The Indianola Courier moves an amendment. Joe insists that Indianola's watch factory deal only cost her $4,900; and further deposes and says that they received at least $49,000 worth of experience. We'll tell you more about those $10,000 bonds later, Goggles. In the meantime, Joe, mind your ochre-eye.

Wednesday morning, Dr. A. P. Welles left for Grand Island in charge of R. S. Cooley, who goes to enter the soldiers' home at that place. Mr. Cooley's health continues to grow worse, and it is thought the home would be the proper place for him in his helpless condition. A purse was raised to help pay the expenses, the matter of transportation being kindly lightened by Supt. Campbell.

This week, D. C. Marsh sold a half interest in his livery establishment to Mr. M. J. Clark, father of Mrs. Ben. Bowen, of Bremer, Iowa. The new firm proposes to inaugurate some extensive improvements at once: The barn will be overhauled and enlarged and the equipment will be strengthened and improved by the purchase of new vehicles and horses. In fact they propose to place the business on a thoroughly first-class basis throughout.

All smokers are interested in securing a good, pure article of the weed when they are looking for a cigar. Purity and excellence are important and count with all who are judges of quality in tobacco. Reizenstein makes his own cigars right here in McCook. He selects none but the best tobaccos and his manufactured product cannot be equalled in the city. He carries a large stock of cigars and tobacco, besides a well selected line of smokers' articles.

It may be unnecessary, but it affords us pleasure and we will call special attention to the article in this issue entitled "ON THE FRONTIER." While the writer is not pretentious, the communications have merit, both literary and historical, which would entitle them to a place in a high grade magazine. In fact such magazines have recently published less interesting letters on a similar topic.

The action of the county commissioners in advertising for bids for furnishing board, care and clothing for county charges, is a move in the right direction, and commendable as an economic measure, looking forward to the establishment and maintenance of a county poor farm, where paupers may be kept at the least expense to the county and to the producer. Doubtless the hiring of a physician by the year would prove advantageous, too. The experience of the past year, especially, teaches the tax payer the necessity of a more economic way of providing for the support and rendering professional aid to the poor and sick and unfortunate. Undoubtedly, too, much money has been expended for the services rendered. This may be rectified by the plan proposed (and which has been suggested at various times by the publisher,) by the commissioners, by keeping all county charges, at least those entirely supported by the county, in one place, and by hiring a physician by the year on a salary which may be increased as the commissioners see fit in case of epidemics or special or unusual cases. This plan has been in vogue for many years in older counties and has been successful. Properly handled it will be beneficial to Red Willow county. One of the best and earliest effects will be the reduction of the number of mendicants and loafers who have fastened themselves on the charity of the people.

"A short time since the cow was sad; she scarce could lift her head, begad. Her hoofs were sore, her tail was limp; her mane and bangs had lost their crimp, and miles she trudged from grass to drink, with scarcely strength enough to wink. The owner, too, looked blue and glum, and cursed the cattle business some. But since the rains the grass is tall—the cow can raise her head and bawl; her hide is sleek, no bones protrude, she prances like a city dude; her tail is slick, her eyes are bright, she snorts and dares the crowd to fight. Her owner, too, digs up the chink, and asks the boys to take a drink. Good bless the rain; it makes a man feel young again. He feels like tossing up his hat and howling like a democrat."

A variety of things are necessary to make a newspaper successful, prosperous and useful. The publisher may print the news, but his labors are in vain unless the business men give him a liberal patronage. He may strive earnestly to upbuild the city and country, but if the people seek rather to destroy his influence than to strengthen his willing and unselfish hands, his work will fall short of its best results. A horse will do more service on full feed than it will on short or poor rations. So the newspaper man can accomplish greater things on a generous, hearty support than he can on a niggardly take-it-out-in-trade patronage actuated by charity.

On Monday morning, Father J. W. Hickey of St. Patrick's church, through the impressive ceremony of the Catholic church, united the lives and destinies of two of McCook's popular and estimable young people, Mr. Felix Kennedy and Miss Mary Mullen. The wedding was a private one, only the relatives and a few friends being present. Mr. Kennedy is a popular employe in the Burlington shops. Miss Mullen has been the accomplished head of J. Albert Wells' dress making department for some time. THE TRIBUNE expresses a very general and hearty feeling in wishing them much of this world's happiness and prosperity.

The policy of the Burlington in encouraging all efforts to induce immigration is exemplified in a recent letter from General Passenger and Ticket Agent Francis to William Coleman offering transportation for him and exhibits from Red Willow county to the Illinois and Iowa state fairs, this fall. Our farmers should note Mr. Coleman's call elsewhere for samples of corn, small grain, etc., to be preserved for him for exhibition at Des Moines and Peoria. Red Willow should also be represented at Lincoln, this year.

SHALL WE?

HAVE A REUNION THIS FALL OR NOT?

THE TRIBUNE learns that the matter of having a soldiers' reunion in McCook, some time this fall, is being discussed, and much interest is being manifested. It is urged that the times are peculiarly propitious for such an event, particularly so in view of the fact that there will be no harvest excursions to this section this year,—just the time when we will be best able to show the finest crops ever raised since the settlement of Western Nebraska. Perhaps there has not been a season in years when the conditions were more favorable. We hope the subject may be carefully and thoroughly canvassed, and if the sentiment warrants such a conclusion, that the work of getting up a reunion even better than that of two years ago may go ahead with enthusiasm and vigor.

But, in looking over the project we must not lose sight of the fact that a first-class affair of the kind proposed means the expenditure of money freely and laborious effort beside. If we feel like undertaking it, every shoulder must go to the wheel. Let there be a full and free discussion. If it is practicable and desirable, all well enough. If thought not so, well just drop it. But think it over.

It is proposed, too, to hold a horse fair during the reunion, as an additional attraction. And the number of fine and speedy horses in McCook and this part of Nebraska warrants the expectation that this would be a strong feature, full of interest and drawing.

PURE DELIGHT.

There is something approaching pure delight in drawing the ribbons over a spanking, spirited team of horses pulling a handsome and comfortable vehicle, these pleasant, cool evenings or quiet Sundays. If you want to indulge in that sort of ecstasy drop into The Circle Front Livery Barn and let them fit you up with the necessary apparatus. They have the handsomest turn-outs to be found in the Valley. Their service is prompt and their treatment courteous. Terms as reasonable as first-class accommodations will warrant.

MCCOOK, NEBRASKA.

From the Galesburg Daily Mail, July 14th. The display of wheat, oats, barley, rye and potatoes placed by J. A. Cordal, of McCook, Red Willow county, Neb., at Mr. Rodgers' seed store on Main street, gives promise of a bounteous harvest in that vicinity. It is demonstrated that by reason of its soil, altitude and climate the Republican Valley, of which McCook is the metropolis, is among the finest sections in the west.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

Will you please save a large bundle of rye, fall wheat, spring wheat, oats, barley, flax, etc., in fact all kinds of small grain; also, timothy, clover, alfalfa, etc. Cut it close to the ground to show the height and bind the bundle in three places to keep the straw straight. Lay it away where it will keep dry. It will be wanted at the time of the state fair. Our county has never had an exhibit at the state fair at Lincoln, but must have a big one this fall. So save a large bundle of small grain before it is too ripe. WM. COLEMAN.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

The prohibitionists of Red Willow county, Nebraska, are hereby called to meet in mass convention, at the Congregational church, McCook, Nebraska, Saturday, August 1st, at 2:30, P. M., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention, and to transact any other business that may be properly transacted. W. O. NORVAL, Chm.

FOR RENT.

That is to say: Do you want to buy, rent or trade for a barn. If so call on or address E. LINDNER, McCook.

The semi-annual election of officers of the county alliance held at Indianola on Saturday last resulted as follows: President, J. B. Meserve; Secretary, Maurie Reddy; Treasurer, M. C. Maxwell; Lecturer, A. C. Modi; Assistant Lecturer, J. N. Kletzing.

Yesterday, the children of St. Patrick's church, headed by Father Hickey, spent the day on the banks of the Driftwood picnic. It was a day of pleasure long to be remembered by the young people.

Red Willow county has 2,950 school children; the apportionment is $2,139.
