COMMUNICATIONS OF IMPORTANCE TO WESTERN FARMERS. The Best Manner of Selecting Specimens of This Year's Crops for the World's Fair-Nebraska's Liberal Appropriation for the Work-How and When to Gather-The Daughters of the Revolution-Horrible Death from Hydrophobia-A New Order at Ocean Grove in Regard to Bathers-Too Much Leg Show. How to Select Crop Specimens for the World's Fair. LINCOLN, Neb., July 25.-The following communications are of importance to western farmers as indicating the best manner of selecting specimens of this year's crops for exhibition at the world's fair. It is the result of careful investigation by those particularly qualified to discuss the subject. The last legislature made an appropriation of $50,000 to gather and display Nebraska products at the world's Columbian exposition to be held at Chicago in 1893, and the pride of the state depending upon the united action of the agriculturalists in securing and preserving for that exhibit the best and most perfect of our cereal productions, I deem it important that the farmers be requested through the medium of the press of the state to gather specimens from the crops now ready for harvest as an assurance of their pride and interest in presenting to the world the products of our soil at that exposition. This effort may cost time and labor, but it seems to me that it is the sure way to demonstrate to the world the fertility of our soil and compete successfully with our sister cereal producing states. If reports can be credited that come from all parts of the state, we have the most abundant crop of all kinds of grain ever produced on Nebraska soil. Many farmers are confident that their wheat will yield from twenty-five to forty, barley forty to seventy-five and oats fifty and seventy-five bushels per acre. Shall we improve this crop year to fortify ourselves against the competition of the largest display of cereal products ever gathered under one roof in the history of the world? We must make an effort to preserve from this crop a sample of the best variety and most perfect grain the products of our soil, if only to verify the statement, so often made, that our state has no equal for production and fertility. A. G. Scott, Hon. A. G. Scott has written a letter concerning the great fair of 1893, and makes some valuable and timely suggestions. Fully endorsing Mr. Scott's words, I would like to remark that now is the time to gather small grain samples in the straw. It is an easy matter to show threshed grain in a measure, but the person looking at it has no conception of the plant that produced the grain. Nebraska wants to place on exhibition at the world's fair in Chicago in 1893, car loads of her small grain as seen in the field, when the self-binder harvests the grain. Now is the time to prepare for this grand exhibit, and I suggest that every enterprising farmer in the state prepare a bundle of each kind grown by him. Select the best and pull up carefully by the roots, taking pains not to break or crack the stalk. Make the bundles or sheaves not less than four inches in diameter. When firmly tied, tie the sheaf in the middle close to the heads and close, not over six inches, from the roots, always tying with a soft string. Hang up by the roots in a dark room where no mice, rats or chickens can get at it. If every farmer in Nebraska will prepare a sheaf as above described of each kind of grain produced by him and take good care of it and the same is carefully collected and kept in good order, one of the grandest objects lessons, showing the capacity of Nebraska's rich soil can be made at the world's fair. I would suggest that some one be appointed to take charge of the collection and preservation of samples of grain of all kinds. Great care must be exercised in the handling of these sheaves, and some suitable place should be provided where they could be stored until the time comes to place the same on exhibition. The grain grown next season will not be in time to be placed on exhibition at Chicago. Now is the time, and I urge every farmer in Nebraska to prepare a bundle each of rye, oats, barley, millet, flax, sorghum, clover, timothy and corn on the stalk. Some one will have to take charge of these collections in each county. I would suggest that some of the county officers would be the proper persons to receive the county contributions, take care of them and hold them subject to the order of some person or persons authorized to collect them for the state. I would ask every newspaper published in the state to publish the foregoing and that they all editorially urge the farmers of their counties to furnish samples of the great cereals grown in this state. Let every sample be tagged with the name of the producer, county, section, town and range where grown. L. W. GILCHRIST. Daughters of the Revolution. WASHINGTON, July 25.-Action has been completed under the new incorporation of the national society of the Daughters of the Revolution. Mrs. Benjamin Harris is president general, and Mrs. W. D. Cabell of Virginia first vice president. The new constitution and by-laws under the charter are now in effect. All the work of the society, including the organization of its state chapters, has been withdrawn from New York and other points to Washington. Applications are being received from every state and territory

for membership. The registries general are Mrs. Eugenia Washington and Mrs. Howard Clark. Mrs. General George R. Shields is the recording secretary and the committee in charge of the national organization are Mrs. H. T. Boynton, Mrs. Lee Knott and Mrs. John W. Forster. Died in Horrible Agony. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 24.-Sherman Harter, a robust man of 27 years and a giant in stature, died at the city prison this morning in terrible agony from hydrophobia. He was bitten over the eye two years ago while playing with a kitten and suffered no trouble from it until last Sunday morning, when he felt a pain near the old wound. At the sight of water he was seized with convulsions. Yesterday he was taken to the hospital and shortly afterwards there ensued an awful struggle between him and five attendants. He was strapped to the bed, but not until he had almost killed two men. Later he was removed to the city prison for greater safety and after a night of awful agony died of convulsions. Must Cover Up Their Legs. OCEAN GROVE, N. J., July 24.-The hundreds of women and children in bathing suits who waded down to Lilligore's pavilion, for their daily baths yesterday were met with a remarkable rebuff. At this pavilion was a policeman who refused to allow them to go into the surf until they had gone home and secured wraps to hide their legs. Even little boys and girls were included in the order. If they had a covering around their shoulders they were allowed to pass the sentry, but otherwise they could enjoy no swim. During the day signs were posted up on the pavilion to the effect that all persons found walking through the streets without proper covering or wearing bathing apparel would be arrested and fined $5 or imprisoned five days in the county jail. The dresses of the bathers at Ocean Grove are and always have been more modest, and the order that they must walk through the streets clad in a heavy cloak or a gossamer is being most bitterly received. The order is signed by President Stokes and he asks all policemen and watchmen to enforce the rules. Wood's Slayer Held for Murder. HUGONOS, Kan., July 27.-The preliminary examination in the case of the state vs. James Brennan, charged with the murder of Col. S. N. Wood at Hugoton on June 23, was held before Justice of the Peace Davis and two associate justices, Wm. L. Glover and R. L. McKenzie. I. W. Ives, attorney general, and William O'Connor, county attorney, appeared for the state. The defendant was represented by J. H. Pitzer. Long before the hour set for trial there was a large crowd gathered. At 11 o'clock Mrs. W. L. Wood, wife of deceased, and quite a number of witnesses and friends from Woodsdale drove up. Court was held in a large hall in the public school building and which was filled to its utmost capacity. Dr. C. L. Abnather, coroner of Stevens county, was examined, after which Mrs. Wood testified, followed by Mrs. R. J. Carpenter, both of whom stated that the defendant stood in the church buggy for some time while they sat in a buggy six feet south of the door, waiting for Col. Wood to come out of the court room; that after passing Brennan and almost reaching the buggy defendant shot him in the back; that Mr. Wood threw up both hands and started to run west pursued by Brennan, who fired the second shot near the southwest corner of the building; that Wood turned the corner, running north to the northwest corner, where he was overtaken by Brennan, and on turning to look back Brennan thrust the pistol in his face and fired, the third shot passing through his head; that Wood fell unconscious and expired in twenty minutes. No evidence was introduced by defendant and no attempt was made by the state to connect any other party or parties with the killing. Constable Aurell had a heavy guard to protect the prisoners, while Sheriff Cann had his men posted in every conceivable place, prepared to suppress any unlawful breaks by the friends of either party. Good order prevailed in the court room and on the streets. Both parties seemed to be entirely satisfied with the proceedings. The prisoner was remanded to the Reno county jail without bail to await his trial for murder in the first degree. Beatrice Land Decision. WASHINGTON, July 25.-The secretary of the interior decided today, an old case from the Beatrice land district, Albert M. Flemming against Frank E. Bowe. In 1879 Bowe, then a boy of thirteen years, made a settlement upon land in the Otoe and Missouri Indian reservation. Under the law of the reservation he was not compelled to live upon the land and in a short time he sold the tract. It was afterwards claimed that he had abandoned and several other counts were made against him, and once the case was decided against him but was brought up on review. The secretary now directs the commissioner to examine the case and if it can be patented under the act of March 3, 1891, to award it to Bowe. The land is near Beatrice and has become very valuable. The father of Bowe also has a case which this decision is expected to effect in a like favorable manner. Both houses of the Argentine congress have voted a reduction in the duties on petroleum and rice. In a trivial quarrel at Marshall, Ill., Andrew Rinehart, a veteran, stabbed Marion Rollings, a merchant of Denison, so that he died in a few hours.

WILL BE A CANDIDATE IF THE PARTY WANTS HIM. Circulars Being Sent Out to Urge Upon Farmers the Necessity of Holding Their Wheat Crop-One of the Most Remarkable Surgical Cases Known in Surgical History-A Bad Man From the West at Lowell, Massachusetts-Royal Arch Masons Elect Officers. Blaine Would Accept. DETROIT, Mich., July 24.-The Tribune publishes the following: Capt. Wm. A. Gavett of this city yesterday received an important letter from Mr. J. H. Manley, of Augusta, Me., in response to a letter written by him on the 18th. The subjects of inquiry on the part of Mr. Gavett were the health of Secretary Blaine and his attitude affecting the earnest desire of the multitude of his admirers in the republican party that he become its standard bearer in 1892. The replies are especially significant when it is remembered that Mr. Manley has for years been a warm personal friend and the political confidant and adviser of the secretary. In effect Mr. Manley asserts that Mr. Blaine is almost fully recovered and that he will return to Washington in the fall with all his vigor and strength of both mind and body. He further states that Mr. Blaine cannot become a candidate for the republican nomination, but that in his opinion if the republican party wants him for a standard bearer in 1892, all it has to do is to nominate him and that he will accept. To Hold For Higher Prices. WASHINGTON, July 24.-Mr. H. W. Ayer, secretary to President Polk of the farmers' alliance and manager in this city of the reform press bureau, which is also known as the "alliance press bureau," said this afternoon that the work of sending out circulars designed to show the farmers of the country that it was to their advantage to hold back the wheat crop, was actively proceeding in this city as well as in St. Paul because of its location in the great wheat belt. Mr. Ayer said that there have been 400,000 of these circulars sent out from Washington and during the next few days an average of 100,000 a day will be mailed until more than a million of the circulars altogether are issued. The circulars, he said, will also be published in about two thousand weekly papers with which the bureau is connected. He remarked that he need not say of course that it was the circular which had brought about the result, but he had noticed in a recent market report that as a matter of fact the actual movement of wheat was 140 car loads less than had been estimated. Mr. Ayer said the information that the issue of such a circulation by alliance men was in contemplation became public prematurely about two weeks ago, when a circular in course of preparation was published in a newspaper. A final decision to issue the circular had not at that time been made and many leading alliance men were unaware of it, but it has since been determined. He explained that the executive committee of the alliance had not acted on this matter and that by the circular no order was given to alliance men to hold back their crop, that being contrary to the methods of the alliance. What is done by this circular is to give the farmers information as to facts in regard to the world's wheat crop, with the suggestion that what some weeks later than the present time would bring a higher price. Remarkable Surgical Case. PEORIA, Ill., July 24.-Lewis E. Rietterman of this city, who has just returned from Chicago, has in his possession the proof of one of the most interesting cases known in surgical history. He was one of the passengers on the ill-fated Niagara Falls excursion which went down to such terrible destruction at Chatsworth. He was in the last coach, leaning on his hands in an open window when the crash came. Nearly everybody in the car was injured and several men were killed outright. Rietterman's face was badly cut and bruised and he was unconscious for several hours. His face was sewed up and healed rapidly. Since then he has suffered constant pains in the head, but local physicians attributed it to the shock of the wreck and treated him accordingly. Last November, while blowing his nose vigorously, he blew out a wire nail 1 1/2 inches long, badly rusted. He and his friends were confident that his trouble was at an end when the nail was dislodged, but he still suffered a dull pain in his head. In June he went to Chicago and was examined by the staff surgeon at Rush medical college. The physician found a foreign body in Rietterman's head at the inside corner of the left eye, and in the presence of a room full of surgeons cut the patient's face. Imbedded in the head, back of the nose, was found an irregular piece of oak 1 1/2 inches long, 1/2 inch thick and 1/4 inch wide. This fragment of the window sill had been carried in his head for four years. The pain had been absorbed by his blood. The case was reported to all the leading doctors in Chicago and is pronounced one of the most remarkable in history. Bad Man From the West. FALL RIVER, Mass., July 24.-Great excitement was caused last night by the shooting of Mary Powers of Lowell, Mass., by Dr. H. Hawkins, an Indian physician. Hawkins is a tall, powerfully built man, who has been drinking so hard recently that he has become the terror of persons living in the vicinity of Rodman street. About 4 o'clock he ran into the road brandishing a revolver and fired two shots in quick succession. Miss Powers, who is visiting here, was passing along Second street and the ball entered her foot. The wound is considered very serious, as the physicians say there are many chances of lockjaw. The news of the shooting spread rapidly and more than 1,500 people soon gathered in the neighborhood of the house. A squad of policemen quickly arrived and surrounded the place, but would not enter for a long time, as Hawkins threatened to shoot. Hawkins came here from the west and is a dead shot. When insane from drink he straps a belt around him and goes about brandishing a long horse pistol. About 11 o'clock eight officers entered the house and succeeded in taking Hawkins in irons to the station. Royal Arch Masons Elect Officers. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 25.-At the morning session of the general grand chapter the reports of the various committees were discussed until 10 o'clock when the election of officers was taken up. While the voting was in progress a number of committees were called upon to report. The important matter decided was the selection of the next place of meeting. The committee appointed to consider this matter recommended Topeka, Kan., in July, 1892, leaving the fixing of the exact date to the grand council of the general grand chapter. The report of the committee was accepted without opposition. The officers elected up to the time of adjournment were as follows: Joseph Horner, New Orleans, general grand high priest; George L. McCahan, Baltimore, deputy general grand high priest; Reuben C. Lemon, Toledo, O., general grand king; James W. Taylor, Luthersville, Ga., general grand scribe; Daniel Stryker, Hastings, Minn., general grand treasurer; Christopher G. Fox, Buffalo, N. Y., general grand recorder; Arthur C. Pollard, Lowell, Mass., general grand principal sojourner; Wm. C. Swain, Milwaukee, Wis., general grand royal arch captain. FOREIGN FLASHES. Rev. Spurgeon, of London, is still a very sick man. The strike of railroad employes in Paris has collapsed. The crown prince of Roumania has abandoned his proposed marriage to Mlle. Vacaresco. Another naval corps has been added to the Black sea fleet. The building of four vessels for this corps will be expedited. Thomas B. Reed, ex-speaker of the American house of representatives, was entertained at luncheon by the speaker of the house of commons. The French senate must ratify the bill removing the restrictions on the importation of American pork before it becomes a law. It is found that this will not be accomplished without difficulty. The hull of the Anchor line steamer Utopia, which was wrecked at Gibraltar some months ago, has been safely lodged on the beach. The skeletons of nine grown up males and several children were found on the steamer. The committee of the Berlin exhibition of arts awarded the great gold medal to each of the American painters, Forbes, Stanhope, Shannon and McEvan, and the American architect Watrous. The small gold medal was awarded to the American painters, Steward, Storey and Bridgeman and the English artists Pele and Stone. The council of the society of London gave a reception to the world's fair delegates from the United States. After luncheon Sir Richard Webster proposed a toast to the health and success of the American commissioners. He expressed hope that the fair would be a great success. Mr. Batterworth responded, thanking the society for the warmth of the reception to himself and associates. LIVE STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS.
