

But it looks as if it would be in it soon, and the sooner your foot is in one of our $3.50 or $4.00 shoes the more fortunate it will be. Because we know this shoe, we want you to know it; because it wears as no other shoe will wear, we want you to wear it. It is absolutely the cheapest thing in shoe-leather and there isn't any limit to the satisfaction that it gives. No matter what you pay, you get no better when you get the best—it is a luxury in footwear and not a high-priced luxury at that. It isn't trying to those who try it. Try it.

The Christian Endeavor society will take charge of the services Sunday evening at the Methodist church in place of the regular preaching services. All are invited to attend.
THE TRIBUNE was in error, last week, in stating that R. B. Archibald is building a dwelling. The residence is under way, but the Master Mechanic's father, Mr. John Archibald's is the builder, and we hasten to make this correction.
People from the east who take advantage of the harvest excursion rates and come to Red Willow county, Nebraska, will see a sight which will forever banish from their minds the idea that Nebraska is not a rich agricultural country.
THE TRIBUNE is particularly anxious to have farmers report extra yields of grain as found by threshing machine measure. Give number of bushels per acre, name of farmer, section, town, and range and, when possible, time of sowing, cutting and threshing.
It would hardly seem natural that any newspaper should feel called upon to remonstrate against the shooting of game birds at this season of the year. Yet the law in this regard is being wantonly violated. Certainly the old birds should be allowed to rear their young before promiscuous slaughter is indulged in.
With all their new and improved machinery and other conveniences and appliances provided the Metropolitan Steam laundry is in better shape than ever to do all laundry work, promptly and satisfactorily. Services will be held in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours by Rev. J. W. Kimmel, of Tekamah, Nebraska. All cordially invited.

On Wednesday evening, August 10, Rev. S. A. Harpster, of Baltimore, Maryland, secretary Board of Home Missions, will hold services in the Lutheran church. To which all are cordially welcome.

This week Mr. D. P. Taylor, of Avoca, Iowa, purchased the northeast quarter of section 2-3-30 and the southwest quarter of section 35-4-30. He will return shortly to build upon and occupy the latter quarter. He will put up a comfortable frame dwelling and will otherwise improve the farm.

The success of the wheat crop in Nebraska this season adds weight to the claim made by so many substantial farmers and experienced grain buyers that no crop will give better returns in this state year after year than winter wheat. The acreage is growing steadily, and wherever the grain is properly planted the results are wonderfully satisfactory. Nebraska is ready for a winter wheat.

A "church temperance society" was organized in the Methodist church, Monday evening, by Miss Rodgers, the temperance lecturer, with the following officers: C. T. Watson, president; A. J. Jackson, 1st vice president; Mrs. Frank Harris, 2d vice president; W. H. Davis, secretary; W. O. Norval, treasurer; A. Kalstedt, Mrs. A. P. Welles, F. M. Kimmell, Mrs. J. E. Cochran, directors.

As one of the incidents of the election, Monday, Dr. B. B. Davis mourns the death of his fine horse and the sad demoralization of his handsome new buggy. And Jerry O'Neil had a painfully injured foot as a reminder of the unfortunate affair. Mr. O'Neil had driven the doctor's horse out to the former's farm a few miles south of the city, and was engaged in watering the animal, which suddenly noticed a threshing machine in operation near by, became panic-stricken, ran over Mr. O'Neil, and dashed madly through two barbed wire fences, severing its wind pipe.

Death Claims Its Own.

Early Monday morning the angel of death came to Jack McCabe and his sturdy soul took its flight to the spirit land from his pain-racked earthly tenement. His decease was not unlooked for, as he had been in a critical condition from an old army trouble for some weeks, but the announcement came nevertheless to all with pain.

The funeral occurred on the afternoon of Tuesday, exercises being conducted in the Methodist church under the auspices of the Masonic and Pythian orders, of which the deceased was a member, and who ministered to him most kindly and attentively during his fatal illness. Rev. A. W. Coffman preached a brief sermon on the topic of the "Resurrection."

After which the remains were escorted to Longview by the orders and many friends and were laid away with due honors.

A delegation of postal clerks served as pall-bearers; and they were also the donors of a charming and elaborate floral postal car. That of Willow Grove lodge, K. of P., was a rich and handsome triangular shield; besides there were a broken wheel and other pretty emblems and flowers in profusion.

John B. McCabe was a native of Washington county, Pennsylvania, where he was born in 1842, being fifty years of age at his death. Served with distinction in the war of the rebellion; was one of Nebraska's earliest settlers, and was one of the government's most competent postal clerks. His has been a familiar figure on our streets for many years. Peace to his ashes.

The independents of the 29th senatorial district were in convention in this city, Tuesday, to place in nomination a candidate for state senator. The several counties of the district were well represented, notwithstanding we are in the midst of the greatest harvest southwest Nebraska has ever seen. B. Conway, of Culbertson, was chairman of the convention; J. H. Berge, of Indianola, secretary. After the usual preliminary work and skirmishing, the convention got down to business shortly after dinner. The principal candidates for nomination were E. E. Link, of Frontier county, and Lewis W. Young, of Furnas county. The first ballot was a surprise to many, who expected that Link would be the man, as Young received forty votes to Link's thirty-nine votes. The nomination of Mr. Young was then made unanimous. W. D. Wildman, of Culbertson, was placed at the head of the senatorial central committee. Messrs. Young, Link and others made speeches which were enthusiastically applauded by the confident populists in attendance. Mr. Young, the nominee, is an elderly gentleman, a farmer who resides near Wilsonville. His friend claim fair ability and strict integrity for him, and fidelity to their party.

At the instance of Mrs. Eliza J. Heist, this week, John L. Rouch was arrested for the alleged theft, from her son, of $225, and in the trial before Squire Berry, yesterday, Rouch was bound over to the next term of district court in the sum of $300, which bond was given. Mrs. Rouch is now under arrest as an alleged accessory after the fact and her trial will occur before Squire Berry tomorrow. From the evidence it appears that Mrs. Heist had $225 in gold secreted in the mattress of her bed. It is stated in evidence that young Heist was counting the money, last Friday, and upon being interrupted in his work by the entrance of his father, put the money in his pocket. He immediately accompanied his father to the round house on an errand. On his way back home, young Heist alleges that Rouch took the money from him.

We suggest to our farmer readers the importance of refusing to join in a general rushing of their wheat on the market, for it will surely cause a decline in prices. Throw your wheat on the market gradually, in the mean time keeping well informed of the amount of wheat received daily at the great markets and the tendency of prices. Remember that Nebraska is, as it were, one vast wheat field and the grain is of the very best quality and the disposition of the Nebraska farmers is to rush grain shipments. Watch them and don't become a party in glutting the markets, which is certain to cause a decline in prices, and thus become agents in effecting your own losses.

Superintendent Burke, of Fillmore county, is doing good work in the institute. He is an enthusiastic and capable instructor of experience.

A social will be given in the east ward building, Wednesday evening next, in honor of the members of the institute, by the local teachers and friends.

Prof. Valentine gave one of his highly instructive and absorbingly interesting lantern lectures, last evening, which was enjoyed by all. The calcium light used is a very fine one, and the professor's talks are always bright and meaty.

Chancellor Canfield's Lecture.

The lecture delivered by Chancellor Canfield, of the Nebraska university, in the Methodist church, Monday evening, was a very learned and eloquent effort. The subject was "Education and the State." It is to be sincerely regretted that the Chancellor's visit fell upon the occasion of a "county-seat war," as many for that reason failed to hear him, and thus missed a rare intellectual feast. Nebraska has ever reason to be proud of her university chancellor.

Getting up early tends to exhaust the physical power and to shorten life, while the so called invigorating early hours are apt to produce lassitude, and are positively dangerous to some constitutions.

THE INSTITUTE.

The work of Red Willow county's teachers' institute commenced in the east ward school building of our city, Monday morning, with a fair attendance and healthy interest, both of which have increased as the sessions continued, and at this time everything is progressing gratifyingly. Superintendent Bayston is on hand, and with his excellent assistants, is making this one the most interesting and instructive institutes ever held in Red Willow county, a county which stands foremost in educational matters in southwestern Nebraska.

The following teachers were registered up to yesterday noon:

McCook:—Dora Lawrence, Martha Johnson, May Holt, Allie Gale, Lettie Lawrence, Grace Waldo, Alice Hartley, Pauline Burtless, Belle Bunnell, Edna Meserve, Augusta Hunt, Sylvia Williams, Ina M. Divines, Edith Coleman, Minnie Harris, Ellington Wilson, Mrs. Frank Brown, Clyde Allam, Clarence Whittaker, E. E. Hayes.

CAMBRIDGE:—Franc Paine, Laura Paine, Mary O. Newton, J. F. Carnahan.

LEBANON:—May Bartholomew, Gertrude Thomas, Nettie Pricer, E. E. Devoe. SHERMAN, NEB.:—Lulu Baxter.

OAK, NEB.:—Mary T. McQuade. BOX ELDER, NEB.:—Carrie Kimball.

STREATOR, ILLS.:—Myrtle Pilcher. TRENTON, NEB.:—Hanna Donovan.

INDIANOLA:—Vivian Gossard, Bessie Barton, Anna Akers, Orrie Williams, Emma Reinhold, Julia Phillips, Kittie Shackleton, Minnie Masters, Anna L. Hauxwell, N. J. Uerling, Anna Holland.

BARTLEY:—Nellie Stephens, George W. Bede, Angie Horn, W. S. Grisell, Maud Daniels, Lizzie Bush, Zella Sexton, Minnie Sexton, Amy Daniels.

Prof. Valentine makes his presence felt in the effective work of the session.

Mrs. E. F. Tucker, the well known Lincoln public school teacher, is one of the instructors whose efforts are highly prized.

THE TRIBUNE hopes the interest of our citizens in institute work may increase. They can add encouragement by their simple presence.
