the same as a "TRADE NAME."

Prospective Purchaser - What a thoughtful looking parrot! Pelly want a cracker? The Parrot (late of Boston)-I am aware, my dear madam, that there exists an almost universal but erroneous belief that all parrots manifest a predilection for crackers. This hypothesis would be amusing were it not for the intimation it affords of the pathetie paucity of dietetic knowledge upon the part of the masses. May I awsk it you are aware that there is more nutriment and inspiration in a single plate of beans than in three score and ten crackers? A thorough appreciation of Browning will never follow a regimen of crackers. But what is the matter, may I awsk? You manifest considerable perturbation. -Life.

readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh, Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical iraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the consti-tution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Thousand Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Many so-called "Bitters" are not medi cines, but simply liquors so disguised as to evade the law in prohibition sections. This is not the case with the celebrated Prickly Ash Bitters. It is purely a medicine, acting on the liver and blood, and by reason of its cathartic effects cannot be used as a bever i age. It should be in every household.

Figs! cry the vendors of the fruit in Constantinople. Certainly a "great cry over a little wool." Scarcely less foolish is the practice of those who fly to violent physicking for costiveness. They dose themselves violently, weaker their bowels by so doing, and disable them from acting regularly, so that, verily, the last condition of such people is worse than the first. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the safe and effective substitute for such vast expedients. But no, let us not call them expedients, for it is by no means expedient to use them. What is needed is a gentle but thorough laxative, which not only insures action of the bowels without pain or weakening effects, which also promotes a Figs! cry the vendors of the fruit in Conweakening effects, which also promotes a healthy secretion and flow of bile into its proper channel. Hardy Flowers.

An experienced florist says: "Were I restricted in my gardening operations to the use of four species of flowers, then, without hesitation, I should choose hardy roses, lilies, rhododendons and clematis. Lilies I should give a second place in importance, roses the first; but if I consider results in proportion to labor and expense, then lilies should have the first place. And in every garden these four plants should predominate and should be relied upon for grand effects.'

The Effect Was Magical.

I suffered from cancer on my lip that defied the skill of the best physicians of the State. I had it burned out, but the operation only made it worse, causing it to spread over more surface and eat deeper in. I finally used Swift's Specific (S. S. S.,) to heal it up and drove the poison out of my blood. The effect of the Specific was magical! It healed up entirely without leaving a scar as a reminder. This was over four years ago, and since then there has been no sign of a return of the cancer. I will cheerfully answer any inquiries in regard to my case. ENOS YOUNT, Bradford, Ohio.
