P. E. Sullivan, of Wallace, was with us, Tuesday, in a business capacity.

Miss Tillie Barnes was up from Indianola, yesterday, on a little shopping tour.

Miss Minnie Johnston arrived home, Monday morning, from her California visit.

Supt. Bayston was up from the seat of county affairs, Tuesday, on school business.

R. O. Adams, Hitchcock's county attorney, was at headquarters for the upper valley, Tuesday.

Hon. G. L. Laws, western Nebraska's favorite Grand Old Man, is with us of the valley's finest today.

Mrs. B. B. Davis takes tomorrow morning's train for Lincoln on a short visit under the parental roof.

Mrs. J. W. Dolan was the guest of her brother S. E. Hager, Wednesday, returning to Indianola on No. 2.

E. T. Maddux went up to his Chase county possessions on Monday, to look after his business affairs up there.

Banker Peck, the Trenton irrigationist, was down, Saturday, in consultation with his chief, Capt. R. O. Phillips.

Mr. A. L. Lewis returned from St. Louis, Sunday, having regained her usual health, after quite a serious illness.

T. H. Britton and N. T. Hall, two of Trenton's leading business men, sojourned in the city a brief while, Monday evening.

Miss Ella Hart, of our city, and Miss Josie Banham, of Lebanon, will attend the summer term of the Fremont normal school.

Two of John Rowell's children came up from Hastings, Sunday, on No. 1, and are visiting their grand parents Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rowell.

J. A. Fraser departed, Wednesday evening, for Princeton, Illinois, to be absent about three weeks. Will Fowler is helping in J. Albert Wells' store in his stead.

Rev. Evans, of Arapahoe, an evangelist of the Christian church, spent a few hours in the city, Monday, on his way home from doing evangelistic work in western counties.

Miss Allison, who will be one of our teachers next year, is a sister of Mrs. C. A. Baxter, wife of the Burlington's agent at Lebanon station. She comes highly recommended.

Judge D. T. Welty, Frank H. Selby and W. J. Wroughton, the draft horse dealer, of Cambridge, were among the numerous pilgrims to the valleys all-around Mecca, Wednesday.

Adjutant General Victor Vivquin and Victor Buest, both of Lincoln, gazed with wonder and astonishment upon the pride of the valley, Monday. They were en route to Denver.

Col. Joe Wells blew in on the evening breezes, Monday, from Geneva, and will make his permanent abode in the bosom of the family, the Geneva branch having been disposed of.

Mrs. Lou Dunn of Beardstown, Illinois, and Mrs. Dr. Parkherst, of Virginia, Illinois, arrived in the city, Saturday night, on a visit to relatives here. They are guests of their brother Geo. Berry.

Ed. Jordan and family departed, Tuesday on No. 2, for Phillipsburg, Kansas, where he takes charge of the Hotel Bissell, under lease. Success to him is the parting greeting of his many McCook friends.

Harry Dixon arrived in the city, Monday, on the flyer and is being warmly greeted by his many McCook friends. He is out west looking after his various properties and expects to remain in McCook for some time.

Rev. J. D. Stewart, of Aurora, state Sunday School superintendent, who was to have preached in the Congregational church, Sunday morning and evening, occupied the Baptist pulpit during the evening hour, delivering a splendid address to the young.

Father J. W. Hickey, Dennis Cullen, James McCotter and C. J. Ryan attend the state convention, A. O. H., at Hastings, Saturday. They report a large attendance and an unusually interesting session. Besides they were cordially and hospitably entertained by the people of Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan and family, of Grand Junction, Colo., and Mrs. A. Carmichael, of Denver, Colorado, arrived, Saturday morning on No. 2, on a visit to their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Snyder, old and respected residents of McCook; also their sister Mrs. M. O. McClure.

Col. Barnes went home, Sunday, and while there had a terrible encounter with a Long Felt Want, and only by the most marked generalship escaped. Col. Mitchell and the Dutch Brigade made an "expediate" move on the county capitol, Monday, and captured "The Indianola Corkscrew", and a scaffold is now being erected in the Hyphen's courtyard upon which the same will be ignominiously executed. The Colonel allows nothing to stand in the way of his hyphenated Archimedian lever.

WE "PASS" NOBODY.

William Francisco has been promoted to an engineer.

Mrs. J. D. McAlpine returned to Denver on No. 1, Wednesday.

Mrs. J. C. Birtzell made a flying visit to Hastings friends, yesterday.

The members of the Illinois Press Association occupied one of the Pullmans on No. 2, which went into the ditch near Indianola early Sunday morning. Of course they all escaped.

The railroad company have an extra force of men at work between this place and Holbrook repairing the track which has been in a terrible bad shape of late on account of the frequent rains.—Cambridge Kaleidoscope.

The many friends of W. E. Danchy, who several years ago was trainmaster with headquarters in this city, will be glad to learn that he has again taken a large step forward and has this time been appointed general superintendent of the great Rock Island Route with his headquarters at Topeka.—Red Cloud Chief.

Conductor C. W. Stoddard informs us that he has formed a partnership with J. M. Riche, and will farm the latter's place six miles east of town. They will buy 2,000 chickens and go to raising chickens. Mr. Stoddard will put in his spare hours between runs on the farm. We wish them all possible success.—Alliance Grip.

Count and Mrs. Julian Hulaniski arrived home, Sunday on No. 1, from a three week's visit over in Illinois. It must be said the count is heartily glad to be back in "God's country." His experience with the rain and mud of the "sucker state" was of the most depressing sort; and he is decidedly happy to be back in sunny Nebraska again.

Doc. Holliday has his war paint on: First some fellows castrated his highly prized colt by mistake; and then to fill his cup of woe to overflowing, Wednesday, his valuable bitch "Babe" filled up on some poison set out by unknown, heartless people, and came home to her little litter and died. There is bright, red blood in the doctor's optics, and he has cause.

Misfortunes have a habit of coming not singly but in troops which is somewhat dispiriting to the average man. Switchmen Ed. Drain is the last victim. Monday evening, while engaged in coupling two freight cars his arm was broken below the elbow, and beside he received a quite painful head wound. The couplings, it seems, were of different sizes, and one of them slipped over the other catching the switchman with the above related unfortunate effect.

An accident, very fortunate in its results, happened to No. 2 early Sunday morning near Indianola. A rail broke and four rear Pullmans were thrown from the track and turned over a number of times to the outside of the right-of-way. It seems to be well nigh miraculous, but only one passenger, Mr. L. P. Eldridge, teller of the state national bank of Denver, was injured, and his injury is a broken arm. The track was badly demoralized for about 200 feet. The wrecking train, Supt. Campbell and other division officials were on the scene within a short time and traffic was delayed but a few hours. Certainly one of the luckiest mishaps that has ever occurred on the western division. The train was in charge of Conductor Granger, with Engineer Sharkey at the throttle.

Last Tuesday, Jim Swearer engineer of the switch engine, laid off for the purpose of capturing wild beasts enough to start a circus and menagerie. It seems that he had declared war against the prairie dogs over south of the tracks so accordingly he made arrangements for the use of the street sprinkler, and with plenty of ammunition (water) he started for the scene of action and at once opened fire on the enemy. After several hours of fierce fighting an invoice was taken of the battle field which showed that Jim had captured six prisoners, without any loss himself. The animals will be on exhibition in a few days. During the fray standing room on the tops of cars was at a premium, as all of the boys were very anxious to see Jim come out victorious. Wild cats are the next thing on the program, and maybe by next week we will be able to give our readers a few pointers.—Red Cloud Chief.

Ed. Kanouse came down from Denver, yesterday, on matters of business.

Mrs. W. O. Bond and Mrs. E. R. Banks were up from Ochreton, yesterday, doing some shopping.

Banker and Mrs. T. E. McDonald were over from prosperous Danbury, last Friday, doing a little shopping in the valley's principal mart.

W. T. Begg, formerly in the abstracting business in Stockville, has moved to McCook, with his family. Mr. Begg will work in the office of the McCook Loan and Banking Co.
